How They Took Poll Results

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower reads results of the New Hampshire primary elections handed him by a reporter just before the NATO supreme commander left Paris on a flight to Frankfurt, Germany. "Ike" said his decisive victory over Sen. Robert Taft and other Republican aspirants made him "very proud," but he still does not plan to return to the U.S. in the immediate future. (NEA Radio-Telephoto).

Sen. Robert Taft of Ohio, wearing a ten-gallon hat, appears in a serious mood as he confers with an aide before leaving Dallas to continue his campaign jaunt through Texas. Taft ran second to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower in the New Hampshire primary. (NEA Telephoto).

Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, who scored an upset win over President Truman in the New Hampshire primary, is greeted by jubilant supporters, all wearing coonskin caps, on his arrival in Washington, D.C. (NEA Telephoto).

Aides Bitter, Truman Silent

President Hides Behind Cheerful Demeanor While Intimates Rap Plan for His Primary Run

Key West, Fla., March 13 (AP)—President Truman today hid behind an outwardly cheerful countenance any possible bitterness and disappointment over his stunning defeat in New Hampshire by Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee.

Intimates told newsmen he has said little even to them of the blow that befell his prestige in Tuesday's Democratic presidential preference primary.

They wouldn't talk for quotation. The only official word from Truman's vacation camp was Presidential Secretary Joseph Short's assertion the New Hampshire defeat will have absolutely no effect on the President's ultimate decision whether to run again.

Some of these intimates privately made no effort to hide their own anger at party leaders in New Hampshire who persuaded the President to allow his name to remain in the ballot there after he had announced he would ask its withdrawal.

The President had opposed having his name entered in the primaries. But he was persuaded to change his mind by party leaders in New Hampshire who had the support of Democratic National Chairman Frank E. McKinney.

The argument apparently was made that the Truman slate of delegates could carry the state. And the President was told the delegates wanted to make the race.

"It is always a mistake when the President is persuaded to do something against his own political judgment," one aide said.

The defeat in New Hampshire now makes two things more difficult for the President.

1. He may find it harder to bow out, should that be his desire, than he would have before. If there is one phrase which identifies his political philosophy more than any other it is his frequent declaration "I never ran away from a fight in my life."

2. The New Hampshire upset could make his comeback fight more difficult than it would be had he kept his name out of the contest. And it could change the minds of some who have been insisting that he make the race for re-election.

The President's advisers at the same time sought to discount the imporance of the turn of events in the New England state.

They said it would have no real bearing on the national convention and that there would be no difficulty about getting the nomination for Truman if he wants it.

The President is not holding a news conference this week. Usually, such conferences are held on Thursday in Washington.

Hold Taft, Truman in Race Yet

Opponents of Both Say They Carry Weight Despite Poll Results in New Hampshire

Will Be Rough

Anything Can Happen With Truman Mad, Taft Fighting

Washington, March 13 (AP)—Political opponents of President Truman and Sen. Taft ranked them today as "still formidable" adversaries despite the New Hampshire presidential primary victories by Sen. Kefauver and Gen. Eisenhower.

Kefauver, Tennessee Democrat, upset Truman in Tuesday's Granite State contest. And Eisenhower swept over Ohio's Taft on the Republican ticket.

"Say what you want about Harry Truman, he's a fighter, especially when he's hurt—and he'll fight now," said Sen. Aiken (R.-Vt.).

Aiken is anti-Truman. He has not announced his choice for the GOP presidential nomination.

The Vermonter predicted last month Kefauver would "beat the tar" out of Truman in the New Hampshire primary.

"Kefauver did just that all right," Aiken said today, "but now he's got a man (Truman) who must be fighting mad and the going will be rougher."

Taft Not Out Yet

As for Taft, Sen. Ives (R.-N. Y.)—who is backing Eisenhower against the Ohioan for the GOP presidential nomination—declared:

"Don't anyone think for a minute that Bob Taft is out of the race. On our side, we aren't taking anything for granted. That July nominating convention is still a long way off and anything can happen in politics."

In New Hampshire, Kefauver won over Truman in the preferential (popularity) contest by 20,147 votes to 16,298. The Tennessean also won all 12 Democratic delegates, who have eight convention votes.

On the Republican ticket, Eisenhower piled up 46,497 preferential votes to 35,820 for Taft. And Eisenhower, too, made a clean sweep of the delegates—14 to the GOP convention.

Eisenhower backers expressed delight over the outcome in view of the fact the general so far has taken no part in any pre-convention activities in his behalf. He has said he would accept the nomination but won't seek it.

Won't Have to Come Home

Ives said the New Hampshire vote "proved Eisenhower can get the nomination without coming home to campaign, if he wants it that way."

In Europe, where he is supreme commander of the North Atlantic defense forces, Eisenhower commented that "any American who is honored by so many other Americans considering him fit for the presidency should be proud, or, by golly, he is no American."

Kefauver, weary from two weeks of New Hampshire campaigning, told a news conference here late yesterday that "victory in one primary is not a sure sign of success in others." He added:

"I still have a long, hard, uphill fight and it is going to take a lot of work  by my supporters over the country.  I think I have come a long way since January 23 when I announced I was in this fight to the finish and that is my position today."

Counted on Four

Taft, campaigning in Texas, said he was "a little disappointed" about his showing in New Hampshire. He had counted on winning at least four of the 14 GOP delegates and said he had been "expecting a horse race" in the preferential voting.

Truman declined to comment on his defeat by Kefauver.

However, the President's press secretary, Joseph Short, said at the Little White House in Key West, Fla., that Kefauver's victory

Polhamus Is Eighth To Die From Fire

Middletown, N. Y., March 13 (AP)—An eighth member of a family of 11 died late yesterday of burns suffered in a fire which destroyed their home at Walker Valley, N. Y.

Harry Polhamus, 43-year-old lumberjack, died at Middletown Sanitarium.

His wife, Evelyn, 39, and six of their children, ranging in age from two to 12, died in the flames early yesterday.

Two other children were in the hospital today. Henry 5, was reported in critical condition and Rose, 15, in fair condition.

All Railroaders Are Back to Work

Elkhart, Ind., March 13 (AP)—The last holdouts against court and union orders to end the New York Central railroad strike went back to work today.

The first switch engine crews started making up trains within an hour after the Elkhart strikers voted to end their walkout late Wednesday night.

A company spokesman in Chicago said operations on the railroad's main line should be back to normal by midafternoon. The first train was scheduled to roll out for Chicago at 6:05 a. m. (CST).

Elkhart members of the Engineers, Conductors and Firemen Brotherhoods were the last to give in to the back-to-work orders.

B-29s Collide Killing 15 in Hills of Texas

San Antonio, March 13 (AP)—Two B-29 Supterfortresses whose pilots couldn't see where they were going while flying on instruments collided and carried 15 crewmen to their deaths in the hills of south central Texas yesterday.

One bomber plunged to earth and shattered, scattering fragments and bodies over a five-mile area. The other glided down several miles away, exploded and burned.

The planes were on training flights from Randolph Air Force Base here. They were being flown mechanically and the pilot's cabins were blacked out, according to Lt. Bill Adams, public information officer at the base.

One plane carried seven men and the other eight, the air force base said. Normally, a B-29 combat crew consists of 11 men.

The shattered pane crashed on a hilltop on the Gus Krause ranch. The other glided down near a small landing strip on the ranch of J. W. Heard, San Antonio oil man.

Rancher's Story

D. C. McDonald, superintendent of a nearby ranch, said he saw the planes flying in formation.

He gave this account:

"Suddenly one creased over and apparently clipped the tail section from the other plane. One plane went down and the other kept on flying on a level keel, with good altitude as if undamaged. No one jumped. The plane came in low over a windmill on the Heard ranch, just barely missing it. Suddenly the left wing dipped and went into the ground. The right wing cut off a huge tree. The plane plowed several hundred feet and the four motors were found on a hilltop several hundred feet away."

Fly to Investigate

The crash occurred about 1 p. m. (E.S.T.) 40 miles north of here in a rugged ranch country studded with cedar and oak trees.

A special investigating board was reported flying to Randolph from San Bernadino, Calif.

Jack Nolen, who lives near by, reported finding a paper back book with most of its pages burned away but with the title intact.

It read: "I Want a Big Funeral."

Teacher Stricken

Miss Edith Van Gaasbeek, of 15 Brewster street, teacher of eighth grade English and reading at the M.J.M. school, was taken suddenly ill near the close of school yesterday and was conveyed to the Benedictine Hospital. She was reported as "doing satisfactorily" at the hospital today.

Early Morning Gambling Raid At Broadway, Thomas Street Nets 9 in $1,000 Craps Game

Air Raid Wardens Hear About Fire Control

Fire control in case of an air raid attack was explained to Civilian Defense wardens last night by Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy, who demonstrated equipment for them. Observing (l. to r.) are Al Bruckert, one of three leaders in new districts formed in the city setup; Sheffield Nassar, who is conducting a course for wardens; Chief Murphy, Supervisor James DeCicco of the Fourth Ward and Walter Pettinger, the other two district leaders. (Freeman photo)

Joined by Sheriff

Crackdown First Since 1951 Arrests Made in Two City Sections

Local police and a sheriff's squad walked into a nest of alleged gamblers in a raid early today in the former fraternal lodge quarters on the second floor of a building at Broadway and Thomas street and booked nine men on charges relating to common gambling.

The raid, directed by District Attorney Louis G. Bruhn was staged by Sgt. Lemuel Howard, of the local police, Patrolmen Frank Sammons and Thomas Tomshaw, Sheriff Cluett Schantz, Under Sheriff Clayton Vredenburgh, County Investigator Arthur H. Brown and Deputy Sheriff William Thomson. They entered the place at about 12:30 a. m.

Nine Arrested

Arrested for alleged violation of Section 970 of the Penal Law, which relates to the game known as craps, were:

John Carpino, 124 South Manor avenue; Robert L. Vincent, 49 Dunneman avenue; Peter Cerasaro, Lucas avenue extension; Joseph J. Greco, Glasco; Charles Nettis, R.D., Saugerties; William Buckman, 61 Brewster street; John Sangaline, 315 East Chester street; James Sottile, 245 Broadway and Shale Alcon, 11 Downs street.

District Attorney Bruhn said 45 men were in the room at the time of the raid.

Hearing Set March 20

All of the men held as gamblers were given opportunity to get counsel and obtain $500 bail each when they appeared today before City Judge Raymond J. Mino, and each case was put over until March 20.

Cerasaro was the only one who said he had counsel when the group appeared before the judge and it was indicated that Attorney Charles Gaffney will appear for him.

The raid resulted in the confiscation of "less than $1,000" police said. Also taken was a large craps table with a plyboard top covered in velvet, and other incidental equipment.

Hardly Noticed Police

The raid was led by Sgt. Howard and the two patrolmen who entered the room as the alleged game was in progress and as the sheriff and his squad stood guard outside.

The officers were "hardly noticed" as the game apparently riveted their attention, one officer said. The sheriff and his men entered the room after the local police broke the news that a raid was in progress.

Saugerties Water Revenue Decrease Blamed to Weather

Additional 25 Per Cent Charge Prior to Rate Increase Is Error Spokesman Says

In discussing the problems of the Saugerties Water Board today with a member of the board in relation to the necessity of an increased water rate, it was explained that the increase in rate had been sought because of the close operation cost and revenue during the 1951 Season.

The Water Board actually closed its year on February 29, 1952, with a balance of $41.25. This balance reflected a decrease in revenue of some $2,000 during the past summer over the previous year. Board members, with it in mind, sought an increase in rates feeling that the old rate was too low in view of increasing cost of labor and materials and there was a chance that the department would be unable to meet these higher costs unless an increase in rate was permitted.

Less Water Used

It was the opinion of the board member that the decrease of $2,000 in revenue last summer was due partly to the cool, wet season which made it unnecessary to use water for lawn sprinkling and other uses which a hot dry season requires. The drop in revenue occurred from March first through

Three Districts Set in City For Effective Program in CD

Wardens Briefed About Fires That Spread; Murphy Lauds Course

Air raid wardens assembled at the Myron J. Michael School, Wednesday night, heard about fire control from Chief Joseph L. Murphy of the Kingston Fire Department.

Demonstrating with equipment, the chief talked mainly about extinguishing small fires that start larger ones.

Handling small blazes is one of the duties of wardens, it was pointed out by the chief and Sheffield Nassar, an instructor at the school, who is conducting a course lasting six weeks on Civil Defense subjects.

District Leaders Named

Chief Air Raid Warden Thomas Saccoman, a local attorney, said that three districts had been formed in the city for effectiveness in combatting any attack that might strike in the event of war.

Saccoman appointed leaders for each of the three districts comprising various wards of the city.

Al Bruckert, proprietor of Tony's Brake Service, 229 Greenkill avenue, leads District No. 1 made up of Wards One, 12, 11, and 13.

Walter B. Pettinger of 129 Prospect street, who served as a warden during World War 2, is leader of District No. 2, comprising the Second, Ninth and 10th Wards.

Supervisor James DeCicco of the Fourth Ward, a resident of 26 Larch street, heads District No. 3 made up of his own ward, also the Third, Fifth, Sixth, Seventh and Eighth.

Chief Praises Course

During his remarks Chief Murphy said, "the detailed course which you wardens are receiving and the excellent instruction which I heard this evening were very pleasing to me. The training you are receiving will be beneficial, not only in the case of a Civilian Defense emergency, but as part of your general fund of knowledge which will be helpful at any time."

Chief Murphy was introduced to the group by Attorney Sherwood E. Davis, city of Kingston Civilian Defense director.

Bridge Plans Will Be Ready in June

Loughran Receives Notice From Steinman; Wicks Wants It on Thruway

Plans for the Kingston-Rhinebeck bridge across the Hudson river will be completed some time in June by Dr. David B. Steinman, consulting engineer for the New York State Bridge Authority, it was announced today by James F. Loughran, head of the Bridge Authority.

Under the contract with Dr. Steinman plans for the bridge are to be completed by July first. Mr. Loughran said he had received word from Dr. Steinman that the plans would be completed and ready for submission to the Authority prior to that date.

Must Know About Links

After the plans have been completed and delivered to the Bridge Authority, the Authority will need the assurance of the Highway Department that connecting links will be built on each side of the bridge to connect with existing highways. These approaches will connect the bridge with state route 9-W and the New York Thruway near Lake Katrine on the west side of the river and with route 9 near Rock City on the east side of the river.

Once the plans have been completed it is expected the bridge project will begin to move forward rapidly.

Application for priority for steel must be made and an allocation granted by the government and the bond issue must be sold.

Bonds Must Wait

It has been impossible to proceed with the issuance of bonds for the construction until the plans and specifications are completed and the cost of the structure known. Once the cost of the project is known the Authority will be in a position to determine the amount of the bond issue and proceed with the sale of bonds.

Recently Senator Wicks introduced legislation which will make the bridge route a part of the

Unions Sign Contracts With Reade Theatres

Completion of contract negotiations covering employes of the Broadway and Kingston theatres was jointly announced today by the Walter Reade Theatres and Locals B42 and 637 of the International Alliance of Theatrical and Stage Employes.

Both the unions and the theatre management stated a mutually satisfactory contract had been negotiated after brief and harmonious discussions.

The unions and theatre management stated that all employes who were on strike and who have expressed a desire to return to work are being reinstated.

Morris Blasts Senators

Newbold Morris (standing right), the government cleanup man, talks to reporters in Washington after testifying before the Senate investigations subcommittee. Morris cried out at the hearing that he was being subjected to "character destruction", and blasted at "these diseased minds in this chamber." Morris denied he had done anything wrong in ship deals or in connection with oil shipments to Red China by a shipping firm with which he has ties. (AP Wirephoto).

Hurley Chamber Is Told Creative System Helps U. S.

"Americans have the best living in the world today because the traditonal American system has given us the freedom to create and develop it," Larry F. Livingston, manager of the duPont Company's extension division, said at the Town of Hurley Chamber of Commerce annual dinner on Wednesday night at the Old First Dutch Church in Kingston.

Members of the dinner committee were John H. Saxe, Henry Battenfeld, and Roger H. Loughran, who acted as toastmaster. Officers of the Town of Hurley Chamber of Commerce are Emil Braun, president; Henry Battenfeld, vice president; Benson Krom, secretary, and Walter Stauble, treasurer.

During his talk, Livingston demonstrated scores of duPont chemical products, some of them so new that there is no known commercial use for them yet. He pointed out that such developments are only possibilities among a great many new products being created by industry, which will raise the standard of living of everybody. He also told of the creation of such well known things as nylon.

Freedom Builds Strength

"America is strong because it is based on freedom to imagine and create new products, freedom to act and to distribute those products in a competitive mar-

How They Took Poll Results

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower reads results of the New Hampshire primary elections handed him by a reporter just before the NATO supreme commander left Paris on a flight to Frankfurt, Germany. "Ike" said his decisive victory over Sen. Robert Taft and other Republican aspirants made him "very proud," but he still does not plan to return to the U.S. in the immediate future. (NEA Radio-Telephoto).

Sen. Robert Taft of Ohio, wearing a ten-gallon hat, appears in a serious mood as he confers with an aide before leaving Dallas to continue his campaign jaunt through Texas. Taft ran second to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower in the New Hampshire primary. (NEA Telephoto).

Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, who scored an upset win over President Truman in the New Hampshire primary, is greeted by jubilant supporters, all wearing coonskin caps, on his arrival in Washington, D.C. (NEA Telephoto).

Aides Bitter, Truman Silent

President Hides Behind Cheerful Demeanor While Intimates Rap Plan for His Primary Run

Key West, Fla., March 13 (AP)—President Truman today hid behind an outwardly cheerful countenance any possible bitterness and disappointment over his stunning defeat in New Hampshire by Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee.

Intimates told newsmen he has said little even to them of the blow that befell his prestige in Tuesday's Democratic presidential preference primary.

They wouldn't talk for quotation. The only official word from Truman's vacation camp was Presidential Secretary Joseph Short's assertion the New Hampshire defeat will have absolutely no effect on the President's ultimate decision whether to run again.

Some of these intimates privately made no effort to hide their own anger at party leaders in New Hampshire who persuaded the President to allow his name to remain in the ballot there after he had announced he would ask its withdrawal.

The President had opposed having his name entered in the primaries. But he was persuaded to change his mind by party leaders in New Hampshire who had the support of Democratic National Chairman Frank E. McKinney.

The argument apparently was made that the Truman slate of delegates could carry the state. And the President was told the delegates wanted to make the race.

"It is always a mistake when the President is persuaded to do something against his own political judgment," one aide said.

The defeat in New Hampshire now makes two things more difficult for the President.

1. He may find it harder to bow out, should that be his desire, than he would have before. If there is one phrase which identifies his political philosophy more than any other it is his frequent declaration "I never ran away from a fight in my life."

2. The New Hampshire upset could make his comeback fight more difficult than it would be had he kept his name out of the contest. And it could change the minds of some who have been insisting that he make the race for re-election.

The President's advisers at the same time sought to discount the imporance of the turn of events in the New England state.

They said it would have no real bearing on the national convention and that there would be no difficulty about getting the nomination for Truman if he wants it.

The President is not holding a news conference this week. Usually, such conferences are held on Thursday in Washington.

Hold Taft, Truman in Race Yet

Will Be Rough

Anything Can Happen With Truman Mad, Taft Fighting

Washington, March 13 (AP)—Political opponents of President Truman and Sen. Taft ranked them today as "still formidable" adversaries despite the New Hampshire presidential primary victories by Sen. Kefauver and Gen. Eisenhower.

Kefauver, Tennessee Democrat, upset Truman in Tuesday's Granite State contest. And Eisenhower swept over Ohio's Taft on the Republican ticket.

"Say what you want about Harry Truman, he's a fighter, especially when he's hurt—and he'll fight now," said Sen. Aiken (R.-Vt.).

Aiken is anti-Truman. He has not announced his choice for the GOP presidential nomination.

The Vermonter predicted last month Kefauver would "beat the tar" out of Truman in the New Hampshire primary.

"Kefauver did just that all right," Aiken said today, "but now he's got a man (Truman) who must be fighting mad and the going will be rougher."

Taft Not Out Yet

As for Taft, Sen. Ives (R.-N. Y.)—who is backing Eisenhower against the Ohioan for the GOP presidential nomination—declared:

"Don't anyone think for a minute that Bob Taft is out of the race. On our side, we aren't taking anything for granted. That July nominating convention is still a long way off and anything can happen in politics."

In New Hampshire, Kefauver won over Truman in the preferential (popularity) contest by 20,147 votes to 16,298. The Tennessean also won all 12 Democratic delegates, who have eight convention votes.

On the Republican ticket, Eisenhower piled up 46,497 preferential votes to 35,820 for Taft. And Eisenhower, too, made a clean sweep of the delegates—14 to the GOP convention.

Eisenhower backers expressed delight over the outcome in view of the fact the general so far has taken no part in any pre-convention activities in his behalf. He has said he would accept the nomination but won't seek it.

Won't Have to Come Home

Ives said the New Hampshire vote "proved Eisenhower can get the nomination without coming home to campaign, if he wants it that way."

In Europe, where he is supreme commander of the North Atlantic defense forces, Eisenhower commented that "any American who is honored by so many other Americans considering him fit for the presidency should be proud, or, by golly, he is no American."

Kefauver, weary from two weeks of New Hampshire campaigning, told a news conference here late yesterday that "victory in one primary is not a sure sign of success in others." He added:

"I still have a long, hard, uphill fight and it is going to take a lot of work  by my supporters over the country.  I think I have come a long way since January 23 when I announced I was in this fight to the finish and that is my position today."

Counted on Four

Taft, campaigning in Texas, said he was "a little disappointed" about his showing in New Hampshire. He had counted on winning at least four of the 14 GOP delegates and said he had been "expecting a horse race" in the preferential voting.

Truman declined to comment on his defeat by Kefauver.

However, the President's press secretary, Joseph Short, said at the Little White House in Key West, Fla., that Kefauver's victory

Polhamus Is Eighth To Die From Fire

Middletown, N. Y., March 13 (AP)—An eighth member of a family of 11 died late yesterday of burns suffered in a fire which destroyed their home at Walker Valley, N. Y.

Harry Polhamus, 43-year-old lumberjack, died at Middletown Sanitarium.

His wife, Evelyn, 39, and six of their children, ranging in age from two to 12, died in the flames early yesterday.

Two other children were in the hospital today. Henry 5, was reported in critical condition and Rose, 15, in fair condition.

All Railroaders Are Back to Work

Elkhart, Ind., March 13 (AP)—The last holdouts against court and union orders to end the New York Central railroad strike went back to work today.

The first switch engine crews started making up trains within an hour after the Elkhart strikers voted to end their walkout late Wednesday night.

A company spokesman in Chicago said operations on the railroad's main line should be back to normal by midafternoon. The first train was scheduled to roll out for Chicago at 6:05 a. m. (CST).

Elkhart members of the Engineers, Conductors and Firemen Brotherhoods were the last to give in to the back-to-work orders.

B-29s Collide Killing 15 in Hills of Texas

San Antonio, March 13 (AP)—Two B-29 Supterfortresses whose pilots couldn't see where they were going while flying on instruments collided and carried 15 crewmen to their deaths in the hills of south central Texas yesterday.

One bomber plunged to earth and shattered, scattering fragments and bodies over a five-mile area. The other glided down several miles away, exploded and burned.

The planes were on training flights from Randolph Air Force Base here. They were being flown mechanically and the pilot's cabins were blacked out, according to Lt. Bill Adams, public information officer at the base.

One plane carried seven men and the other eight, the air force base said. Normally, a B-29 combat crew consists of 11 men.

The shattered pane crashed on a hilltop on the Gus Krause ranch. The other glided down near a small landing strip on the ranch of J. W. Heard, San Antonio oil man.

Rancher's Story

D. C. McDonald, superintendent of a nearby ranch, said he saw the planes flying in formation.

He gave this account:

"Suddenly one creased over and apparently clipped the tail section from the other plane. One plane went down and the other kept on flying on a level keel, with good altitude as if undamaged. No one jumped. The plane came in low over a windmill on the Heard ranch, just barely missing it. Suddenly the left wing dipped and went into the ground. The right wing cut off a huge tree. The plane plowed several hundred feet and the four motors were found on a hilltop several hundred feet away."

Fly to Investigate

The crash occurred about 1 p. m. (E.S.T.) 40 miles north of here in a rugged ranch country studded with cedar and oak trees.

A special investigating board was reported flying to Randolph from San Bernadino, Calif.

Teacher Stricken

Miss Edith Van Gaasbeek, of 15 Brewster street, teacher of eighth grade English and reading at the M.J.M. school, was taken suddenly ill near the close of school yesterday and was conveyed to the Benedictine Hospital. She was reported as "doing satisfactorily" at the hospital today.

Howard Leads Officers Into Room Without Notice From 45 Men in Gathering

Joined by Sheriff

Crackdown First Since 1951 Arrests Made in Two City Sections

Local police and a sheriff's squad walked into a nest of alleged gamblers in a raid early today in the former fraternal lodge quarters on the second floor of a building at Broadway and Thomas street and booked nine men on charges relating to common gambling.

The raid, directed by District Attorney Louis G. Bruhn was staged by Sgt. Lemuel Howard, of the local police, Patrolmen Frank Sammons and Thomas Tomshaw, Sheriff Cluett Schantz, Under Sheriff Clayton Vredenburgh, County Investigator Arthur H. Brown and Deputy Sheriff William Thomson. They entered the place at about 12:30 a. m.

Nine Arrested

John Carpino, 124 South Manor avenue; Robert L. Vincent, 49 Dunneman avenue; Peter Cerasaro, Lucas avenue extension; Joseph J. Greco, Glasco; Charles Nettis, R.D., Saugerties; William Buckman, 61 Brewster street; John Sangaline, 315 East Chester street; James Sottile, 245 Broadway and Shale Alcon, 11 Downs street.

District Attorney Bruhn said 45 men were in the room at the time of the raid.

Hearing Set March 20

All of the men held as gamblers were given opportunity to get counsel and obtain $500 bail each when they appeared today before City Judge Raymond J. Mino, and each case was put over until March 20.

Cerasaro was the only one who said he had counsel when the group appeared before the judge and it was indicated that Attorney Charles Gaffney will appear for him.

The raid resulted in the confiscation of "less than $1,000" police said. Also taken was a large craps table with a plyboard top covered in velvet, and other incidental equipment.

Hardly Noticed Police

The raid was led by Sgt. Howard and the two patrolmen who entered the room as the alleged game was in progress and as the sheriff and his squad stood guard outside.

The officers were "hardly noticed" as the game apparently riveted their attention, one officer said. The sheriff and his men entered the room after the local police broke the news that a raid was in progress.

Saugerties Water Revenue Decrease Blamed to Weather

Additional 25 Per Cent Charge Prior to Rate Increase Is Error Spokesman Says

In discussing the problems of the Saugerties Water Board today with a member of the board in relation to the necessity of an increased water rate, it was explained that the increase in rate had been sought because of the close operation cost and revenue during the 1951 Season.

The Water Board actually closed its year on February 29, 1952, with a balance of $41.25. This balance reflected a decrease in revenue of some $2,000 during the past summer over the previous year. Board members, with it in mind, sought an increase in rates feeling that the old rate was too low in view of increasing cost of labor and materials and there was a chance that the department would be unable to meet these higher costs unless an increase in rate was permitted.

Less Water Used

It was the opinion of the board member that the decrease of $2,000 in revenue last summer was due partly to the cool, wet season which made it unnecessary to use water for lawn sprinkling and other uses which a hot dry season requires. The drop in revenue occurred from March first through

Bridge Plans Will Be Ready in June

Loughran Receives Notice From Steinman; Wicks Wants It on Thruway

Plans for the Kingston-Rhinebeck bridge across the Hudson river will be completed some time in June by Dr. David B. Steinman, consulting engineer for the New York State Bridge Authority, it was announced today by James F. Loughran, head of the Bridge Authority.

Under the contract with Dr. Steinman plans for the bridge are to be completed by July first. Mr. Loughran said he had received word from Dr. Steinman that the plans would be completed and ready for submission to the Authority prior to that date.

Must Know About Links

After the plans have been completed and delivered to the Bridge Authority, the Authority will need the assurance of the Highway Department that connecting links will be built on each side of the bridge to connect with existing highways. These approaches will connect the bridge with state route 9-W and the New York Thruway near Lake Katrine on the west side of the river and with route 9 near Rock City on the east side of the river.

Once the plans have been completed it is expected the bridge project will begin to move forward rapidly.

Application for priority for steel must be made and an allocation granted by the government and the bond issue must be sold.

Bonds Must Wait

It has been impossible to proceed with the issuance of bonds for the construction until the plans and specifications are completed and the cost of the structure known. Once the cost of the project is known the Authority will be in a position to determine the amount of the bond issue and proceed with the sale of bonds.

Recently Senator Wicks introduced legislation which will make the bridge route a part of the

Wardens Briefed About Fires That Spread; Murphy Lauds Course

Air raid wardens assembled at the Myron J. Michael School, Wednesday night, heard about fire control from Chief Joseph L. Murphy of the Kingston Fire Department.

Demonstrating with equipment, the chief talked mainly about extinguishing small fires that start larger ones.

Handling small blazes is one of the duties of wardens, it was pointed out by the chief and Sheffield Nassar, an instructor at the school, who is conducting a course lasting six weeks on Civil Defense subjects.

District Leaders Named

Chief Air Raid Warden Thomas Saccoman, a local attorney, said that three districts had been formed in the city for effectiveness in combatting any attack that might strike in the event of war.

Saccoman appointed leaders for each of the three districts comprising various wards of the city.

Al Bruckert, proprietor of Tony's Brake Service, 229 Greenkill avenue, leads District No. 1 made up of Wards One, 12, 11, and 13.

Walter B. Pettinger of 129 Prospect street, who served as a warden during World War 2, is leader of District No. 2, comprising the Second, Ninth and 10th Wards.

Supervisor James DeCicco of the Fourth Ward, a resident of 26 Larch street, heads District No. 3 made up of his own ward, also the Third, Fifth, Sixth, Seventh and Eighth.

Chief Praises Course

During his remarks Chief Murphy said, "the detailed course which you wardens are receiving and the excellent instruction which I heard this evening were very pleasing to me. The training you are receiving will be beneficial, not only in the case of a Civilian Defense emergency, but as part of your general fund of knowledge which will be helpful at any time."

Chief Murphy was introduced to the group by Attorney Sherwood E. Davis, city of Kingston Civilian Defense director.

Cables Thanks

Concord, N. H., March 13 (AP)—Governor Sherman Adams, leader of the State Eisenhower-for-President Committee and a delegate-elect to the GOP convention favorable to the general's nomination, has received the following cable from the general: "My congratulations to you and your associates. Through you, could I express to the Republican voters of New Hampshire my profound appreciation of the extraordinary compliment they have paid me. This I should like to do even though I fully realize that the astonishing result was due primarily to the distinguished reputations of the list of delegates and the efforts of your organization."

Morris Blasts Senators

Newbold Morris (standing right), the government cleanup man, talks to reporters in Washington after testifying before the Senate investigations subcommittee. Morris cried out at the hearing that he was being subjected to "character destruction", and blasted at "these diseased minds in this chamber." Morris denied he had done anything wrong in ship deals or in connection with oil shipments to Red China by a shipping firm with which he has ties. (AP Wirephoto).

Hurley Chamber Is Told Creative System Helps U. S.

"Americans have the best living in the world today because the traditonal American system has given us the freedom to create and develop it," Larry F. Livingston, manager of the duPont Company's extension division, said at the Town of Hurley Chamber of Commerce annual dinner on Wednesday night at the Old First Dutch Church in Kingston.

Members of the dinner committee were John H. Saxe, Henry Battenfeld, and Roger H. Loughran, who acted as toastmaster. Officers of the Town of Hurley Chamber of Commerce are Emil Braun, president; Henry Battenfeld, vice president; Benson Krom, secretary, and Walter Stauble, treasurer.

During his talk, Livingston demonstrated scores of duPont chemical products, some of them so new that there is no known commercial use for them yet. He pointed out that such developments are only possibilities among a great many new products being created by industry, which will raise the standard of living of everybody. He also told of the creation of such well known things as nylon.

Freedom Builds Strength

"America is strong because it is based on freedom to imagine and create new products, freedom to act and to distribute those products in a competitive mar-

Social Security Law Provisions

George J. Johnson, manager of the Kingston Social Security Office, submits another article on the provisions of the new Security Law:

Apparently there is some misunderstanding of the self-employed person's obligations under the amended Social Security Act. Old-age and survivors insurance is not optional for people who are working for themselves in their own trade or business, or as partners in such enterprices. If you are self-employed and derive as much as $400 in net profit from your business or businesses in any taxable year after December 31, 1950, your social security coverage is compulsory by law.

The only exceptions are income derived from self-employment as owner-operator of an agricultural enterprise, and self-employment income derived from practice as a physician, lawyer, dentist, osteopath, chiropractor, optometrist, naturopath, veterinarian, architect, CPA, licensed, registered or full-time practicing public accountant, Christian Science practitioner, professional engineer, or funeral director.

This means that, if you are not in one of the excepted groups, you have the same obligation to report your income and pay the self-employment tax as you now have to report and withhold social security taxes on your employes' earnings. However, as a self-employed person you do not report yourself along with your employes. Your self-employment income must be reported annually on your income-tax Form 1040, Schedule C, especially revised for this purpose. Your first such report is due on or before March 17, 1952, covering your self-employment income for the taxable year 1951, and payable along with the report is your self-employment social security tax, which is 2¼ per cent of the first $3,600 of your net business profit.

If you are a partner in a business, the tax is levied on the first $3,600 of your distributive share of the partnership, net profits, whether or not the profits are distributed.

However, if you have worked as an employe under social security and have also been self-employed, you will report as self-employment income for social security purposes only the difference between the amount that has been reported for you as wages and $3,600. Example—you have been paid wages of $1,000 during the calendar year of 1952 and had self-employment income of $4,000. Since the $1,000 wages will be reported for social security purposes, you will report only $2,600 as self-employment income for social security purposes and pay tax only on that $2,600.

The office of the Collector of Internal Revenue, servicing all of Ulster and Greene counties, is located in the Central Post Office Building, Broadway, Kingston.

That office will be open this week Monday through Saturday, from 8:30 a. m. until 5:00 p. m. The office hours on Monday, March 17th—the official deadline for filing tax returns, will be 8:30 until 12:00 midnight. The Social Security Administration Office will be open 8:30 a. m. to 5:00 p. m., Monday through Friday of this week and the same hours on Monday, March 17th.

We regret that is too late to issue any social security account number cards presented an application received in the mail or presented by persons other than the applicant themselves after the date of this release.

Self-employed individuals who have never received social security account numbers at any time may still apply in person at the local office and secure their social security account numbers up to and including March 17th.

Public Welfare... Questions, Answers

(In view of increasing public interest in public welfare matters, the Ulster County Children's Committee of the State Charities Aid Association, an independent citizens groups, presents the following question and answer as part of its program of providing information on tax-supported welfare activities.)

Why do people on relief get cash instead of vouchers to use at the store?

In the light of experience, cash relief is generally considered preferable to vouchers because it is cheaper to administer and more flexible. Vouchers, however, may be used in individual cases where they seem more practicable. Cash relief permits the recipient to shop for bargains. It answers complaints of business men that they are not getting their full share of the trade, and it contributes to the recipient's self-respect.

(Additional questions about public welfare activities may be sent to the committee through Mrs. Albert E. Milliken, R.R. 3, Kingston. Mrs. Virgil DeWitt of New Paltz is chairman of the committee.

South Slope Warmer

Big Flame Is Beacon

Long Beach, Calif. (AP) — The Calstate Refining Co. here doesn't have any trouble with its huge open gas flame until workmen turn it off. The big torch, seen for miles at night, burns off surplus gases from the plant. On rare occasions when the flame doesn't burn, the plant and local police station are swamped with telephone calls with the complaint: "The torch is out." The flame is also a marker for pilots who land at Long Beach Terminal, a company official said.

Scientists Probe Mounds

Dublin (AP) — Irish archeologists are to probe the secrets of mounds at Tara, in County Meath, which was once the royal capital where the kings of Ireland reigned before the time of Christ. Excavations will start at the site known as the rath (fortified earthwork) of the synods, close to the rath of kings, where the first early Christian synods are said to have been held by St. Patrick more than 1,500 years ago.

Social Security Law Provisions

George J. Johnson, manager of the Kingston Social Security Office, submits another article on the provisions of the new Security Law:

Apparently there is some misunderstanding of the self-employed person's obligations under the amended Social Security Act. Old-age and survivors insurance is not optional for people who are working for themselves in their own trade or business, or as partners in such enterprices. If you are self-employed and derive as much as $400 in net profit from your business or businesses in any taxable year after December 31, 1950, your social security coverage is compulsory by law.

The only exceptions are income derived from self-employment as owner-operator of an agricultural enterprise, and self-employment income derived from practice as a physician, lawyer, dentist, osteopath, chiropractor, optometrist, naturopath, veterinarian, architect, CPA, licensed, registered or full-time practicing public accountant, Christian Science practitioner, professional engineer, or funeral director.

This means that, if you are not in one of the excepted groups, you have the same obligation to report your income and pay the self-employment tax as you now have to report and withhold social security taxes on your employes' earnings. However, as a self-employed person you do not report yourself along with your employes. Your self-employment income must be reported annually on your income-tax Form 1040, Schedule C, especially revised for this purpose. Your first such report is due on or before March 17, 1952, covering your self-employment income for the taxable year 1951, and payable along with the report is your self-employment social security tax, which is 2¼ per cent of the first $3,600 of your net business profit.

If you are a partner in a business, the tax is levied on the first $3,600 of your distributive share of the partnership, net profits, whether or not the profits are distributed.

However, if you have worked as an employe under social security and have also been self-employed, you will report as self-employment income for social security purposes only the difference between the amount that has been reported for you as wages and $3,600. Example—you have been paid wages of $1,000 during the calendar year of 1952 and had self-employment income of $4,000. Since the $1,000 wages will be reported for social security purposes, you will report only $2,600 as self-employment income for social security purposes and pay tax only on that $2,600.

The office of the Collector of Internal Revenue, servicing all of Ulster and Greene counties, is located in the Central Post Office Building, Broadway, Kingston.

That office will be open this week Monday through Saturday, from 8:30 a. m. until 5:00 p. m. The office hours on Monday, March 17th—the official deadline for filing tax returns, will be 8:30 until 12:00 midnight. The Social Security Administration Office will be open 8:30 a. m. to 5:00 p. m., Monday through Friday of this week and the same hours on Monday, March 17th.

We regret that is too late to issue any social security account number cards presented an application received in the mail or presented by persons other than the applicant themselves after the date of this release.

Self-employed individuals who have never received social security account numbers at any time may still apply in person at the local office and secure their social security account numbers up to and including March 17th.

Public Welfare... Questions, Answers

(In view of increasing public interest in public welfare matters, the Ulster County Children's Committee of the State Charities Aid Association, an independent citizens groups, presents the following question and answer as part of its program of providing information on tax-supported welfare activities.)

Why do people on relief get cash instead of vouchers to use at the store?

In the light of experience, cash relief is generally considered preferable to vouchers because it is cheaper to administer and more flexible. Vouchers, however, may be used in individual cases where they seem more practicable. Cash relief permits the recipient to shop for bargains. It answers complaints of business men that they are not getting their full share of the trade, and it contributes to the recipient's self-respect.

(Additional questions about public welfare activities may be sent to the committee through Mrs. Albert E. Milliken, R.R. 3, Kingston. Mrs. Virgil DeWitt of New Paltz is chairman of the committee.

Big Flame Is Beacon

Long Beach, Calif. (AP) — The Calstate Refining Co. here doesn't have any trouble with its huge open gas flame until workmen turn it off. The big torch, seen for miles at night, burns off surplus gases from the plant. On rare occasions when the flame doesn't burn, the plant and local police station are swamped with telephone calls with the complaint: "The torch is out." The flame is also a marker for pilots who land at Long Beach Terminal, a company official said.

Scientists Probe Mounds

Dublin (AP) — Irish archeologists are to probe the secrets of mounds at Tara, in County Meath, which was once the royal capital where the kings of Ireland reigned before the time of Christ. Excavations will start at the site known as the rath (fortified earthwork) of the synods, close to the rath of kings, where the first early Christian synods are said to have been held by St. Patrick more than 1,500 years ago.

FREE ENTERPRISE

In an article in the March Atlantic Monthly entitled "Free Enterprise Is Not A Hunting License," Clarence B. Randall, president of the Inland Steel Company, wonders whether many businessmen have not defaulted the positions of respect and leadership they once held in their communities. He points out that the businessman was once regarded as a person to consult on matters of local improvement and civic programs. In too many cases, he believes, this is no longer the case.

Randall's article is searching and astute. He faces the fact squarely that many who decry dishonesty and loose morality in government are willing to tolerate it in their own business practices and associations. He points out that too few businessmen take the time to learn of the work of community schools or community government. He recommends that business take on the obligation of helping the privately endowed colleges which provide the future leaders of industry.

Articles of this sort are valuable. Private enterprise is the best method men have yet found to build civilization and progress. But it does have room for improvement and that improvement depends on recognition of that fact by the individuals who make it up. Business has done a remarkable job of raising production so far that it can support all of the people in this country at an extremely high standard of living. But Randall believes that a constant effort to preserve civic and spiritual values, as well as materialistic values, is the duty of the men of business.

THE WOMAN VOTER

American women have the vote, but too many of them do not know how to use it. On the whole, they are content to leave politics to the men. In spite of the useful and strong influence of such organizations as the League of Women Voters, for the most part candidates are picked and the government is run almost exclusively by men. Women are content to voice their opinions at the polls, without giving attention to getting proper persons on the ballot.

This is not to suggest that women should start a battle of the sexes. They should, however, make a more active effort to join the men in running the affairs of the nation. The mother of a child is particularly sensitive to the need for eliminating corruption and for preserving peace. A housewife appreciates the value and meaning of clean housekeeping. This experience would be invaluable if transferred to the area of politics on the local, state and national levels.

Every seasoned politician concedes the importance of the women's vote. No election can be won without the support of women. Their vote alone, however, has a limited value, especially if they are allowed to choose only between two unsatisfactory choices. American women should take part in making the choices. They should make their influence by participating directly in politics. They could provide an invaluable aid to husbands and brothers in the struggle for honest government.

Memo to aggressors: American industry can pound out sixty per cent more production than it could in 1941.

FEATHERS AND FEATHERS

Military leaders had a much happier time of it in the days when all an officer could be expected to do was to lead his men into battle. Today the things an officer must know extend to ability to tell the differences in quality between chicken feathers and the feathers of water fowl. Testifying before the House Investigating Committee about waste in the armed forces a high ranking naval officer said that for stuffing pillows the feathers of water fowl are more practical but are also more expensive.

But evidently the chicken feathers are not entirely despised for a short time later an Army quartermaster's report said that the feathers of chickens can be treated chemically and substituted for wool in sleeping bags. The treated feathers are also twice as warm as wool, the report said.

As to the charges of military waste, many of the high ranking officers are probably wishing they could reply with some remark about horse feathers.

A LETTER TO WHITTAKER CHAMBERS

Dear Whit Chambers:

Your letter to your children, which millions of Americans have read and heard you read on radio and television, touched me to tears because I know what it costs a man to struggle with his soul.

There are many who never need to do that. They go through life by routine procedures. They are always in fashion and their minds readily adjust themselves to the mode of the moment. They accept ideas as they accept heroes, and throw them off with equal alacrity. Their souls are cellophaned.

They do not understand such a person as you are. We assume that converts to a way of life like Paul or Augustine were ridiculed in their day, but no one was stupid enough to suggest that what they did was done to earn $75,000, or whatever the sum, writing magazine articles. Whoever accuses you of that lacks knowledge of the human soul; they have never read Job and have never been twisted by the Devil.

Small minds and weak memories forget that in 1939, when you were in no manner protected by the Statute of Limitations, you laid your case before A. A. Berle, Jr., then assistant secretary of state. I have never understood why Berle did not have you arrested. You had spied on your own country and you told him so, and you could not and did not claim immunity. You risked arrest and imprisonment. Many of our friends who have also served their country after conversion, waited until they were immune to punishment. But you did not.

Those who now attack you or ridicule you or question your motives have forgotten that. Such persons as myself, who have watched the Russian conspiracy since 1917, understand you. Most of those who sneer at you have no anti-Communist record.

For just as there is a Communist record, so is there an anti-Communist record. Today, it is fashionable to be anti-Communist and to beat one's breast and shout, "I have always been anti-Communist." That may or may not be true in particular instances, but it is possible to establish the record, since 1917, of those who, is some marked manner, have fought Communism. Whenever I come across one of these breast-beaters, I ask, "What is in the record about this person, say prior to 1945 or 1939 or even 1933?"

Usually, nothing is to be found. The reason for their ferocious attitude toward you is that quite apart from the poverty of their spirit which prevents them from understanding the grace of conversion, they also are envious of your unquestionable services to your country as a penitent.

Many of them ask how they could have known what to do, when such martyrs as Ben Stolberg and Jim McGuinness gave their lives for the cause of America. Many of these mugwumps sat by and saw men and women blacklisted in magazines, on radio, in the movies, in all walks of life, because they hated Communism. Now, they come forward and criticize such persons as you and Louis Budenz and Elizabeth Bentley and all those who, having been led astray by Marxism, witnessed to the truth, achieved conversion and at the risk of the meanest of all human weapons, ridicule, served country and God.

May I criticize your letter to your children for one thing? You say:

"My children, as long as you live, the shadow of the Hiss Case will brush you. In every pair of eyes that rests on you, you will see pass, like a cloud passing behind a woods in winter, the memory of your father—dissembled in friendly eyes, lurking in unfriendly eyes. . . ."

This, I am sure, will not be so. The day will surely come, Whit, when all men will recognize what you have done. The other day, I was asked why no one writes a biography of another American hero, William Wirt, the educator of Gary, Indiana, who was ridiculed to his grave for speaking the truth. It was good to know that Dr. Wirt is not forgotten.

Your conversion from Marx to God, your service to your country by confession of error, by penitence in action, by risking the peace of yourself and your family when you might have found safety in oblivion—these services will not be forgotten. And your children, when they are mature, will not be ashamed.

Fraternally,
GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

NEEDLESS WORRY OF PARENTS

As a teen-ager, I can remember youngsters going into hospital Saturday mornings to have their tonsils removed, many of them going home in 24 to 48 hours. That was in the days when tonsils were removed by a snare and often much of the stump of the tonsil was left in the throat. In many cases there was no need for removal of tonsils as they were only slightly enlarged, were not infected and were not interfering with breathing or hearing.

Just as large tonsils of themselves do not need to be removed as they will disappear about the age of puberty, so there are other conditions present in children which worry parents, who, instead of consulting their family physician, may go directly to specialists for their information. When they do consult their physician directly and he advises that there is no need for treatment, they may insist upon having the specialist called in consultation anyway.

In The British Medical Journal, Dr. Israel Gordon, Ilford, England, states, "Many parents suffer needless anxiety and spend money unnecessarily on the treatment of innocuous and minor imperfections in children. The child who feels well and functions well is well, minor or small differences from normal notwithstanding."

Some conditions stand out in importance either by reason of the effort needlessly expended for their correction or by the effect that such treatment has on the later career of the individual.

Enlarged tonsils: Unless the tonsils are so large as to cause obstruction or, as stated above, are infected, there is no need for their removal.

Orthopedic defects: The legs of small children are not straight. In the first two years of life, a bow-legged phase exists with outward curve and inward twist of the lower end of the leg. This condition is most pronounced at four and one-half and disappears at the age of six.

Innocuous (harmless) heart murmurs: Most systolic (occurring with the first beat of the heart) murmurs are harmless and undue attention leads to neurosis.

Constipation of breast-fed babies: Infrequent stools are entirely normal for breast-fed infants. In the third, fourth and fifth months of life, 41 per cent (about four in 10) do have daily stools. Use of laxatives or enemas to force daily bowel movements may cause chronic constipation.

Despite the above advice, parents would do well to talk any of the above conditions over with their family physician.

Enuresis—Bedwetting

Bedwetting is one of the most embarrassing situations for parent and child. Send today for Dr. Barton's helpful leaflet on this subject entitled "Enuresis—Bedwetting," enclosing 10 cents to cover cost of handling and mailing, to The Bell Syndicate, Inc., in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, Post Office Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Parting Is Such Sweet Sorrow

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington — Last week the most interesting economic development since June 1950 took place.

Until last week, government officials in charge of military production had been warning that the second quarter of 1952 would be the tightest of all. This was the period when industry would really feel the pinch of scarce civilian goods, would be drastically curtailed on the manufacture of radios, TV sets, refrigerators, autos and buildings. This was the warning that came from the office of Defense Mobilizer Charles E. Wilson and subordinates of Secretary of Defense Bob Lovett.

In just 17 days, however, the second quarter of 1952 begins. Yet, as it approaches, materials, instead of being tight, suddenly have loosened up.

Instead of cutting down on autos, government chiefs last week called in the motor moguls and handed them more materials. Instead of cutting down on building construction, the builders were given more steel.

Meanwhile aluminum was available for storm doors, farm gates, civilian window sashes. There were plenty of radio and TV sets on hand. Other civilian goods seemed plentiful.

In other words, the dire prediction of Washington military and production chiefs was all wet.

Guns or Butter

Behind this has been one of the most important inner administration debates in all the government. It has been kept so quiet that few people have known about it, but it gets to the bottom of both the nation's security and the nation's economic prosperity.

In brief, it's the debate over which to produce—guns or butter. The same debate raged under Roosevelt prior to Pearl Harbor, but was solved in part by a stronger President, in part by the Japanese attack on Dec. 7, 1941.

Today the debate is between the joint chiefs of staff who favor guns; and certain production men with long association in private business led by Secretary of Defense Lovett and Defense Mobilizer Wilson, who want both guns and butter.

The above, of course, is an oversimplification of the issue. The case is neither black or white. It is gray, with something to be said on both sides. The leaders of both schools are sincere, patriotic men. Furthermore, the military have helped to defeat themselves by being slow on production. However, the results are inescapable, and can be summarized as follows:

1. The U. S. arms program has bogged down. We are way behind Russia in airplanes, and have fallen far below the military equipment promises we made Europe. This is one reason for the economic and political crisis in Europe today.

2. Because the arms program is so far behind, most defense material—with the notable exception of copper—is now surplus. Actually the aluminum companies, to use the words of one executive, "have aluminum running out of our ears." This is the reason why automobile and construction companies suddenly have had unexpected materials dumped into their amazed laps.

Don't Strain The Economy

The full story goes back to the days right after the Korean invasion when the new arms program was thrown together. At that time the "let's-not-strain-the-economy" advisers urged that rearmament be spaced out over a longer period of time, that if rushed too suddenly it would throw civilian economy out of gear. We should mobilize gradually, they urged, rather than in a sudden spurt which would leave civilian industry starved for materials.

In brief, civilian leaders said: "If we take things gradually, we can have both guns and butter."

Though the joint chiefs of staff didn't like it, their chief, Secretary of Defense George Marshall, himself a general, concurred with the idea and it was adopted.

Later, last fall, the situation was reviewed again. By this time it was apparent that the Communists were sending a superior jet fighter force to Korea, and reports from behind the Iron Curtain indicated that the over all Russian air strength was ahead of ours.

Because of this, Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg, air chief of staff, argued inside the joint chiefs of staff that the air force must have 143 air groups, and the joint chiefs supported him.

Slow Military Production

In the final showdown, however, Defense Mobilizer Wilson urged a slower build-up, and when the matter went to the White House, President Truman backed him up. Instead of building 143 air groups by the end of 1953, they will now be built by the end of 1954.

What happened regarding airplanes also happened regarding other military goods. The entire program was stretched out. The ultimate goals remained the same, but the number of years for fulfillment was proonged.

This was partly the fault of the military. Their own slowness of production cut the ground from under the joint chiefs of staff. For, though the joint chiefs continued to urge quicker mobilization, their own military production men could not decide on types of planes and tanks, dickered back and forth over blueprints and did not spend the money they had.

Arms production, when bossed by the military, always has been inefficient, and today $39,000,000,000 of last year's appropriations remain unspent. In other words, though the joint chiefs of staff want quicker mobilization, the generals and admirals in charge of ordnance, procurement and planning have not been able to get into high gear.

Thus the joint chiefs of staff are pulled back by top civilians on one hand and their own production general and admirals on the other. That's why we've sent only a trickle of weapons abroad, and that's why the air force is so far behind Russia's today that we probably couldn't afford to risk bombing China.

New Hampshire Primary Puts President Truman in Position to Insist on 'Draft'

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, March 12—When President Truman let it be known, both before and after the New Hampshire primary, that the outcome there would not affect his decision whether or not to run, it was one way of saying that the Democratic party in the nation rather than any single state would have to choose the Democratic party's nominee.

Mr. Truman is in the position of virtually compelling the issue to be decided by a "draft." The first step naturally is for the President to overcome the objection that a Chief Executive, through the use of the party machinery, can dictate his own renomination. At the same time he must clear away the objection that points to the constitutional amendment which bars everybody else from serving longer than ten years, though technically it doesn't cover his case.

What better way, therefore, than for Mr. Truman to announce soon that he "does not choose to run," which is the language President Coolidge used in 1928. Then Mr. Truman can wait for the sentiment inside the Democratic party to crystallize. Once he has said he does not want the Presidential office again, it would presumably be the party and not any individual, with political strength obtained through the Presidency, which would bring about the Truman renomination.

So far as the third-term argument is concerned, this, too, falls by the wayside if the Democratic party says the President shall be named again. It doesn't dispose of this issue for the campaign itself, but certainly the President would be able to say, as Gen. Eisenhower has been saying, that he must respond to the "call of duty." If the nomination by the Republican party is a strong enough reason for a commanding general in an important post to leave his task to run for office, so might Mr. Truman and his friends say that the call from a Democratic party convention is just as strongly a matter of duty which supersedes personal convenience, comfort or desire.

When Mr. Truman flippantly called the New Hampshire primary "eyewash," he was thinking, of course, of the little influence that primaries have nowadays on party conventions. The press and radio and television have whipped up considerable interest in the primaries, but veteran politicos will not concede that anything is really decided by the popular vote in present-day primaries.

The New Hampshire primary will, however, have these effects so far as the Republican race for the nomination is concerned:

1. Gen. Eisenhower doesn't have to do any active campaigning in the other states. He has demonstrated his vote-getting ability and, though he had the Republican state organization back of him, it nevertheless proves that his name has an immense popular appeal even against the aggressive stumping of opponents like Sen. Taft and former Gov. Stassen.

2. Sen. Taft's backers, although naturally disappointed, didn't really expect to win New Hampshire and will make a strong showing in other states, which will bring the contest into a deadlock status by convention time. This particular primary result does not permit any one to write off any candidate when there are so many other primaries to come and so many delegates yet to be chosen who are not bound by or selected through primaries.

3. Strategy in future primary contests will be to avoid entering those in states where the opposition is overwhelming. It would not be surprising to see Taft and Eisenhower managers picking their primary spots more carefully in the future.

4. It will become increasingly important for the managers of the rival candidates to choose men of prominence to go on the ballot as delegates. In New Hampshire Gov. Adams and the Republican leaders of the state were on the ballot and also carried the brunt of the campaign.

5. The split inside the Republican party may widen if the kind of campaign just waged in New Hampshire is repeated in other states. It could mean that if Eisenhower is not nominated and the party nominee isn't sufficiently international in his viewpoint to command all the Eisenhower support, a substantial segment might switch to a Democratic nominee other than Truman.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Rome—I have just finished the spiritual task of signing my income tax returns and mailing the appropriate checks. I discover that during the last year I worked about six months for my "governments," federal and state. At a glance this would seem to leave the earnings from the other six months' work for myself, but that is not the case. Roughly two-fifths of this remainder is committed to employes and dependents, to taxes other than the income taxes, and to insurance. I find that, for myself, I can figure on about 30 per cent of the income, most of which I earn by very hard, exacting work. I get a little of my income from dividends, having sold my government bonds because, under inflation, they were a losing investment.

The companies which pay me the stock dividends all pay income taxes before I come in for my share. Some of them have obligations to pay large pensions to high-salaried executives who rigged these deals for themselves at the expense of us stockholders, in their board-meetings. In some cases, the lesser employes of the companies have been let in for pensions, too.

The executives began to develop social conscience after they had voted themselves the big fat pensions. The unions said that there was no human or social difference between a chairman or a vice-president at a big desk and a manual worker at a lathe, for example. This embarrassed the high executives so they took the broad, humane view and signed up. That is, they committed us stockholders, who had bought the stock with money we had saved by self-denial, after paying our taxes and meeting our family responsibilities, to pay pensions to the horny-handed types. But nobody ever has brought in any proposal of pensions for us stockholders. We don't begin to figure at all until federal and state taxes of all kinds and pensions for executives and toilers have been paid. Then we get our dividends if there is any money left. We take all the risk.

If there aren't any dividends, that is our tough luck. If a stock that cost $50 a share goes down to $10, well, that is just the way it goes, eh? But if it goes up and we sell at a profit, that profit is taxable either as income or as capital gain.

So, the first 70 cents of every dollar I get is ear-marked, most of it for "government." I don't get a sandwich or a roof to shelter me from the snow or rain until I am taxed down to the last 30 cents of each dollar.

This comes home to me with particular poignance over here in Europe. In my recent inquiries at Bonn and Bad Godesberg, on the Rhine, I found State Department errand boys—errand boys, mind you, although they are called couriers—getting $60 a week and free living quarters in new, model furnished apartments paid for by my income taxes and yours. It is the fashion now to build modernistic apartment houses to accommodate hordes of parasites who make up the unseen bureaucracy of our State Department in the far places of the world. I don't like to be personal about these types. There may be some competent people among them who could get by off a campus or outside a political edifice, but I will tell you this, that the majority are true New Deal Washington leeches. You sprinkle bug-powder in one department and they scurry through the cracks to another. Strike down one department absolutely and another department opens up in the same premises with the same people. As Leon Dayton, the chief of our Mutual Security Administration in Rome, said the other day, when the ECA expired and mutual security opened up, they just changed the names on the doors.

Up at Bonn and Godesberg we built this compound in obeisance to a State Department decision that wherever American bureaucrats roam abroad these days and, presumably, henceforth forever, their money will buy less than it would at home. So, our civilian employes and the families of our military people live in rented quarters for which they are allowed rent bonuses. The State Department is now planning to build similar compounds in many other foreign cities and there is a very frank implication that our colonies of bureaucrats will grow and grow. Rent will be free, as at Bonn, and the practise of providing groceries, fresh meat, lollipops, cosmetics, and golf balls at cheaper prices than American retail and of knocking off the regular American taxes on cigarettes and booze now has the force of law. The bosses get free limousines, chauffeurs and gasoline. We are told that if our bureaucrats don't get these luxuries, which many of them have sold in the black markets, they will quit and leave us flat. I wish

In an article in the March Atlantic Monthly entitled "Free Enterprise Is Not A Hunting License," Clarence B. Randall, president of the Inland Steel Company, wonders whether many businessmen have not defaulted the positions of respect and leadership they once held in their communities. He points out that the businessman was once regarded as a person to consult on matters of local improvement and civic programs. In too many cases, he believes, this is no longer the case.

Randall's article is searching and astute. He faces the fact squarely that many who decry dishonesty and loose morality in government are willing to tolerate it in their own business practices and associations. He points out that too few businessmen take the time to learn of the work of community schools or community government. He recommends that business take on the obligation of helping the privately endowed colleges which provide the future leaders of industry.

Articles of this sort are valuable. Private enterprise is the best method men have yet found to build civilization and progress. But it does have room for improvement and that improvement depends on recognition of that fact by the individuals who make it up. Business has done a remarkable job of raising production so far that it can support all of the people in this country at an extremely high standard of living. But Randall believes that a constant effort to preserve civic and spiritual values, as well as materialistic values, is the duty of the men of business.

THE WOMAN VOTER

American women have the vote, but too many of them do not know how to use it. On the whole, they are content to leave politics to the men. In spite of the useful and strong influence of such organizations as the League of Women Voters, for the most part candidates are picked and the government is run almost exclusively by men. Women are content to voice their opinions at the polls, without giving attention to getting proper persons on the ballot.

This is not to suggest that women should start a battle of the sexes. They should, however, make a more active effort to join the men in running the affairs of the nation. The mother of a child is particularly sensitive to the need for eliminating corruption and for preserving peace. A housewife appreciates the value and meaning of clean housekeeping. This experience would be invaluable if transferred to the area of politics on the local, state and national levels.

Every seasoned politician concedes the importance of the women's vote. No election can be won without the support of women. Their vote alone, however, has a limited value, especially if they are allowed to choose only between two unsatisfactory choices. American women should take part in making the choices. They should make their influence by participating directly in politics. They could provide an invaluable aid to husbands and brothers in the struggle for honest government.

Memo to aggressors: American industry can pound out sixty per cent more production than it could in 1941.

FEATHERS AND FEATHERS

Military leaders had a much happier time of it in the days when all an officer could be expected to do was to lead his men into battle. Today the things an officer must know extend to ability to tell the differences in quality between chicken feathers and the feathers of water fowl. Testifying before the House Investigating Committee about waste in the armed forces a high ranking naval officer said that for stuffing pillows the feathers of water fowl are more practical but are also more expensive.

But evidently the chicken feathers are not entirely despised for a short time later an Army quartermaster's report said that the feathers of chickens can be treated chemically and substituted for wool in sleeping bags. The treated feathers are also twice as warm as wool, the report said.

As to the charges of military waste, many of the high ranking officers are probably wishing they could reply with some remark about horse feathers.

'These Days'

Dear Whit Chambers:

Your letter to your children, which millions of Americans have read and heard you read on radio and television, touched me to tears because I know what it costs a man to struggle with his soul.

There are many who never need to do that. They go through life by routine procedures. They are always in fashion and their minds readily adjust themselves to the mode of the moment. They accept ideas as they accept heroes, and throw them off with equal alacrity. Their souls are cellophaned.

They do not understand such a person as you are. We assume that converts to a way of life like Paul or Augustine were ridiculed in their day, but no one was stupid enough to suggest that what they did was done to earn $75,000, or whatever the sum, writing magazine articles. Whoever accuses you of that lacks knowledge of the human soul; they have never read Job and have never been twisted by the Devil.

Small minds and weak memories forget that in 1939, when you were in no manner protected by the Statute of Limitations, you laid your case before A. A. Berle, Jr., then assistant secretary of state. I have never understood why Berle did not have you arrested. You had spied on your own country and you told him so, and you could not and did not claim immunity. You risked arrest and imprisonment. Many of our friends, who have also served their country after conversion, waited until they were immune to punishment. But you did not.

Those who now attack you or ridicule you or question your motives have forgotten that. Such persons as myself, who have watched the Russian conspiracy since 1917, understand you. Most of those who sneer at you have no anti-Communist record.

For just as there is a Communist record, so is there an anti-Communist record. Today, it is fashionable to be anti-Communist and to beat one's breast and shout, "I have always been anti-Communist." That may or may not be true in particular instances, but it is possible to establish the record, since 1917, of those who, is some marked manner, have fought Communism. Whenever I come across one of these breast-beaters, I ask, "What is in the record about this person, say prior to 1945 or 1939 or even 1933?"

Usually, nothing is to be found. The reason for their ferocious attitude toward you is that quite apart from the poverty of their spirit which prevents them from understanding the grace of conversion, they also are envious of your unquestionable services to your country as a penitent.

Many of them ask how they could have known what to do, when such martyrs as Ben Stolberg and Jim McGuinness gave their lives for the cause of America. Many of these mugwumps sat by and saw men and women blacklisted in magazines, on radio, in the movies, in all walks of life, because they hated Communism. Now, they come forward and criticize such persons as you and Louis Budenz and Elizabeth Bentley and all those who, having been led astray by Marxism, witnessed to the truth, achieved conversion and at the risk of the meanest of all human weapons, ridicule, served country and God.

May I criticize your letter to your children for one thing? You say:

"My children, as long as you live, the shadow of the Hiss Case will brush you. In every pair of eyes that rests on you, you will see pass, like a cloud passing behind a woods in winter, the memory of your father—dissembled in friendly eyes, lurking in unfriendly eyes. . . ."

This, I am sure, will not be so. The day will surely come, Whit, when all men will recognize what you have done. The other day, I was asked why no one writes a biography of another American hero, William Wirt, the educator of Gary, Indiana, who was ridiculed to his grave for speaking the truth. It was good to know that Dr. Wirt is not forgotten.

Your conversion from Marx to God, your service to your country by confession of error, by penitence in action, by risking the peace of yourself and your family when you might have found safety in oblivion—these services will not be forgotten. And your children, when they are mature, will not be ashamed.

Fraternally,
GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY.

That Body of Yours

NEEDLESS WORRY OF PARENTS

As a teen-ager, I can remember youngsters going into hospital Saturday mornings to have their tonsils removed, many of them going home in 24 to 48 hours. That was in the days when tonsils were removed by a snare and often much of the stump of the tonsil was left in the throat. In many cases there was no need for removal of tonsils as they were only slightly enlarged, were not infected and were not interfering with breathing or hearing.

Just as large tonsils of themselves do not need to be removed as they will disappear about the age of puberty, so there are other conditions present in children which worry parents, who, instead of consulting their family physician, may go directly to specialists for their information. When they do consult their physician directly and he advises that there is no need for treatment, they may insist upon having the specialist called in consultation anyway.

In The British Medical Journal, Dr. Israel Gordon, Ilford, England, states, "Many parents suffer needless anxiety and spend money unnecessarily on the treatment of innocuous and minor imperfections in children. The child who feels well and functions well is well, minor or small differences from normal notwithstanding."

Some conditions stand out in importance either by reason of the effort needlessly expended for their correction or by the effect that such treatment has on the later career of the individual.

Enlarged tonsils: Unless the tonsils are so large as to cause obstruction or, as stated above, are infected, there is no need for their removal.

Orthopedic defects: The legs of small children are not straight. In the first two years of life, a bow-legged phase exists with outward curve and inward twist of the lower end of the leg. This condition is most pronounced at four and one-half and disappears at the age of six.

Innocuous (harmless) heart murmurs: Most systolic (occurring with the first beat of the heart) murmurs are harmless and undue attention leads to neurosis.

Constipation of breast-fed babies: Infrequent stools are entirely normal for breast-fed infants. In the third, fourth and fifth months of life, 41 per cent (about four in 10) do have daily stools. Use of laxatives or enemas to force daily bowel movements may cause chronic constipation.

Despite the above advice, parents would do well to talk any of the above conditions over with their family physician.

Parting Is Such Sweet Sorrow

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington — Last week the most interesting economic development since June 1950 took place.

Until last week, government officials in charge of military production had been warning that the second quarter of 1952 would be the tightest of all. This was the period when industry would really feel the pinch of scarce civilian goods, would be drastically curtailed on the manufacture of radios, TV sets, refrigerators, autos and buildings. This was the warning that came from the office of Defense Mobilizer Charles E. Wilson and subordinates of Secretary of Defense Bob Lovett.

In just 17 days, however, the second quarter of 1952 begins. Yet, as it approaches, materials, instead of being tight, suddenly have loosened up.

Instead of cutting down on autos, government chiefs last week called in the motor moguls and handed them more materials. Instead of cutting down on building construction, the builders were given more steel.

Meanwhile aluminum was available for storm doors, farm gates, civilian window sashes. There were plenty of radio and TV sets on hand. Other civilian goods seemed plentiful.

In other words, the dire prediction of Washington military and production chiefs was all wet.

Guns or Butter

Behind this has been one of the most important inner administration debates in all the government. It has been kept so quiet that few people have known about it, but it gets to the bottom of both the nation's security and the nation's economic prosperity.

In brief, it's the debate over which to produce—guns or butter. The same debate raged under Roosevelt prior to Pearl Harbor, but was solved in part by a stronger President, in part by the Japanese attack on Dec. 7, 1941.

Today the debate is between the joint chiefs of staff who favor guns; and certain production men, with long association in private business led by Secretary of Defense Lovett and Defense Mobilizer Wilson, who want both guns and butter.

The above, of course, is an oversimplification of the issue. The case is neither black or white. It is gray, with something to be said on both sides. The leaders of both schools are sincere, patriotic men. Furthermore, the military have helped to defeat themselves by being slow on production. However, the results are inescapable, and can be summarized as follows:

1. The U. S. arms program has bogged down. We are way behind Russia in airplanes, and have fallen far below the military equipment promises we made Europe. This is one reason for the economic and political crisis in Europe today.

2. Because the arms program is so far behind, most defense material—with the notable exception of copper—is now surplus. Actually the aluminum companies, to use the words of one executive, "have aluminum running out of our ears." This is the reason why automobile and construction companies suddenly have had unexpected materials dumped into their amazed laps.

Don't Strain The Economy

The full story goes back to the days right after the Korean invasion when the new arms program was thrown together. At that time the "let's-not-strain-the-economy" advisers urged that rearmament be spaced out over a longer period of time, that if rushed too suddenly it would throw civilian economy out of gear. We should mobilize gradually, they urged, rather than in a sudden spurt which would leave civilian industry starved for materials.

In brief, civilian leaders said: "If we take things gradually, we can have both guns and butter."

Though the joint chiefs of staff didn't like it, their chief, Secretary of Defense George Marshall, himself a general, concurred with the idea and it was adopted.

Later, last fall, the situation was reviewed again. By this time it was apparent that the Communists were sending a superior jet fighter force to Korea, and reports from behind the Iron Curtain indicated that the over all Russian air strength was ahead of ours.

Because of this, Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg, air chief of staff, argued inside the joint chiefs of staff that the air force must have 143 air groups, and the joint chiefs supported him.

Slow Military Production

In the final showdown, however, Defense Mobilizer Wilson urged a slower build-up, and when the matter went to the White House, President Truman backed him up. Instead of building 143 air groups by the end of 1953, they will now be built by the end of 1954.

What happened regarding airplanes also happened regarding other military goods. The entire program was stretched out. The ultimate goals remained the same, but the number of years for fulfillment was prolonged.

This was partly the fault of the military. Their own slowness of production cut the ground from under the joint chiefs of staff. For, though the joint chiefs continued to urge quicker mobilization, their own military production men could not decide on types of planes and tanks, dickered back and forth over blueprints and did not spend the money they had.

Arms production, when bossed by the military, always has been inefficient, and today $39,000,000,000 of last year's appropriations remain unspent. In other words, though the joint chiefs of staff want quicker mobilization, the generals and admirals in charge of ordnance, procurement and planning have not been able to get into high gear.

Thus the joint chiefs of staff are pulled back by top civilians on one hand and their own production general and admirals on the other. That's why we've sent only a trickle of weapons abroad, and that's why the air force is so far behind Russia's today that we probably couldn't afford to risk bombing China.

New Hampshire Primary Puts President Truman in Position to Insist on 'Draft'

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, March 12—When President Truman let it be known, both before and after the New Hampshire primary, that the outcome there would not affect his decision whether or not to run, it was one way of saying that the Democratic party in the nation rather than any single state would have to choose the Democratic party's nominee.

Mr. Truman is in the position of virtually compelling the issue to be decided by a "draft." The first step naturally is for the President to overcome the objection that a Chief Executive, through the use of the party machinery, can dictate his own renomination. At the same time he must clear away the objection that points to the constitutional amendment which bars everybody else from serving longer than ten years, though technically it doesn't cover his case.

What better way, therefore, than for Mr. Truman to announce soon that he "does not choose to run," which is the language President Coolidge used in 1928. Then Mr. Truman can wait for the sentiment inside the Democratic party to crystallize. Once he has said he does not want the Presidential office again, it would presumably be the party and not any individual, with political strength obtained through the Presidency, which would bring about the Truman renomination.

So far as the third-term argument is concerned, this, too, falls by the wayside if the Democratic party says the President shall be named again. It doesn't dispose of this issue for the campaign itself, but certainly the President would be able to say, as Gen. Eisenhower has been saying, that he must respond to the "call of duty." If the nomination by the Republican party is a strong enough reason for a commanding general in an important post to leave his task to run for office, so might Mr. Truman and his friends say that the call from a Democratic party convention is just as strongly a matter of duty which supersedes personal convenience, comfort or desire.

When Mr. Truman flippantly called the New Hampshire primary "eyewash," he was thinking, of course, of the little influence that primaries have nowadays on party conventions. The press and radio and television have whipped up considerable interest in the primaries, but veteran politicos will not concede that anything is really decided by the popular vote in present-day primaries.

The New Hampshire primary will, however, have these effects so far as the Republican race for the nomination is concerned:

1. Gen. Eisenhower doesn't have to do any active campaigning in the other states. He has demonstrated his vote-getting ability and, though he had the Republican state organization back of him, it nevertheless proves that his name has an immense popular appeal even against the aggressive stumping of opponents like Sen. Taft and former Gov. Stassen.

2. Sen. Taft's backers, although naturally disappointed, didn't really expect to win New Hampshire and will make a strong showing in other states, which will bring the contest into a deadlock status by convention time. This particular primary result does not permit any one to write off any candidate when there are so many other primaries to come and so many delegates yet to be chosen who are not bound by or selected through primaries.

3. Strategy in future primary contests will be to avoid entering those in states where the opposition is overwhelming. It would not be surprising to see Taft and Eisenhower managers picking their primary spots more carefully in the future.

4. It will become increasingly important for the managers of the rival candidates to choose men of prominence to go on the ballot as delegates. In New Hampshire Gov. Adams and the Republican leaders of the state were on the ballot and also carried the brunt of the campaign.

5. The split inside the Republican party may widen if the kind of campaign just waged in New Hampshire is repeated in other states. It could mean that if Eisenhower is not nominated and the party nominee isn't sufficiently international in his viewpoint to command all the Eisenhower support, a substantial segment might switch to a Democratic nominee other than Truman.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Rome—I have just finished the spiritual task of signing my income tax returns and mailing the appropriate checks. I discover that during the last year I worked about six months for my "governments," federal and state. At a glance this would seem to leave the earnings from the other six months' work for myself, but that is not the case. Roughly two-fifths of this remainder is committed to employes and dependents, to taxes other than the income taxes, and to insurance. I find that, for myself, I can figure on about 30 per cent of the income, most of which I earn by very hard, exacting work. I get a little of my income from dividends, having sold my government bonds because, under inflation, they were a losing investment.

The companies which pay me the stock dividends all pay income taxes before I come in for my share. Some of them have obligations to pay large pensions to high-salaried executives who rigged these deals for themselves at the expense of us stockholders, in their board-meetings. In some cases, the lesser employes of the companies have been let in for pensions, too.

The executives began to develop social conscience after they had voted themselves the big fat pensions. The unions said that there was no human or social difference between a chairman or a vice-president at a big desk and a manual worker at a lathe, for example. This embarrassed the high executives so they took the broad, humane view and signed up. That is, they committed us stockholders, who had bought the stock with money we had saved by self-denial, after paying our taxes and meeting our family responsibilities, to pay pensions to the horny-handed types. But nobody ever has brought in any proposal of pensions for us stockholders. We don't begin to figure at all until federal and state taxes of all kinds and pensions for executives and toilers have been paid. Then we get our dividends if there is any money left. We take all the risk.

If there aren't any dividends, that is our tough luck. If a stock that cost $50 a share goes down to $10, well, that is just the way it goes, eh? But if it goes up and we sell at a profit, that profit is taxable either as income or as capital gain.

So, the first 70 cents of every dollar I get is ear-marked, most of it for "government." I don't get a sandwich or a roof to shelter me from the snow or rain until I am taxed down to the last 30 cents of each dollar.

This comes home to me with particular poignance over here in Europe. In my recent inquiries at Bonn and Bad Godesberg, on the Rhine, I found State Department errand boys—errand boys, mind you, although they are called couriers—getting $60 a week and free living quarters in new, model furnished apartments paid for by my income taxes and yours. It is the fashion now to build modernistic apartment houses to accommodate hordes of parasites who make up the unseen bureaucracy of our State Department in the far places of the world. I don't like to be personal about these types. There may be some competent people among them who could get by off a campus or outside a political edifice, but I will tell you this, that the majority are true New Deal Washington leeches. You sprinkle bug-powder in one department and they scurry through the cracks to another. Strike down one department absolutely and another department opens up in the same premises with the same people. As Leon Dayton, the chief of our Mutual Security Administration in Rome, said the other day, when the ECA expired and mutual security opened up, they just changed the names on the doors.

Up at Bonn and Godesberg we built this compound in obeisance to a State Department decision that wherever American bureaucrats roam abroad these days and, presumably, henceforth forever, their money will buy less than it would at home. So, our civilian employes and the families of our military people live in rented quarters for which they are allowed rent bonuses. The State Department is now planning to build similar compounds in many other foreign cities and there is a very frank implication that our colonies of bureaucrats will grow and grow. Rent will be free, as at Bonn, and the practise of providing groceries, fresh meat, lollipops, cosmetics, and golf balls at cheaper prices than American retail and of knocking off the regular American taxes on cigarettes and booze now has the force of law. The bosses get free limousines, chauffeurs and gasoline. We are told that if our bureaucrats don't get these luxuries, which many of them have sold in the black markets, they will quit and leave us flat. I wish to hell we could count on that. In Madrid some of them even black-marketed automobiles.

I am certain as one can be of any thing in this life that the American people will reject anyone, whoever he may be, who would turn back the clock.

The American Army and Air Force are outrageously pampered with family allowances and special "commutations" which made these the most expensive forces in the history of arms, even before the recent proposals of new raises. A group picture which reached Europe the other day showed a man with nine children, the family of an air force sergeant, who were fixing to go to England. If any sergeant is worth the cost that such a family imposes on the public, he shouldn't be a sergeant but at least a major general. But no sergeant is worth that much. And, anyway, why send him overseas where he is automatically entitled to the expensive family accommodations that the stupid regulations lay down?

Like civil service parasites in the labyrinth of Washington and county buildings across the land, the career people in the enlisted ranks are letter perfect in the complex tables of their dues and privileges. They spend much of their mental energy counting up. A corporal in an M.P. company driving a car at SHAPE, outside Paris, told me he had saved $400 in 18 months and expected to have $500 when he was paid off at the end of his two year hitch as a draftee. Until he joined up he never had a dollar. He said he probably wouldn't have accumulated $25 in the same time in civil life.

Eisenhower and other generals all recognize the ruinous extravagance of the rates of pay and allowances for enlisted men but they are afraid to utter a word.

In Rome, the propaganda machine already has hoked up a big program of "documentary" movies to show what wonderful work the devouring horde of campus bums and press-agents, rejected from our journalism for general uselessness, have done in bringing Italy to the brink of Communist insurrection seven years after a tragic force of poor Joes turned the country over to them at the end of a bloody war. Do you know what they are going to do with these "documentaries" now? The State Department will supply them as free material to commercial television producers, as though we, the taxpayers, needed "indoctrination" from the State Department.

And, of course, none of these privileged parties expects ever to have to get along on the miserable dole of the old age pension fake which is the mirage of our so-called Social Security. The civilian parasites, including judges and congressman and notably Harry Truman, clerks and cops, all have much more generous arrangements awaiting them. I am a member of that very small class who can look forward to no more than $42 a month when I am 65—provided, of course, that I am willing to forego gainful toil in excess of $400 a year.

Held for Quarter Theft

New York, March 13 (AP) — A veteran bank employe has been accused of pocketing $800 in quarters over an eight-year period. Fred Edward Reidel, 57, employed for 30 years by the Hanover Bank, was arrested yesterday and charged with embezzlement in violation of the Federal Reserve Act. An FBI spokesman said Reidel, assistant head of the bank's coin department, had been assigned to count quarters arriving for deposit. When seized, the spokesman said, Reidel had $35.25 in quarters in his pockets. Held in $1,000 bail by a federal commissioner, Reidel, faces a possible five-year prison term and a $5,000 fine or both, if convicted.

Cheer Ryan Acquittal

San Luis Obispo, Calif., March 13 (AP)—A tense courtroom crowd, its impatience mounting with the hours, shouted and cheered as Mrs. Margaret Ryan was acquitted last night of manslaughter. A jury of nine men and three women deliberated four hours and 16 minutes before freeing the wealthy former New York socialite. She was charged with manslaughter of Leonard D. Ray, 22, a trespasser on her ranch, last June. The jurors accepted Mrs. Ryan's story of self-defense; of having fired three warning shots; of finally having shot Ray when he threatened her with a rifle. It was her second trial. A jury in the first failed to agree on a verdict last November.

The painting in the Prado Museum in Madrid were removed and hidden during the Spanish Civil War of 1936-39.

German Visionary

Prof. Wernher von Braun (above), young German genius who made the seemingly impossible V-2, has another creation in mind. There will be no iron curtain anywhere if his dream comes true. The vision is a military space station, a tiny man-made moon 1,075 miles up, which each day will see every square mile of earth's inhabited surface and the people moving around as clearly as from a plane at 5,000 feet. The satellite will circle the earth once every two hours.

German Visionary

Prof. Wernher von Braun (above), young German genius who made the seemingly impossible V-2, has another creation in mind. There will be no iron curtain anywhere if his dream comes true. The vision is a military space station, a tiny man-made moon 1,075 miles up, which each day will see every square mile of earth's inhabited surface and the people moving around as clearly as from a plane at 5,000 feet. The satellite will circle the earth once every two hours.

A fellow went up to the gate of a nudist camp on a chilly day and asked to be admitted.

Guard—Nothing doing. This is a nudist camp. You can't come in here with that blue suit on.

Visitor—This isn't a blue suit. I'm cold.

One thing about a rubber check is that the man who writes one can be sure of a long stretch.

Botany Teacher — Now class; when do leaves turn red?

Students—In the autumn.

Teacher—Why do leaves turn red in the autumn?

Small voice (from back of room) —They're blushing to think how green they've been all summer.

It is appropriate that most of the football games are played on holler-days.

Minister—Well, now that you have looked it over, what will you charge me for fixing my car?

Mechanic—Well, that depends. It will be $20 if you stay here while I fix it, or $5 if you get out of hearing distance.

Benjamin Franklin, having been touched by an impecunious relative to the extent of $50, was asked for a sheet of paper so that the borrower could give him a note for the amount.

Franklin—What! Do you want to waste my stationery as well as my money?

Pegram—A fellow out our way got a black eye for kissing a bride after the ceremony.

Friend—But surely her husband shouldn't object to that ancient custom.

Pegram—No. But it was two years after the ceremony.

When you dress up in your best and visit the home of the host and find him with no coat on and his sleeves rolled up you think you have wasted a lot of time.

First Actor—I can't get into my shoes.

Second Actor — What! Feet swelled, too?

Dizzy Dope thinks fallen women are the ones you see on a slippery pavement.

They say that money talks, but why forever in whispers?

Electrical Store Clerk—But, madam, what is your objection to using an electric flatiron?

Woman Customer — You can throw it only the length of the cord.

First Bachelor—See how the bride is blushing?

Second Bachelor — Blushing, nothing. That's the first flush of victory.

First mink—What do you want for your birthday?

Second mink—A coat made up of chorus girls!

To Launch Fifth Barge on Friday

The fifth barge launched in about two months by Island Dock, Inc., is scheduled to go into the Rondout creek at 2 p. m. tomorrow.

The craft designated as BC 6154 will be sponsored by Mrs. Barbara Gauthier, of Hurley, secretary to Lt. Commander John Bartlett, U. S. Navy inspection official.

Youth Bitten by Dog

Peter, the three-year-old son of Arthur and Marie Passanando of Little Italy road, Highland, was severely bitten by a dog on a neighboring farm, state police reported. Troopers said Peter and his brother, Arthur, 5, were playing together about 1:30 p. m. Wednesday, and they apparently entered the coop containing a female dog and her puppies. The mother dog inflicted severe bites to the younger boy's head, ears, arms and legs, troopers said. Peter was taken to Vassar Brothers Hospital in Poughkeepsie for treatment, and was returned to his home later in the afternoon.

It is theoretically possible for one pair of Australian rabbits to have 20,000,000 descendants within five years.

To Launch Fifth Barge on Friday

The craft designated as BC 6154 will be sponsored by Mrs. Barbara Gauthier, of Hurley, secretary to Lt. Commander John Bartlett, U. S. Navy inspection official.

Youth Bitten by Dog

Peter, the three-year-old son of Arthur and Marie Passanando of Little Italy road, Highland, was severely bitten by a dog on a neighboring farm, state police reported. Troopers said Peter and his brother, Arthur, 5, were playing together about 1:30 p. m. Wednesday, and they apparently entered the coop containing a female dog and her puppies. The mother dog inflicted severe bites to the younger boy's head, ears, arms and legs, troopers said. Peter was taken to Vassar Brothers Hospital in Poughkeepsie for treatment, and was returned to his home later in the afternoon.

It is theoretically possible for one pair of Australian rabbits to have 20,000,000 descendants within five years.

Bill Likely to Die

Albany, N. Y., March 13 (AP)—Republican legislative sources indicated today that the Travia-Erwin bills to drastically regulate political contributions by labor unions would be killed. New Paltz, March 13 — The Singing Boys of Norway will present a concert in the auditorium of New Paltz State Teachers College March 17 and 18 at 8:30 p. m., under the auspices of the New Paltz Artist Series. The group is one of the most famous European choirs. Known in Scandinavia as the Olavsguttene, they come to America for the first time in 1952 as part of the celebration of their 25th anniversary as an organization, and during the 10 weeks of their concert tour here, they will sing in 60 cities throughout the east, south, and midwest.

The Singing Boys of Norway is one of the largest of the boys choirs to tour the country. There are 52 singers: boy singers who are the first and second sopranos and altos, and first and second tenors and basses who are young men between the ages of 19 and 25 who formerly were members of the soprano and alto groups.

New Paltz, March 13—Choral conductor at the fourth annual Choral Clinic at New Paltz State Teachers College March 29 will be John D. Raymond, director of music at Lafayette College, Easton, Pa.

Following a day of intensive rehearsals, the group will present a joint public concert with the clinic string group. The concert, free of charge, is scheduled for 8:30 p. m. in the auditorium of the State Teachers College. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Financial and Commercial

New York, March 13 (AP)—The stock market presented a mixed price pattern today with steels heading the upside contingent and chemicals displaying some of the greatest losses.

Prices spread out over a range of between 1 and 2 points either way with some notable exceptions.

New York & Harlem Railroad, controlled by the New York Central, opened off 5 points at 545 and the next sale was at 565 points.

Amerada Petroleum fell back between 7 and 8 points at times. Most other ois, however, were a bit higher.

Steels went through a mid-morning buying flurry that added fractions, apparently under the stimulation of the report that a price increase is in the offing as a prelude to a grant of higher wages to the CIO Steelworkers Union.

Motors were mostly higher, although gains were small and General Motors traded unchanged for long periods.

The railroads, leaders of so many recent markets, turned mixed over a narrow range.

Saugerties Water

September 1, 1951, when usually consumption increases.

The board member pointed out that the books of the department balanced and there was no error in the accounting. "There was nothing wrong but we had only a $41.25 balance," he continued. This fact, he said, caused the board to consider and ask for an increase in rates. The rate was increased 25 per cent. He said no irregularities had been charged against the water board accounting.

Points Out Error

Charging 25 per cent additional for the excess water used over the minimum meter charge for the six months prior to the time the increased rate had been put into effect, it was stated, had been an error and this error is being corrected through issuance of new water bills. Those who have already paid their bills will be refunded the excess charge.

The Saugerties Water Board fiscal year runs from March first to the last of February.

Financial and Commercial

New York, March 13 (AP)—The stock market presented a mixed price pattern today with steels heading the upside contingent and chemicals displaying some of the greatest losses.

Prices spread out over a range of between 1 and 2 points either way with some notable exceptions.

New York & Harlem Railroad, controlled by the New York Central, opened off 5 points at 545 and the next sale was at 565 points.

Amerada Petroleum fell back between 7 and 8 points at times. Most other ois, however, were a bit higher.

Steels went through a mid-morning buying flurry that added fractions, apparently under the stimulation of the report that a price increase is in the offing as a prelude to a grant of higher wages to the CIO Steelworkers Union.

Motors were mostly higher, although gains were small and General Motors traded unchanged for long periods.

The railroads, leaders of so many recent markets, turned mixed over a narrow range.

Saugerties Water

September 1, 1951, when usually consumption increases.

The board member pointed out that the books of the department balanced and there was no error in the accounting. "There was nothing wrong but we had only a $41.25 balance," he continued. This fact, he said, caused the board to consider and ask for an increase in rates. The rate was increased 25 per cent. He said no irregularities had been charged against the water board accounting.

Points Out Error

Charging 25 per cent additional for the excess water used over the minimum meter charge for the six months prior to the time the increased rate had been put into effect, it was stated, had been an error and this error is being corrected through issuance of new water bills. Those who have already paid their bills will be refunded the excess charge.

The Saugerties Water Board fiscal year runs from March first to the last of February.

THE RUMINATOR

By HUMPHREY B. NEILL

A Column of Contrary Opinion

There are two political developments—one domestic and one foreign — that could have unlooked-for influences upon our defense program, the foreign-aid contribution, and upon NATO.

The first—the primary campaign in New Hampshire — you will know about before you read this (although I am writing it the day before). The second — the French political impasse may drag on for many weeks, or it may come to a head overnight.

If Senator Taft wins the "popularity contest" in New Hampshire and also secures a fair number of the delegates pledged to him, this might well have considerable weight in the debates about to begin in the Congress on both the President's 85-billion-dollar budget and also his nearly eight-billion-dollar foreign-aid proposal. (This latter is now to be called the "Mutual Security Program." Washington gives a great deal of thought to semantics, for propaganda reasons. Mutual security is a far more attractive expression than foreign aid, and will be less objected to, no doubt—although it will cost us just as much, if not more!)

The Congress is becoming more sensitive to public opinion upon spending (for which let us be thankful). If the trend of voting in New Hampshire should indicate a public reaction against continued and additional arms and defense spending in western Europe—which, it seems to me, a responsive vote for Taft would imply—then I think you will find your senators and congressmen more likely to slice the budget and the "mutual security" program.

On the other hand, if General Eisenhower wins a clean sweep in New Hampshire, it would indicate, I should think, a strong public approval of continued intervention in foreign affairs. So, entirely aside from the inferences to be drawn on our next presidential Republican candidate, the New Hampshire primaries will be significant. These primaries come at a timely moment, too, as the debates are only just beginning in Washington.

As a matter of fact, and contrary to the chief interest centered in New Hampshire, I think the influences from the voting are more important on our international policies than upon the hints as to a possible future president.

Your newspapers have been pretty full of comments by leading members of the Congress regarding slashing of expenses. The Joint Congressional Committee on the Economic Report are talking about a $10,000,000,000 cut in the budget. Likewise, there is talk of slicing a billion or two off the $7,900,000,000 foreign-aid (mutual-security) program.

This is BIG money, although we haven't much conception of what billions mean.

When you stop to recall that a fourteen-billion-dollar deficit has been forecast for the fiscal year of 1952-1953, you can see that perhaps we shall not have much, if any, deficit. This assumes that some sizeable cuts will be made—which is somewhat wishful thinking in an election year! However, added to the possibility of a slash in the budgets, is the fact that the defense program is far behind in time, and the total billions may never be spent in the year and a half ahead. The "stretch-out" they talk about is likely to conserve some billions in the months ahead—although they may be stretched out farther in the future, of course.

Turning to the French influence, the growing power of General Charles de Gaulle must be watched intently. General de Gaulle, as you know, is anti about everything our western European plans call for. He would certainly throw a monkey wrench into the NATO plans initiated at Lisbon, and into almost all our policies abroad.

At the moment of writing de Gaulle is not in the top position in France. However, the Premiership could fall into his lap if France is unable to form a government of the coalition parties. The next few days, or weeks, will tell the story. In the meantime, the new Premier, Antoine Pinay, may have "fallen" before you read this, as his financial policies (including another devaluation of the franc) may floor him in the National Assembly.

Thus it is today. We have to learn to look abroad as well as at home to guess on trends. And the worst of it is we're not educated as "internationalists" and have a poor comprehension of "foreign affairs."

It should be added in this discussion of political trends that each additional influence that acts as a draw-back to our defense program also acts as a further influence upon deflation. The trends toward deflation have already set in and we need to be watchful for an increase in momentum.

Critical Broadcaster Fired

Kuala Lumpur, Malaya (AP) — The bearded broadcaster who has been described as the government's "official gadfly" is about to lose his job as chief news editor of the government-controlled Radio-Malaya. He is Alex Josey, who was barred from the air several months ago because some of the members of the Federal Legislative Council didn't like his socialistic views on nationalizing rubber and stringing criticism of government mistakes. Acting Chief Secretary D. C. Watherston announced in the legislative council recently that Josey's government contract would not be renewed.

More Bicycles for Russia

Moscow (AP)—About a third more bicycles are to be made in Russia this year than last. The chief administration of the motorcycle and cycle industry said new schedules also call for the production this year of a "tourist tandem."

THE RUMINATOR

By HUMPHREY B. NEILL

A Column of Contrary Opinion

There are two political developments—one domestic and one foreign — that could have unlooked-for influences upon our defense program, the foreign-aid contribution, and upon NATO.

The first—the primary campaign in New Hampshire — you will know about before you read this (although I am writing it the day before). The second — the French political impasse may drag on for many weeks, or it may come to a head overnight.

If Senator Taft wins the "popularity contest" in New Hampshire and also secures a fair number of the delegates pledged to him, this might well have considerable weight in the debates about to begin in the Congress on both the President's 85-billion-dollar budget and also his nearly eight-billion-dollar foreign-aid proposal. (This latter is now to be called the "Mutual Security Program." Washington gives a great deal of thought to semantics, for propaganda reasons. Mutual security is a far more attractive expression than foreign aid, and will be less objected to, no doubt—although it will cost us just as much, if not more!)

The Congress is becoming more sensitive to public opinion upon spending (for which let us be thankful). If the trend of voting in New Hampshire should indicate a public reaction against continued and additional arms and defense spending in western Europe—which, it seems to me, a responsive vote for Taft would imply—then I think you will find your senators and congressmen more likely to slice the budget and the "mutual security" program.

On the other hand, if General Eisenhower wins a clean sweep in New Hampshire, it would indicate, I should think, a strong public approval of continued intervention in foreign affairs. So, entirely aside from the inferences to be drawn on our next presidential Republican candidate, the New Hampshire primaries will be significant. These primaries come at a timely moment, too, as the debates are only just beginning in Washington.

As a matter of fact, and contrary to the chief interest centered in New Hampshire, I think the influences from the voting are more important on our international policies than upon the hints as to a possible future president.

Your newspapers have been pretty full of comments by leading members of the Congress regarding slashing of expenses. The Joint Congressional Committee on the Economic Report are talking about a $10,000,000,000 cut in the budget. Likewise, there is talk of slicing a billion or two off the $7,900,000,000 foreign-aid (mutual-security) program.

This is BIG money, although we haven't much conception of what billions mean.

When you stop to recall that a fourteen-billion-dollar deficit has been forecast for the fiscal year of 1952-1953, you can see that perhaps we shall not have much, if any, deficit. This assumes that some sizeable cuts will be made—which is somewhat wishful thinking in an election year! However, added to the possibility of a slash in the budgets, is the fact that the defense program is far behind in time, and the total billions may never be spent in the year and a half ahead. The "stretch-out" they talk about is likely to conserve some billions in the months ahead—although they may be stretched out farther in the future, of course.

Turning to the French influence, the growing power of General Charles de Gaulle must be watched intently. General de Gaulle, as you know, is anti about everything our western European plans call for. He would certainly throw a monkey wrench into the NATO plans initiated at Lisbon, and into almost all our policies abroad.

At the moment of writing de Gaulle is not in the top position in France. However, the Premiership could fall into his lap if France is unable to form a government of the coalition parties. The next few days, or weeks, will tell the story. In the meantime, the new Premier, Antoine Pinay, may have "fallen" before you read this, as his financial policies (including another devaluation of the franc) may floor him in the National Assembly.

Thus it is today. We have to learn to look abroad as well as at home to guess on trends. And the worst of it is we're not educated as "internationalists" and have a poor comprehension of "foreign affairs."

It should be added in this discussion of political trends that each additional influence that acts as a draw-back to our defense program also acts as a further influence upon deflation. The trends toward deflation have already set in and we need to be watchful for an increase in momentum.

Critical Broadcaster Fired

Kuala Lumpur, Malaya (AP) — The bearded broadcaster who has been described as the government's "official gadfly" is about to lose his job as chief news editor of the government-controlled Radio-Malaya. He is Alex Josey, who was barred from the air several months ago because some of the members of the Federal Legislative Council didn't like his socialistic views on nationalizing rubber and stringing criticism of government mistakes. Acting Chief Secretary D. C. Watherston announced in the legislative council recently that Josey's government contract would not be renewed.

More Bicycles for Russia

Moscow (AP)—About a third more bicycles are to be made in Russia this year than last. The chief administration of the motorcycle and cycle industry said new schedules also call for the production this year of a "tourist tandem."

Y Staffs Convene In Kingston Today

About 15 representatives from the various YMCAs in the Hudson Valley are attending a discussion program today at the local Y building on Broadway.

Included in the out-of-town visitors are William Baumgarten, associate general secretary of the New York State YMCAs and Raymond Williams, state physical education director.

The group discussion program today is on Professional Practices of the YMCA Staffs.

Representatives will be on hand from Kingston, Poughkeepsie, Newburgh, Port Jervis, Nyack, Middletown and Orange county.

Obe May, of Orange county, president of the area group, will preside.

Principals at Hurley Commerce Dinner

ket," Livingston declared. "We have our high standard of living because we have a vast industrial system in this country that converts raw or unfinished materials into useful products, which are the true wealth."

"Progress is possible only so long as it is the wish and the will of the people to maintain these conditions to keep it alive," he said.

One of the new developments Livingston discussed was Titanium, a metal which has many of the desirable properties of stainless steel but is only about half as heavy. He also demonstrated a new man-made fiber which is on the way out of the laboratory. Known as "Orlon" acrylic fiber, it is a tough, resilient fiber which is now being produced only on a small scale. As soon as duPont can complete construction of a new plant at Camden, S. C., to manufacture it, the new material is expected to find numerous uses in the textile field. its resistance to degradation by sunlight, for example, should make it a better material for use in awnings, automobile tops and other outdoor uses.

Many Help Produce

Developments which help create better living everywhere "do not come into being and change our way of life overnight," the speaker said. "They enter into our everyday living and business activities only after a large number of forces and individuals have had a chance to play their respective parts and make their contributions."

Terming the duPont Company as one of America's big businesses, Livingston said, "we are proud of this bigness, because under the American system today only a concern which satisfies its customers can become big." He pointed out that 88 per cent of duPont's production is sold to other companies, most of them small, for processing into consumer items.

One of many interesting sidelights brought out by Livingston in a talk that was both entertaining and informative was the fact, according to a government report, that prior to the advent of rayon, the average woman in the United States had one good dress, but today that same average woman has seven good dresses."

Probe Two Entries

State police BCI men from Highland are investigating two reports of illegal entries at gasoline stations on Route 9W this morning. Amodio Cappola reported that his station one and a half miles south of the Highland traffic circle had been entered some time during the night when someone broke a door window and reached inside to unlatch the door. Entered in similar fashion was the gasoline station of James Sleight on the traffic circle, Sleight reported to troopers this morning. Troopers and the owners were checking this morning to determine the loss.

Is Fined $10

Glenn Albert Hice, 38, of Baltimore, Md., was fined $10 by Justice of the Peace Francis Palen of Port Ewen when he was arraigned Wednesday on a charge of operating an unregistered trailer. State police of Highland reported they arrested Hice after investigating a minor accident in which his tractor-trailer ran off Route 9W two miles south of Port Ewen and became mired in the mud about 9:30 a. m. Wednesday. Hice told troopers he swerved off the highway to avoid collision with an unknown automobile. No injuries were reported.

Y Staffs Convene In Kingston Today

About 15 representatives from the various YMCAs in the Hudson Valley are attending a discussion program today at the local Y building on Broadway.

Included in the out-of-town visitors are William Baumgarten, associate general secretary of the New York State YMCAs and Raymond Williams, state physical education director.

The group discussion program today is on Professional Practices of the YMCA Staffs.

Representatives will be on hand from Kingston, Poughkeepsie, Newburgh, Port Jervis, Nyack, Middletown and Orange county.

Those who took a major part in the dinner meeting of the Town of Hurley Chamber of Commerce at which Larry F. Livingston, manager of the du Pont Company's extension division was principal speaker, were front row, l. to r., James Stoutenburgh, Henry Battenfeld, Walter Stauble, Roger H. Loughran, Emil Braun and Mr. Livingston. Rear, Charles Relyea, Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk, James F. Loughran, Harry Krom, John Saxe. (Freeman Photo)

ket," Livingston declared. "We have our high standard of living because we have a vast industrial system in this country that converts raw or unfinished materials into useful products, which are the true wealth."

"Progress is possible only so long as it is the wish and the will of the people to maintain these conditions to keep it alive," he said.

One of the new developments Livingston discussed was Titanium, a metal which has many of the desirable properties of stainless steel but is only about half as heavy. He also demonstrated a new man-made fiber which is on the way out of the laboratory. Known as "Orlon" acrylic fiber, it is a tough, resilient fiber which is now being produced only on a small scale. As soon as duPont can complete construction of a new plant at Camden, S. C., to manufacture it, the new material is expected to find numerous uses in the textile field. its resistance to degradation by sunlight, for example, should make it a better material for use in awnings, automobile tops and other outdoor uses.

Many Help Produce

Developments which help create better living everywhere "do not come into being and change our way of life overnight," the speaker said. "They enter into our everyday living and business activities only after a large number of forces and individuals have had a chance to play their respective parts and make their contributions."

Terming the duPont Company as one of America's big businesses, Livingston said, "we are proud of this bigness, because under the American system today only a concern which satisfies its customers can become big." He pointed out that 88 per cent of duPont's production is sold to other companies, most of them small, for processing into consumer items.

One of many interesting sidelights brought out by Livingston in a talk that was both entertaining and informative was the fact, according to a government report, that prior to the advent of rayon, the average woman in the United States had one good dress, but today that same average woman has seven good dresses."

Probe Two Entries

State police BCI men from Highland are investigating two reports of illegal entries at gasoline stations on Route 9W this morning. Amodio Cappola reported that his station one and a half miles south of the Highland traffic circle had been entered some time during the night when someone broke a door window and reached inside to unlatch the door. Entered in similar fashion was the gasoline station of James Sleight on the traffic circle, Sleight reported to troopers this morning. Troopers and the owners were checking this morning to determine the loss.

Is Fined $10

Glenn Albert Hice, 38, of Baltimore, Md., was fined $10 by Justice of the Peace Francis Palen of Port Ewen when he was arraigned Wednesday on a charge of operating an unregistered trailer. State police of Highland reported they arrested Hice after investigating a minor accident in which his tractor-trailer ran off Route 9W two miles south of Port Ewen and became mired in the mud about 9:30 a. m. Wednesday. Hice told troopers he swerved off the highway to avoid collision with an unknown automobile. No injuries were reported.

MISS JEAN LIVINGSTON

Announcement has been made of the engagement of Miss Jean Livingston, daughter of Mrs. Samuel Livingston, 46 Downs street, and the late Mr. Livingston, to Ronald C. Diers, U. S. Navy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Diers, 213 Abeel street. No date has been set for the wedding.

The bride-elect is a student at Kingston High School, in the senior class. Mr. Diers enlisted in the U. S. Navy in January, 1951, and is stationed with the medical corps in North Carolina.

Plans Public Hearing

Lloyd R. LeFever, town attorney for the town of Ulster, has been empowered by the town board to draw up necessary papers for a public hearing on the question of whether or not the town should have an ordinance regulating junk yards. Authorization for the hearing was contained in a resolution adopted by the board at its meeting March 6, after several board members reported receiving complaints as to the conduct of junk yards in the township. No date has been set for the hearing.

Watch Sutton Mail

New York, March 13 (AP)—Police turned today to mail addressed to bank robber Willie (The Actor) Sutton—and his mother—for a clue to threats surrounding the slaying of tipster Arnold Schuster. Authorities at Queens city prison where Sutton is being held confiscated all mail addressed to him. Police also kept a watch at the home of his aged mother, Mrs. Mary Sutton, on the chance that some mail to Sutton may have been addressed there.

Two Days Grace Is Granted Taxpayers

The deadline for filing Federal income tax returns is next Monday, St. Patrick's Day. The two days of grace are given because the 15th falls this year on Saturday.

In the case of taxpayers using the short Form 1040A computation will be made by machine some time after the taxpayer has turned in the single yellow sheet listing his earnings and number of legal exemptions and accompanied by his withholding statements. After processing, refunds or bills for payment will be sent to the taxpayer.

It is estimated that more than 90 per cent of the short form users, who are permitted to claim standard rather than itemized deductions will receive refunds. The others will receive bills, payable within thirty days.

Pay Hike Approved

Washington, March 13 (AP)—The Wage Stabilization Board ruled today that pay rates covering between three and four million construction industry workers may be increased by 15 cents an hour during 1952. The WSB announced a unanimous decision establishing a new wage policy for the industry. The policy had been recommended unanimously by the WSB's separate construction industry stabihlization commission, which handles wage stabilization for that industry.

Decision Reserved By Zoning Board

The city's zoning board last night reserved decision following hearing on the application of about 50 residents of an area near the Olson Roofing Company at 75-77 Pine street to disallow conduct of that business on the property owned by R. J. Hohenberger.

The board disallowed an application by L. S. Gray to erect a billboard at Broadway and East Chester street.

Members of the Board, Attorney Joseph Avis, chairman, Fred J. Baker, and Attorney Thomas Saccoman, said they would inspect the property housing the Olson business on Pine street before making a decision on the application of the petitioners.

The property owner and the Olson company were represented at the hearing and about 20 of the petitioners appeared in opposition. The roofing company moved to the Pine street property early this year.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Bid Is Important For Good Bridge

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

When the hand shown today was played in the recent Life Master Pair Championship, most North-South pairs reached a contract of three no-trump. South made the normal opening bid of two no-trump and North raised to three no-trump.

This was a rather poor contract. If West took it into his head to open a diamond (which was done at a few tables), South cannot make three no-trump. He cannot run nine tricks at once, and the moment he lets an opponent gain the lead he is buried under an avalanche of diamonds. This might delight a jeweler, but not a bridge player.

At four spades, however, South cannot be beaten. He loses at most one trump, one heart, and one diamond.

Even if the tournament angle of overtrick is considered, the contract of four spades is still superior to three no-trump. Without the fatal diamond opening lead, South can make four no-trump. But if South plays the hand at four spades and gets any lead but a diamond he can make five spades, which is better than four no-trump.

Opening lead—♣ 3

Either at rubber bridge or at tournament bridge, therefore, the contract of four spades is superior to three no-trump. How should it be bid?

North's response of three clubs, as shown in today's hand, is part of the Stayman Convention. South is expected to re-bid in a major suit if he has a biddable four-card major. Without a four-card (or longer) major suit, South would simply re-bid three no-trump, and North would pass.

Since South actually has both majors, he shows his spades first. That happens to strike North's fitting four-card holding, so North raises to game, and the problem is solved.

What would happen if North happened to have four hearts instead of four spades? South would still make the same re-bid of three spades, since he would not know that his partner had four hearts instead of four spades.

North would then go to three no-trump, and South would try again with a bid of four hearts. This would strike the fit, and North could pass with satisfaction.

Employment Here

41 Hanratty Street,
Kingston, N. Y.

Editor, The Freeman:

It makes me rather happy to read of the conditions regarding employment in Kingston. It gives me the opportunity to speak for myself and many of my friends residing here.

I settled in Kingston four years ago only to find myself going from one job to another being terminated for lack of work or resigning because of insufficient pay. I held five different jobs in one year. I had to seek employment after the first year out of town and fortunately got a job that is steady, pays well and provides sickness benefits. The sad part of this job is traveling such a long distance every day. No one likes to spend more time than necessary getting to and from work.

Since coming to Kingston, I have grown to like it as a place to live. It has the necessities of a good community including a variety of entertainment. For me, it has some of the best hunting and fishing, not too far distant, in the whole United States.

Summing up the facts make me realize only one thing. I like Kingston and would without a doubt settle here permanently except for the inconsideration of "Kingston" to provide work in the city or at least nearby. All people have the right to live and live as comfortable and secure as possible. In order to seek our fortune we must go where there is opportunity. Although I would like to settle permanently in Kingston I can see no other solution to my problem and for many others like myself.

I say give the people steady work, fair pay and security and our town will most certainly prosper.

Sincerely yours,
JOSEPH L. ORLANDO.

Ismay Takes Post

London, March 13 (AP)—Lord Ismay, career-soldier and pug-nosed buddy of Prime Minister Churchill, took on today the tough job at being NATO's civilian Eisenhower. He accepted the civilian command — secretary general of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO)—after a string of other statesmen had turned it down. The 64-year-old general, quitting as Britain's secretary of state for commonwealth relations, will start work alongside Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower next month at Paris headquarters. Eisenhower will retain full control over the military. Ismay will supervise the political financial workings of the alliance.

Leaders Face Ouster

Detroit, March 13 (AP)—Heads of the CIO United Auto Workers' big Ford Local 600 faced a threat of ouster today. The union's international, acting on the heels of the House Un-American Activities Committee inquiry, accused Local 600 officers of failing to enforce union restrictions against Communists. The charge constituted a sensation in union circles. It is without precedent in the UAW. Apparently it was an outcome at least in part of the committee's inquiry. Witnesses, including UAW-CIO men, had testified that Ford Local 600, world's largest union local with 60,000 members, is under control of Communists.

WOODSTOCK NEWS

By RICHARD E. THIBAUT, Jr.

Lowengrund Exhibit Extended in New York

Woodstock, March 13 — Margaret Lowengrund, artist, summer resident of this village, and during the winter director of the Contemporaries, a gallery located at 959 Madison avenue, New York, writes that she has been enjoying an exceptionally active winter. Currently on view at the gallery is a Large Prints exhibition, described as original graphics by today's artists, which take on mural dimensions. In February a show was devoted to Painters and Their Prints, and among the exhibiting artists were Woodstockers Milton Avery and Andree Ruellan.

In addition to the gallery, there is the studio, a workshop for artists, professional or student, with instruction offered in lithography, etching and all related printing techniques. Miss Lowengrund plans a similar print shop this summer in the studio under the Woodstock Art Gallery, details of which she will announce.

The current exhibition at the Contemporaries has been so well received that it has been extended to March 23. Although many of the works in the Large Print Show were not created for the purpose of mural decoration, they are winning, according to Miss Lowengrund, a new audience among architects and decorators who vision the possibilities of large lithographs, woodcuts and engravings as modern murals.

In Chicago Show

In some instances repetition of several graphics by the same artist, equally spaced and of equal dimensions, make a striking wall. In others, long six to eight foot panels create wall interest suitable to many wide-spaced interiors. The work of Woodstock artists included in the show consists of that of Archipenko and Miss Lowengrund herself.

During February the Contemporaries held an exhibition at the Well of the Sea Gallery at the Hotel Sherman in Chicago, and work by Miss Lowengrund was included.

"My workshop here," Miss Lowengrund writes from New York, "is very like my Woodstock studio, and Woodstock artists are always dropping in either to work or to see the shows. Archipenko works here on his lithographs; Edward Millman came during his vacation from teaching in Indiana, and made a drawing on stone which I am printing in an edition of 150 prints for the Woodstock Artists Association bonus print this year.

"Andree Ruellan and John Taylor came to the opening of the current graphic show. I had a painting and several of Andree's prints in the last show, and will continue to show her etchings recently printed in France. Harry Tedlie is here working, also Marion Greenwood, and regular visitors are the Milton Averys, Myron Sokole, Jan Calamar, Rollin and Peggy Crampton. Often the place has quite a Woodstock flavor."

Jayvees Cop Close Decision by 47-43

Woodstock, March 13 — The Woodstock Jayvees won last Friday night's basketball game by 47 to 43 over the Kingston Rams. Waterous was high with 23 points, Joe Hilton next with 11, and for Kingston Bezmer scored 11 points. Woodstock was behind throughout the game with two minutes to go. Herbie Waterous tied it and Carl Van Wagenen bagged a deuce with a half a minute to go. Hilton clinched it with a basket with 15 seconds to go.

The Woodstock Varsity lost in an overtime period 69 to 68 in a game with a combination of the Elston's and Hercules teams. No one could score in the first half except Billy Waterous who was high with 25 points. Kleine had one of his poorest nights of the season, missing a large number of his shots, and finally went out in the third quarter with five personal fouls. Joe Holdridge, one of the regulars, was out of town, and the substitutes were Herbie Waterous and Carl Van Wagenen, both of whom played good games. Madajeski was high with 25 points for Kingston and Morrisey next with 19. Chester Fox was referee for both games.

The Woodstock Varsity will play Harry's Angels, the team which defeated Woodstock earlier in the season, Friday night at the Woodstock court.

Helps With Book

Woodstock, March 13—Stephani and Edward Godwin, Woodstock artists, have made the illustrations for a book for young people, The Crusade and the Cup, recently published by E. P. Dutton & Co. The romantic figures which people this tale of the Third Crusade are Richard Coeur de Lion, his lovely queen, Berengaria; the chivalrous Saladin and his equally chivalrous nephew; an Irish knight and his blind brother. Both text and illus-pageantry of the crusade.

Tickets Available

Woodstock, March 13—Tickets for the amateur night, sponsored by the Woodstock Business Association, may be obtained from any member of the association. The show will be given Thursday, March 27, at the Woodstock Town Hall, beginning at 8 p. m. From the large number of entries already received at various places of business in the village, members of the association predict a large and lively show.

Reports on Wines

Woodstock, March 13—A report by Frank Schoonmaker on American wines is included in a new book Natural Red Wines, published by The Macmillan Company, written by H. Warner Allen. A review of the book in the New York Times stated "That such a report should be written in a book principally concerned with French wines marks a milestone in the growing importance of American wines."

Causes Religious Trouble

Madrid, Spain, March 13 (AP)—The closer relations developing between the United States and Spain have caused the worst anti-Protestant wave in recent years, one of the highest Spanish Protestants declared today. This source, who asked anonymity, emphasized that the Spanish government is not backing the anti-Protestant movement. On the contrary, he said, it is extremely worried over the possible reaction on forthcoming negotiations for U. S. financial aid in return for U. S. air and naval bases here. The Protestant leader said the campaign increased sharply following President Truman's statement recently that he was not fond of the regime of Generalissimo Francisco Franco, and the explanation by former U. S. Ambassador Stanton Griffis that the President was chiefly concerned at the lack of religious liberty in this country.

Won't Require Increase

Albany, N. Y., March 13 (AP)—The state's stop-gap fiscal relief program for New York city will not require an increase in the 10-cent transit fare, it seemed certain today. But it will provide for continuation of the 3 per cent city sales tax.

WOODSTOCK NEWS

By RICHARD E. THIBAUT, Jr.

Lowengrund Exhibit Extended in New York

Woodstock, March 13 — Margaret Lowengrund, artist, summer resident of this village, and during the winter director of the Contemporaries, a gallery located at 959 Madison avenue, New York, writes that she has been enjoying an exceptionally active winter. Currently on view at the gallery is a Large Prints exhibition, described as original graphics by today's artists, which take on mural dimensions. In February a show was devoted to Painters and Their Prints, and among the exhibiting artists were Woodstockers Milton Avery and Andree Ruellan.

In addition to the gallery, there is the studio, a workshop for artists, professional or student, with instruction offered in lithography, etching and all related printing techniques. Miss Lowengrund plans a similar print shop this summer in the studio under the Woodstock Art Gallery, details of which she will announce.

The current exhibition at the Contemporaries has been so well received that it has been extended to March 23. Although many of the works in the Large Print Show were not created for the purpose of mural decoration, they are winning, according to Miss Lowengrund, a new audience among architects and decorators who vision the possibilities of large lithographs, woodcuts and engravings as modern murals.

In Chicago Show

In some instances repetition of several graphics by the same artist, equally spaced and of equal dimensions, make a striking wall. In others, long six to eight foot panels create wall interest suitable to many wide-spaced interiors. The work of Woodstock artists included in the show consists of that of Archipenko and Miss Lowengrund herself.

During February the Contemporaries held an exhibition at the Well of the Sea Gallery at the Hotel Sherman in Chicago, and work by Miss Lowengrund was included.

"My workshop here," Miss Lowengrund writes from New York, "is very like my Woodstock studio, and Woodstock artists are always dropping in either to work or to see the shows. Archipenko works here on his lithographs; Edward Millman came during his vacation from teaching in Indiana, and made a drawing on stone which I am printing in an edition of 150 prints for the Woodstock Artists Association bonus print this year.

"Andree Ruellan and John Taylor came to the opening of the current graphic show. I had a painting and several of Andree's prints in the last show, and will continue to show her etchings recently printed in France. Harry Tedlie is here working, also Marion Greenwood, and regular visitors are the Milton Averys, Myron Sokole, Jan Calamar, Rollin and Peggy Crampton. Often the place has quite a Woodstock flavor."

Jayvees Cop Close Decision by 47-43

Woodstock, March 13 — The Woodstock Jayvees won last Friday night's basketball game by 47 to 43 over the Kingston Rams. Waterous was high with 23 points, Joe Hilton next with 11, and for Kingston Bezmer scored 11 points. Woodstock was behind throughout the game with two minutes to go. Herbie Waterous tied it and Carl Van Wagenen bagged a deuce with a half a minute to go. Hilton clinched it with a basket with 15 seconds to go.

The Woodstock Varsity lost in an overtime period 69 to 68 in a game with a combination of the Elston's and Hercules teams. No one could score in the first half except Billy Waterous who was high with 25 points. Kleine had one of his poorest nights of the season, missing a large number of his shots, and finally went out in the third quarter with five personal fouls. Joe Holdridge, one of the regulars, was out of town, and the substitutes were Herbie Waterous and Carl Van Wagenen, both of whom played good games. Madajeski was high with 25 points for Kingston and Morrisey next with 19. Chester Fox was referee for both games.

The Woodstock Varsity will play Harry's Angels, the team which defeated Woodstock earlier in the season, Friday night at the Woodstock court.

Helps With Book

Woodstock, March 13—Stephani and Edward Godwin, Woodstock artists, have made the illustrations for a book for young people, The Crusade and the Cup, recently published by E. P. Dutton & Co. The romantic figures which people this tale of the Third Crusade are Richard Coeur de Lion, his lovely queen, Berengaria; the chivalrous Saladin and his equally chivalrous nephew; an Irish knight and his blind brother. Both text and illus- pageantry of the crusade.

Tickets Available

Woodstock, March 13—Tickets for the amateur night, sponsored by the Woodstock Business Association, may be obtained from any member of the association. The show will be given Thursday, March 27, at the Woodstock Town Hall, beginning at 8 p. m. From the large number of entries already received at various places of business in the village, members of the association predict a large and lively show.

Reports on Wines

Woodstock, March 13—A report by Frank Schoonmaker on American wines is included in a new book Natural Red Wines, published by The Macmillan Company, written by H. Warner Allen. A review of the book in the New York Times stated "That such a report should be written in a book principally concerned with French wines marks a milestone in the growing importance of American wines."

Causes Religious Trouble

Madrid, Spain, March 13 (AP)—The closer relations developing between the United States and Spain have caused the worst anti-Protestant wave in recent years, one of the highest Spanish Protestants declared today. This source, who asked anonymity, emphasized that the Spanish government is not backing the anti-Protestant movement. On the contrary, he said, it is extremely worried over the possible reaction on forthcoming negotiations for U. S. financial aid in return for U. S. air and naval bases here. The Protestant leader said the campaign increased sharply following President Truman's statement recently that he was not fond of the regime of Generalissimo Francisco Franco, and the explanation by former U. S. Ambassador Stanton Griffis that the President was chiefly concerned at the lack of religious liberty in this country.

Insurance Rates And Judgments Topics at Rotary

N. LeVan Haver and Mrs. William H. Merrill were guests of the Rotary Club at its luncheon-meeting Wednesday and they brought interesting and timely messages to the service club members.

In an enlightening discussion on automobile insurance rates and judgments as the result of automobile accidents, the local attorney declared that high judgments are not responsible for increased liability insurance rates on automobiles. There hasn't been a substantial advance in the rates and on some policies the rates have been lowered, he said.

He compared the rate of 1936 for Class A insurance with today's rate to show the lower rate now in force.

Adequate protection for liability and property damage was advised. The cost was very slight for this added protection, he asserted. He suggested that the Rotarians look over their policies to make certain of their protection.

To illustrate the importance of adequate protection, he told of a number of cases in which car owners were not adequately protected and were forced to pay large sums out of their own pockets to satisfy judgments.

Commenting further on the so-called high judgments arising out of automobile accidents, he felt that they were not high when one considered that a person was deprived of normal way of life through injuries sustained.

Adequate liability and property damage was a safeguard not only for the car owner but for your fellowman, he stated.

Concluding his highly illuminating talk, he exhorted his listeners to accept the responsibility of jury duty as a privilege.

Mrs. Merrill in a brief talk outlined the work of the Red Cross volunteers and asked for the wholehearted support of the annual Red Cross financial drive.

FALSE TEETH
That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). RELIEF FOR ASTHMA SUFFERERS

Quick relief usually comes from the first dose of this new formula which acts to relieve congestion. People who formerly suffered with frightening choking, coughing, wheezing asthma attacks speak of welcome relief after using ASMACOL. ASMACOL costs $2.50, but considering the relief you will experience, the $2.50 it costs amounts to only a few pennies per dose. Keep Your Imagination Handy

This is an artist's conception of a man-made military satellite envisioned by the man who made the German V-2 rocket, Prof. Wernher von Braun. The rocket-maker dreams about a military space station 1,075 miles up from the earth—from which activities of people anywhere on earth may be seen as clearly as from an airplane at 5,000 feet. Von Braun, who now lives in Huntsville, Ala., says the satellite would circle the earth once every two hours and in 24 hours would see everything on earth by daylight. AP Artist John A. Reds Suffer Heavy Losses in Attack

By SAM SUMMERLIN

Seoul, Korea, March 13 (AP)—American and Turkish troops stopped a Red assault battalion in its tracks last night in the heaviest Communist attack in a month, a U. S. 25th Division officer said today 200 of the 750 attacking Reds were killed or wounded.

The Communists struck behind a heavy artillery barrage against the U. S. 35th Regiment and Turkish brigade in the eastern mountains near Heartbreak Ridge.

Assault waves came in three prongs along a 2½-mile front. But, a division spokesman said, "they got nowhere."

A curtain of allied artillery and mortar fire halted the Reds 100 yards short of UN lines. The Communists pulled back after a sharp two-hour fight.

The entire 155-mile Korean front quieted today, the U. S. Eighth Army said, except for patrol clashes in the center. In the west UN troops reoccupied an advance position northwest of Yonchon without firing a shot. They had pulled out last night in the face of a Red attack.

American warships pounded the eastern end of the line in round-the-clock attacks. The navy reported the cruisers St. Paul and Manchester and the destroyer Higbee scored direct hits on Red troops, guns, bunkers and supply depots.

Easy to Remember Birthdays Here

Mrs. Marie McGee, 25, (left) won't have any difficulty remembering the birth dates of her week-old daughter, Kathleen; her son, Patrick, 2, and her husband, Charles, 25, shown together in Philadelphia as mother and daughter were discharged from a hospital. Both children and the father were born on the same date—March 5—and all three first saw the light of day within the same hour—5 to 6 a. m. —on their birth dates. Doctors said the coincidence was "more than just a bit unusual." The mother? She was born in July. (AP Wirephoto).

Six Men Enlist In Guard Units; Vacancies Remain

Lt. Col. Frank W. Harkin, commanding the 156th Field Artillery Battalion of the New York National Guard announced today that though there are many vacancies still open in the Kingston units which offer excellent opportunities to new guardsmen, recruiting in the local units is very satisfactory.

During the past week 13 new members were enlisted, six of whom joined Kingston units.

Battery A, oldest military unit of the United States, added to its ranks Carl Louis Mehm, Jr., of 54 Henry street, son of Mrs. Marguerite Mehm. He attended Kingston High School and graduated from St. Mary's at North East, Pa. He is employed by Roosa's Taxi Service.

Thomas Edward Nassar of 417 Hasbrouck avenue also joined Battery A. He is the son of Mrs. Annette Nassar and is completing his last year at Kingston High School and is employed after school hours at Schwenk's Bakery.

Four new members were added to the roster of Headquarters Battery including Arthur Nicholas Closi, of Lake Katrine, son of Mrs. Bessie Closi; Harry Francis Hurley, Kingston, son of Daniel A. Hurley; James Alwin Winchell, Kingston, son of Lawrence V. Winchell, who enlisted. All three men are students in Kingston High School. Donald Francis Stokes of 11 East Pierpont street, son of Mrs. Ruth B. Stokes, is employed by a local newspaper delivery service.

Col. Harkin also announced that 16 officers and enlisted men of the Kingston units will attend the weekend staff assembly at the West Jefferson Avenue Armory in Syracuse March 15 and 16 and will leave for Syracuse March 14. These staff assemblies are a part of the additional training offered to officers and noncommissioned officers of the National Guard. Beginning in April the 156th Field Artillery Battalion will conduct weekend outdoor training exercises. The first of a series of six will be conducted at the New York Military Academy at Cornwall.

Sgt. Guy M. Gardner of New Paltz departed last week for Fort Sill, Okla., where he will attend the artillery survey supervision course under the National Guard Service School program.

Sgt. Arthur V. Wallot of Saugerties also departed for Fort Sill with Sgt. Gardner. Sgt. Wallot will attend the automotive maintenance supervision course for 10 weeks.

Promotions were announced by the battalion promotion board through special orders issued this week and included Pfc. Donald R. Tomczyk of Service Battery to the grade of corporal. Pfc. Joseph Shapiro of Headquarters Battery and Pfc. Gerald Igoe of Battery A also were appointed to the grade of corporal, all having successfully passed promotion board examinations. Promotion boards consist of both officer and enlisted personnel.

Insurance Rates And Judgments Topics at Rotary

N. LeVan Haver and Mrs. William H. Merrill were guests of the Rotary Club at its luncheon-meeting Wednesday and they brought interesting and timely messages to the service club members.

In an enlightening discussion on automobile insurance rates and judgments as the result of automobile accidents, the local attorney declared that high judgments are not responsible for increased liability insurance rates on automobiles. There hasn't been a substantial advance in the rates and on some policies the rates have been lowered, he said.

He compared the rate of 1936 for Class A insurance with today's rate to show the lower rate now in force.

Adequate protection for liability and property damage was advised. The cost was very slight for this added protection, he asserted. He suggested that the Rotarians look over their policies to make certain of their protection.

To illustrate the importance of adequate protection, he told of a number of cases in which car owners were not adequately protected and were forced to pay large sums out of their own pockets to satisfy judgments.

Commenting further on the so-called high judgments arising out of automobile accidents, he felt that they were not high when one considered that a person was deprived of normal way of life through injuries sustained.

Adequate liability and property damage was a safeguard not only for the car owner but for your fellowman, he stated.

Concluding his highly illuminating talk, he exhorted his listeners to accept the responsibility of jury duty as a privilege.

Mrs. Merrill in a brief talk outlined the work of the Red Cross volunteers and asked for the wholehearted support of the annual Red Cross financial drive.

FALSE TEETH
That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug store.

RELIEF FOR ASTHMA SUFFERERS

Quick relief usually comes from the first dose of this new formula which acts to relieve congestion. People who formerly suffered with frightening choking, coughing, wheezing asthma attacks speak of welcome relief after using ASMACOL. ASMACOL costs $2.50, but considering the relief you will experience, the $2.50 it costs amounts to only a few pennies per dose. ASMACOL, (caution, use only as directed) is sold with a money back guarantee if not delighted with results. Sold only by

Keep Your Imagination Handy

This is an artist's conception of a man-made military satellite envisioned by the man who made the German V-2 rocket, Prof. Wernher von Braun. The rocket-maker dreams about a military space station 1,075 miles up from the earth—from which activities of people anywhere on earth may be seen as clearly as from an airplane at 5,000 feet. Von Braun, who now lives in Huntsville, Ala., says the satellite would circle the earth once every two hours and in 24 hours would see everything on earth by daylight. AP Artist John A. Carlton executed this sketch.

Reds Suffer Heavy Losses in Attack

By SAM SUMMERLIN

Seoul, Korea, March 13 (AP)—American and Turkish troops stopped a Red assault battalion in its tracks last night in the heaviest Communist attack in a month, a U. S. 25th Division officer said today 200 of the 750 attacking Reds were killed or wounded.

The Communists struck behind a heavy artillery barrage against the U. S. 35th Regiment and Turkish brigade in the eastern mountains near Heartbreak Ridge.

Assault waves came in three prongs along a 2½-mile front. But, a division spokesman said, "they got nowhere."

A curtain of allied artillery and mortar fire halted the Reds 100 yards short of UN lines. The Communists pulled back after a sharp two-hour fight.

The entire 155-mile Korean front quieted today, the U. S. Eighth Army said, except for patrol clashes in the center. In the west UN troops reoccupied an advance position northwest of Yonchon without firing a shot. They had pulled out last night in the face of a Red attack.

American warships pounded the eastern end of the line in round-the-clock attacks. The navy reported the cruisers St. Paul and Manchester and the destroyer Higbee scored direct hits on Red troops, guns, bunkers and supply depots.

Easy to Remember Birthdays Here

Mrs. Marie McGee, 25, (left) won't have any difficulty remembering the birth dates of her week-old daughter, Kathleen; her son, Patrick, 2, and her husband, Charles, 25, shown together in Philadelphia as mother and daughter were discharged from a hospital. Both children and the father were born on the same date—March 5—and all three first saw the light of day within the same hour—5 to 6 a. m. —on their birth dates. Doctors said the coincidence was "more than just a bit unusual." The mother? She was born in July. (AP Wirephoto).

Six Men Enlist In Guard Units; Vacancies Remain

Lt. Col. Frank W. Harkin, commanding the 156th Field Artillery Battalion of the New York National Guard announced today that though there are many vacancies still open in the Kingston units which offer excellent opportunities to new guardsmen, recruiting in the local units is very satisfactory.

During the past week 13 new members were enlisted, six of whom joined Kingston units.

Battery A, oldest military unit of the United States, added to its ranks Carl Louis Mehm, Jr., of 54 Henry street, son of Mrs. Marguerite Mehm. He attended Kingston High School and graduated from St. Mary's at North East, Pa. He is employed by Roosa's Taxi Service.

Thomas Edward Nassar of 417 Hasbrouck avenue also joined Battery A. He is the son of Mrs. Annette Nassar and is completing his last year at Kingston High School and is employed after school hours at Schwenk's Bakery.

Four new members were added to the roster of Headquarters Battery including Arthur Nicholas Closi, of Lake Katrine, son of Mrs. Bessie Closi; Harry Francis Hurley, Kingston, son of Daniel A. Hurley; James Alwin Winchell, Kingston, son of Lawrence V. Winchell, who enlisted. All three men are students in Kingston High School. Donald Francis Stokes of 11 East Pierpont street, son of Mrs. Ruth B. Stokes, is employed by a local newspaper delivery service.

Col. Harkin also announced that 16 officers and enlisted men of the Kingston units will attend the weekend staff assembly at the West Jefferson Avenue Armory in Syracuse March 15 and 16 and will leave for Syracuse March 14. These staff assemblies are a part of the additional training offered to officers and noncommissioned officers of the National Guard. Beginning in April the 156th Field Artillery Battalion will conduct weekend outdoor training exercises. The first of a series of six will be conducted at the New York Military Academy at Cornwall.

Sgt. Guy M. Gardner of New Paltz departed last week for Fort Sill, Okla., where he will attend the artillery survey supervision course under the National Guard Service School program.

Sgt. Arthur V. Wallot of Saugerties also departed for Fort Sill with Sgt. Gardner. Sgt. Wallot will attend the automotive maintenance supervision course for 10 weeks.

Promotions were announced by the battalion promotion board through special orders issued this week and included Pfc. Donald R. Tomczyk of Service Battery to the grade of corporal. Pfc. Joseph Shapiro of Headquarters Battery and Pfc. Gerald Igoe of Battery A also were appointed to the grade of corporal, all having successfully passed promotion board examinations. Promotion boards consist of both officer and enlisted personnel.

English Exchange Teacher Is Guest of College Women

Miss Mildred Cullen was the guest of the American Association of University Women when they met Monday evening in Bethany Hall. Miss Cullen is affiliated with the New Paltz Teachers College as an exchange teacher from England. She is administrative assistant, instructor of college classes and supervisor of teachers classes at the Teachers College in Darlington, England. Shown are, left to right, Miss Ruth Herdman, treasurer; Mrs. Phyllis Smith, president; Miss Cullen, Mrs. Vincent Connelly, fellowship chairman; and Mrs. Morton Zucker, hostess. (Freeman photo).

British Educational System Outlined for University Women

The British Educational System was the topic for an address by Miss Mildred Cullen, exchange teacher at the New Paltz State Teachers College, at the monthly meeting of the local branch of the American Association of University Women, Tuesday evening in Bethany Hall.

Miss Cullen, a member of the faculty of Darlington College, England, described the various types of English schools and compared them with American schools for children of similar age groups. In England, she said, nursery schools, infant and primary schools accommodate children to age 11. The nursery school which is tax-supported became popular during World War 2 and is more widespread than in this country. The primary school, however, is on a parallel with our elementary school.

Free secondary education has been completely established by the Education Act of 1944 and children between the ages of 11 to 15 attend either the secondary modern or secondary grammar schools depending upon their individual ability. In the former type, a general education is given either in co-educational or sex-segregated institutions. The academic education with a classical background is provided in the secondary grammar school and the students are selected on the basis of ability to profit by such education and are usually those preparing for a higher education.

Other Types

Other types of free schools common in Great Britain are church denominational schools, partly tax-supported; vocational schools for post-secondary training; teacher training colleges, special schools for the mentally retarded and schools for young delinquents. The public school, which most Americans associate with British education, Miss Cullen observed, serves less than 20% of the population. It requires high tuition and has a heavy classical curriculum.

In Miss Cullen's opinion, greater provision for further adult study is made in Britain. Part time education for children in the 15 to 18-year age group is provided by towns or industries. Adults, having had no higher education, may win scholarships for a year's study for the purpose of broadening their cultural outlook and stimulating their thinking abilities. The University is available to those who have had secondary grammar or public school training. Many scholarships are provided for talented or serious students where study is on the highest level. Consequently, said Miss Cullen, fewer British people are university trained than Americans.

Mrs. Phyllis Smith presided at the business meeting which followed the coffee hour. It was announced that the next meeting of the International Relations group will take place Monday, March 17, at the home of Mrs. Lloyd LeFever. The Book Club will meet at the home of Miss Ione Kinkade, Thursday, March 27. All members were invited to attend both of these meetings.

Nominating Committee

Miss Rose Abernethy is chairman of the nominating committee and will be assisted by Miss Ethel Hull and Mrs. Marvin Craft. The committee will report at the April meeting.

Mrs. Samuel Trull was named chairman of the scholarship fund-raising concert. Plans were discussed for sponsoring a concert by pianist-humorist, Henry Scott. This will take place in May.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. James Tobin, Mrs. Harry Halverson, Mrs. Morton Zucker and Mrs. Bernhardt Kramer.

English Exchange Teacher Is Guest of College Women

Miss Mildred Cullen was the guest of the American Association of University Women when they met Monday evening in Bethany Hall. Miss Cullen is affiliated with the New Paltz Teachers College as an exchange teacher from England. She is administrative assistant, instructor of college classes and supervisor of teachers classes at the Teachers College in Darlington, England. Shown are, left to right, Miss Ruth Herdman, treasurer; Mrs. Phyllis Smith, president; Miss Cullen, Mrs. Vincent Connelly, fellowship chairman; and Mrs. Morton Zucker, hostess. (Freeman photo).

British Educational System Outlined for University Women

The British Educational System was the topic for an address by Miss Mildred Cullen, exchange teacher at the New Paltz State Teachers College, at the monthly meeting of the local branch of the American Association of University Women, Tuesday evening in Bethany Hall.

Miss Cullen, a member of the faculty of Darlington College, England, described the various types of English schools and compared them with American schools for children of similar age groups. In England, she said, nursery schools, infant and primary schools accommodate children to age 11. The nursery school which is tax-supported became popular during World War 2 and is more widespread than in this country. The primary school, however, is on a parallel with our elementary school.

Free secondary education has been completely established by the Education Act of 1944 and children between the ages of 11 to 15 attend either the secondary modern or secondary grammar schools depending upon their individual ability. In the former type, a general education is given either in co-educational or sex-segregated institutions. The academic education with a classical background is provided in the secondary grammar school and the students are selected on the basis of ability to profit by such education and are usually those preparing for a higher education.

Other Types

Other types of free schools common in Great Britain are church denominational schools, partly tax-supported; vocational schools for post-secondary training; teacher training colleges, special schools for the mentally retarded and schools for young delinquents. The public school, which most Americans associate with British education, Miss Cullen observed, serves less than 20% of the population. It requires high tuition and has a heavy classical curriculum.

In Miss Cullen's opinion, greater provision for further adult study is made in Britain. Part time education for children in the 15 to 18-year age group is provided by towns or industries. Adults, having had no higher education, may win scholarships for a year's study for the purpose of broadening their cultural outlook and stimulating their thinking abilities. The University is available to those who have had secondary grammar or public school training. Many scholarships are provided for talented or serious students where study is on the highest level. Consequently, said Miss Cullen, fewer British people are university trained than Americans.

Mrs. Phyllis Smith presided at the business meeting which followed the coffee hour. It was announced that the next meeting of the International Relations group will take place Monday, March 17, at the home of Mrs. Lloyd LeFever. The Book Club will meet at the home of Miss Ione Kinkade, Thursday, March 27. All members were invited to attend both of these meetings.

Nominating Committee

Miss Rose Abernethy is chairman of the nominating committee and will be assisted by Miss Ethel Hull and Mrs. Marvin Craft. The committee will report at the April meeting.

Mrs. Samuel Trull was named chairman of the scholarship fund-raising concert. Plans were discussed for sponsoring a concert by pianist-humorist, Henry Scott. This will take place in May.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. James Tobin, Mrs. Harry Halverson, Mrs. Morton Zucker and Mrs. Bernhardt Kramer.

Good Taste Today

by Emily Post

(Author of 'Etiquette,' 'Children Are People,' etc.)

AN UNHAPPY SITUATION

The following letter discloses a truly tragic situation: "Will you please tell me the correct way to announce the arrival of my baby, due next month? Three months ago my husband deserted me and I have filed for divorce. Most of my friends are aware of the divorce proceedings but there are some who do not know. What is correct under the circumstances?

Under the circumstances, rather than sending out printed announcements in your name alone, I think it would be best to have a member of your own family telephone word of the baby's arrival to your most intimate friends and ask them to spread the news.

He Does Too!

Dear Mrs. Post: I have often read in your column that a girl is supposed to return the engagement ring, as well as all other presents of value given her by her fiance, when the engagement has been broken, but I have never seen anything about the man's returning valuable presents given to him by her. Does the same rule apply to him?

Answer: The strict rule is that she must return the engagement ring. But other presents—except those bought for their future home—are not returned. However, if she has returned all of his presents to him, then he should return those she has given him.

Correcting Invitations

Dear Mrs. Post: I had planned to be married the latter part of February, but due to conditions beyond our control, the date had to be changed to April. Is there any way of changing the date on the wedding invitations without going to the expense of having new ones engraved?

Answer: To frankly draw a line through the present date and write in the new one with pen and ink could be done.

She Thanks a Stranger

Dear Mrs. Post: When a man who is accompanying a woman holds a door open for her to go through, is it necessary to thank him or does she take this courtesy for granted?

Answer: She takes it for granted. (If he were a stranger, she would of course say "thank you.")

Many everyday questions are asked about "good taste" and Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. However, her leaflet E-18, "An Etiquette Test," includes 35 questions and answers to help you. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to her, c/o The Kingston Daily Freeman, P.O. Good Taste Today

by Emily Post

(Author of 'Etiquette,' 'Children Are People,' etc.)

AN UNHAPPY SITUATION

The following letter discloses a truly tragic situation: "Will you please tell me the correct way to announce the arrival of my baby, due next month? Three months ago my husband deserted me and I have filed for divorce. Most of my friends are aware of the divorce proceedings but there are some who do not know. What is correct under the circumstances?

Under the circumstances, rather than sending out printed announcements in your name alone, I think it would be best to have a member of your own family telephone word of the baby's arrival to your most intimate friends and ask them to spread the news.

He Does Too!

Dear Mrs. Post: I have often read in your column that a girl is supposed to return the engagement ring, as well as all other presents of value given her by her fiance, when the engagement has been broken, but I have never seen anything about the man's returning valuable presents given to him by her. Does the same rule apply to him?

Answer: The strict rule is that she must return the engagement ring. But other presents—except those bought for their future home—are not returned. However, if she has returned all of his presents to him, then he should return those she has given him.

Correcting Invitations

Dear Mrs. Post: I had planned to be married the latter part of February, but due to conditions beyond our control, the date had to be changed to April. Is there any way of changing the date on the wedding invitations without going to the expense of having new ones engraved?

Answer: To frankly draw a line through the present date and write in the new one with pen and ink could be done.

She Thanks a Stranger

Dear Mrs. Post: When a man who is accompanying a woman holds a door open for her to go through, is it necessary to thank him or does she take this courtesy for granted?

Answer: She takes it for granted. (If he were a stranger, she would of course say "thank you.")

TRY PADDIES ON 'PADDY'S' DAY

SHAMROCK "PADDIES" with parsleyed potatoes and cabbage wedges are fine for the shank of the evenin' on St. Patrick's Day.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Market Editor

Shamrock Paddies are a fine dish to serve on St. Patrick's Day. Made of chopped leftover ham, eggs, sweet fresh cucumber pickles and bread crumbs, they go well with parsleyed potatoes and boiled cabbage wedges. With cloverleaf rolls and a dish of pickles, they make a fine meal.

Shamrock Paddies
(Makes 4 servings)

One pound ground cooked ham, 2 eggs, slightly beaten, 1/3 cup chopped sweet fresh cucumber pickles, 1 cup fine bread crumbs, freshly ground pepper.

In a bowl, blend ham and eggs. Add remaining ingredients, mixing well. Divide mixture into four parts. Shape into four rectangular loaves 1-inch thick and place on broilergrill. Broil 3 or 4 inches from heat 10-15 minutes, turning only once. Garnish each paddy with a large shamrock cut from pickle slice.

Emerald Isle Salad
(Makes 3-4 servings)

Two small green peppers, 6 ounces chive cream cheese, ¼ cup finely chopped sweet gherkins, dash Tabasco.

Wash green peppers; cut off stem ends. Hollow out pepper, removing seeds and fiber; drain. In a small bowl, combine cheese, pickles and Tabasco; mix thoroughly. Fill peppers with cheese-pickle mixture.

Chill filled peppers until firm. Slice crosswise. Place 2 or 3 slices on crisp salad greens for each serving.

TRY PADDIES ON 'PADDY'S' DAY

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Market Editor

Shamrock Paddies are a fine dish to serve on St. Patrick's Day. Made of chopped leftover ham, eggs, sweet fresh cucumber pickles and bread crumbs, they go well with parsleyed potatoes and boiled cabbage wedges. With cloverleaf rolls and a dish of pickles, they make a fine meal.

Shamrock Paddies
(Makes 4 servings)

One pound ground cooked ham, 2 eggs, slightly beaten, 1/3 cup chopped sweet fresh cucumber pickles, 1 cup fine bread crumbs, freshly ground pepper.

In a bowl, blend ham and eggs. Add remaining ingredients, mixing well. Divide mixture into four parts. Shape into four rectangular loaves 1-inch thick and place on broilergrill. Broil 3 or 4 inches from heat 10-15 minutes, turning only once. Garnish each paddy with a large shamrock cut from pickle slice.

Emerald Isle Salad
(Makes 3-4 servings)

Two small green peppers, 6 ounces chive cream cheese, ¼ cup finely chopped sweet gherkins, dash Tabasco.

Wash green peppers; cut off stem ends. Hollow out pepper, removing seeds and fiber; drain. In a small bowl, combine cheese, pickles and Tabasco; mix thoroughly. Fill peppers with cheese-pickle mixture.

Chill filled peppers until firm. Slice crosswise. Place 2 or 3 slices on crisp salad greens for each serving.

would have absolutely no effect on Truman's decision on whether to seek reelection.

Short added that Truman had said so himself.

Calls It Mistake

Sen. Humphrey (D.-Minn.) said it was a "political mistake" for Truman to have decided to enter the New Hampshire primary—after first declaring that presidential primaries were "eyewash."

"He had everything to lose and absolutely nothing to gain," he said.

Some of the President's intimates privately made no effort to hide their own anger at New Hampshire party leaders who persuaded Truman to allow his name to remain on the ballot after he had said he would ask its withdrawal.

"It is always a mistake when the President is persuaded to do something against his own political judgment," one said.

Oslo, Norway, March 13 (AP)—Johan Nygaardsvold, 73, Norway's wartime prime minister in exile, died early today in a hospital at Trondheim after four weeks illness.

Streamliner Resumes Service

Passengers line up before entrance gate at New York's Grand Central Terminal to board the streamliner Empire State Express, making its first run to Cleveland and Detroit since beginning of a wildcat walkout by some 3,000 railroad workers. Rock Slide Blocks Part of Route 52

1,000 Cubic Yards of Stone Cover Almost 100 Feet of State Highway

A rock slide, apparently caused by the excessive rains of Tuesday, partially blocked State Route 52, Ellenville to Walker Valley road, Wednesday.

Today State Highway employes were getting equipment to the scene and it is expected the road will be cleared in a few days.

The slide is about 300 feet below the high bridge beyond Ellenville and some distance below the point where a large slide obstructed the route several years ago.

It was estimated about 1,000 cubic yards of rock slid over the two lane highway but a wide shoulder permitted traffic to flow past the obstruction. Between 50 and 100 feet of the road was obstructed.

Some of the stones are of considerable size and will have to be broken up before they can be moved. One of the pieces of rock was estimated to weigh in the neighborhood of 40 tons.

Harry G. Krom, county engineer for the New York State Highway Department, and a crew of men manning equipment went to the scene this morning to begin removal of the slide.

Early Morning

spent more than eight hours straight following the raid interviewing the men in the room and compiling information prior to their appearance before Judge Mino.

Arraigned in Group

The court room and the corridor outside on the lower floor of the city hall was crowded until late this morning as the interviewing continued and the men appeared in court. The men appeared before the judge in a group as he read the charges and informed them of their rights.

The raid resulted in the first arrests on major gambling charges here since the two staged in the city during April 1951. The first was at 48 Chambers street when five men were arrested on charges relating to bookmaking. They paid $2,050 in fines. Eight were arrested in another raid at 124 North Front street on charges relating to the operating of a horse room and paid $2,650 in fines.

Highly prized books made for the early kings and popes were so expensive that they actually cost their weight in gold.

In a small power station in the Idaho sagebrush last December, men made electricity for the first time from the atom. Lights burned, heaters glowed, machinery pumped — all on atomic energy. Soon, the atom commissioners tell us, we may have a new unending source of heat, light and power.

Soon—the atom will bake a cake!

ANY DAY NOW, there'll be news of some revolutionary civilian use of atomic power.

Heating? . . . Already the British are heating houses from an atomic pile. Transportation? . . . We'll soon have atom-driven submarines — how about cars and planes? Housekeeping? . . . Will we get new foods, textiles, dishes and labor-saving devices in unheard-of abundance?

When the first big story about peacetime atomic power breaks, you'll want to know how it all began and how it works . . . but most of all, who has it — and where can you get it?

You'll want the whole story . . . from your point of view, as only your local paper's news columns or ads can tell it to you every day.

That's how it is with every important news or product story. You want all the story. You want to know where you fit in.

And just as you read the newspaper every day, so does everybody else. Because there's something for everybody every day.

Simply because everybody reads the paper, for its advertising as well as for fun or news.

The Newspaper talks to everybody in town. It's created fresh every day to appeal to everybody.

Triple Tie Remains in 'B' Loop As Three Leaders Register Wins

156th FA Cagers Hard Pressed Against Ecs

That triple deadlock in the YMCA "B" League is still very much in existence.

Two of the leaders came through with impressive victories in last night's games. The third, 156th FA, battled valiantly to stand off a stubborn Economy Construction five.

Esopus Firemen, first half leaders, ran over the 50 Club, 58-34, and Kaplan Bag Co. trounced the hapless Accord Chevies, 67-30. The Artillery tossers edged Economy, 47-44.

Economy, trailing 14-6 at the quarter and 16-23 at the half, threatened to upset the applecart in the second half when Frank Fiore and Chris Rienzo found the range. When Fiore fouled out the Economy number was up. He holed 14 points and Chris Rienzo hit for 18. Bruce "Red" Hinkley paced the winners with 20 points. Huyler Van Wagenen and Don Gardeski each hit 11.

Ferraro Scores 20

Big Jim Ferraro's 20 points and scoring by all of the nine players used by Coach Earle O Terwilliger featured the Esopus Firemen's conquest of the 50 Club. The Firemen got off to a slow start, trailing 4-6, but rallied with 14 points in the second period and 23 in the third. John Burris led the losers with 12 markers.

Ed Browne caged 21 points and Bob Baumer had 20 to spark the Kaplan Bag triumph over Accord. The Bagmen were in front 17-6 at the end of the quarter. Lew Whitten rimmed 10 for the losers.

Training Camp News in Brief

By the Associated Press

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 13 (AP)—The New York Yankees today were minus one infielder—and a mighty important one. Young Billy Martin, who was slated to fill in at both second and third base, sustained two broken bones in his right ankle yesterday sliding into second for the benefit of a cameraman. He probably won't be able to play until May.

"Martin's loss is a tough blow," said Manager Casey Stengel. "I planned to use him in about 25 of our exhibition games. I was confident he would make it this year."

Even without the services of 22-year-old Martin, the Yankees had no trouble crushing the Detroit Tigers, 4-1.

Van Cuyk Ballooning

Miami, Fla., March 13 (AP)—As if he didn't have enough worries trying to pare some weight off catcher Roy Campanella, Manager Chuck Dressen of the Brooklyn Dodgers today found himself faced with another poundage problem—that of Pitcher Chris Van Cuyk.

Van Cuyk weighs 230 pounds, but the manager would like him to come down to 215.

"I can't understand it," said Dressen. "We work him harder than any pitcher on the squad, but he can't seem to take it off. I guess he takes a drink of water after a workout and it sticks right to him."

Too Many Shifts

Phoenix, Ariz., March 13 (AP)—A manager can't laugh off a good hitter even if he is a rookie, and that's why skipper Leo Durocher of the New York Giants is figuring on Gail Henley as his fourth outfielder behind Monte Irvin, Willie Mays and Don Mueller.

"They tell me the kid had trouble in the minors," said Durocher. "Well, this is the second spring I've had him and he always looked good to me."

"My minor league totals don't look good because I always seemed to get shifted from one team to another and always wound up in Sioux City," said Henley.

Gray Looks Sharp

Lakeland, Fla., March 13—(AP) Detroit Tiger pitcher Ted Gray looks "better than ever this spring," says Manager Red Rolfe.

Gray credits more follow-through in his stride for tightening up the wildness that has hampered him in the past. He pitched the last three innings of yesterday's 4-1 loss to the New York Yankees, giving up two runs, one unearned, and three hits.

Art Houtteman, highly effective against New York before he went into the army for a year, started for the Tigers and was tagged with the loss. He was hit sharply for three innings during which the Yanks scored twice, doubled once and singled five times.

Pay Boost Due For Christenberry

Albany, N. Y., March 13 (AP)—Governor Dewey's expected signature was all that was needed today to give boxing czar Bob Christenberry a $4,500 a year pay boost.

The Assembly gave final approval yesterday to a bill to raise the State Athletic Commission chairman's salary from $7,500 to $12,000 a year.

The measure also raised the pay of the other two athletic commissioners from $25 to $50 a day for each day they attend Commission meetings. They are Dr. Clilan B. Powell of New York city and Leon F. Swears of Johnstown.

The Assembly passed and sent to the Senate a bill that would require fight promotors to provide insurance for boxers appearing on their cards.

The insurance coverage would provide a maximum of $500 for injuries received in a bout and for payment of $5,000 to the estate of a boxer injured fatally in the ring.

Hoppe Shows Why He's Still Master

San Francisco, March 13 (AP)—Willie Hoppe, the master cueist, gave one of his most persistent and dangerous challengers a heart breaking lesson in the world three cushion billiard tourney last night.

Joe Chamaco, 1939 world champ and three-time runnerup, staged a great 8 run rally in the 29th inning to take a 36-32 lead. He had fought a game uphill battle. His supporters—and a host of fans who like to see a champ knocked over—took heart.

But the great Hoppe quickly banged the door in Joe's leathery brown face. He cut the gap to 37-38 in the 34th inning. Then he drew prolonged applause with a long, reverse English tickie (cushion, ball, two cushions, ball) shot. That tied the score and started a four run. Two innings later the 64 year old, grey haired champ started another 4 run with another, far more difficult four-cushion tickie. That gave him a 46-38 lead and it was only a question of how many more innings. He closed it out 50-38 with two in the 43rd.

Meantime, the 11-time world champ stranded Chamaco time after time with safe leaves. Only twice did Mexico City Chico find himself with a halfway decent shot—and he muffed both, badly, he was shut out the final nine innings.

Victory was undefeated Hoppe's fourth. His remaining five games should get tougher and tougher, but it doesn't look as if he'll be dethroned.

Sun War Cloud Set For First Mat Bout

Full-Blooded Indian Here Friday Night

Sun War Cloud, a full-blooded Indian who started out to be a boxer but changed his mind and turned to wrestling, has been booked for the opening bout of Friday night's show at the municipal.

War Cloud, a protege of Jim Thorpe, is scheduled to meet Wild Bill Zim, a young, rough hombre from Toronto, in the one-fall, 30-minute bout.

Two of the biggest names in wrestling—Vern Gagne, the new TV sensation of the Saturday night Chicago television network—and Don Evans, of Flatbush, the famed "Kingston Killer" will be featured in the two top bouts.

Gagne and Evans will appear in two out of three falls bouts, the former against veteran Chris Zaharias and Evans against rugged Jack Allen of St. Louis.

Evans and Allen were stars of a rough house team match Tuesday night but Saturday's clash will be their first in a solo match.

Fan response to Vern Gagne's appearance is valley wide and Promoter Ted Bayly's first show in Kingston is expected to play before a full house.

Ticket reservations can be made by calling the Tommy Maines Sport Shop in Kingston.

New Tax Bite Would Add 15 Per Cent To Admission Tax at State Tracks

Albany, N. Y., March 13 (AP)—Harness race patrons would have to pay a 15 per cent state admissions tax this year under a bill now before Goxernor Dewey.

The Assembly voted, 135-10, yesterday to impose the tax at pari-mutuel harness tracks.

The tax is expected to yield about $600,000 a year. This estimate is based on an attendance of more than 4 million at the state's seven harness tracks last year.

1—Increase from $350 to $600 a day the supervisory fee paid by tracks to the State Racing Commission during meetings.

2—Allow the Racing Commission to impose fines up to $200 for violations of racing rules by owners, jockeys and trainers.

3—Increase the license fees for tracks from $25 to $100 a day for each day of racing.

4—Allow the governor to name the chairman of the Racing Commission. The three members, all appointed by the governor, now select their own chairman.

Proceeds of the proposed admissions tax on harness races would go to the state. Counties that have tracks would not share in the revenue.

A measure has been introduced that would allow the City of Yonkers and five counties to impose an extra 15 per cent admissions tax at such tracks. It was approved yesterday by the Senate Finance Committee.

A proposed constitutional amendment to permit cities and counties to tax pari-mutuel betting was killed when the sponsor, Republican Assemblyman Fred V. Preller of Queens, sent it back to committee.

New York city and Nassau and Saratoga counties have been collecting a 5 per cent local betting tax at flat tracks since 1948.

Triple Tie Remains in 'B' Loop As Three Leaders Register Wins

156th FA Cagers Hard Pressed Against Ecs

That triple deadlock in the YMCA "B" League is still very much in existence.

Two of the leaders came through with impressive victories in last night's games. The third, 156th FA, battled valiantly to stand off a stubborn Economy Construction five.

Esopus Firemen, first half leaders, ran over the 50 Club, 58-34, and Kaplan Bag Co. trounced the hapless Accord Chevies, 67-30. The Artillery tossers edged Economy, 47-44.

Economy, trailing 14-6 at the quarter and 16-23 at the half, threatened to upset the applecart in the second half when Frank Fiore and Chris Rienzo found the range. When Fiore fouled out the Economy number was up. He holed 14 points and Chris Rienzo hit for 18. Bruce "Red" Hinkley paced the winners with 20 points. Huyler Van Wagenen and Don Gardeski each hit 11.

Ferraro Scores 20

Big Jim Ferraro's 20 points and scoring by all of the nine players used by Coach Earle O. Terwilliger featured the Esopus Firemen's conquest of the 50 Club. The Firemen got off to a slow start, trailing 4-6, but rallied with 14 points in the second period and 23 in the third. John Burris led the losers with 12 markers.

Ed Browne caged 21 points and Bob Baumer had 20 to spark the Kaplan Bag triumph over Accord. The Bagmen were in front 17-6 at the end of the quarter. Lew Whitten rimmed 10 for the losers.

New Tax Bite Would Add 15 Per Cent To Admission Tax at State Tracks

Albany, N. Y., March 13 (AP)—Harness race patrons would have to pay a 15 per cent state admissions tax this year under a bill now before Goxernor Dewey.

The 15 per cent "bite" now is collected at flat tracks only.

The Assembly voted, 135-10, yesterday to impose the tax at pari-mutuel harness tracks.

The tax is expected to yield about $600,000 a year. This estimate is based on an attendance of more than 4 million at the state's seven harness tracks last year.

The Assembly also sent the governor other racing measures—all dealing with running tracks—that would:

1—Increase from $350 to $600 a day the supervisory fee paid by tracks to the State Racing Commission during meetings.

2—Allow the Racing Commission to impose fines up to $200 for violations of racing rules by owners, jockeys and trainers.

3—Increase the license fees for tracks from $25 to $100 a day for each day of racing.

4—Allow the governor to name the chairman of the Racing Commission. The three members, all appointed by the governor, now select their own chairman.

Proceeds of the proposed admissions tax on harness races would go to the state. Counties that have tracks would not share in the revenue.

A measure has been introduced that would allow the City of Yonkers and five counties to impose an extra 15 per cent admissions tax at such tracks. It was approved yesterday by the Senate Finance Committee.

A proposed constitutional amendment to permit cities and counties to tax pari-mutuel betting was killed when the sponsor, Republican Assemblyman Fred V. Preller of Queens, sent it back to committee.

New York city and Nassau and Saratoga counties have been collecting a 5 per cent local betting tax at flat tracks since 1948.

Cambridge, Mass., March 13 (AP)—In a move to eliminate costs of maintaining unused seats in its stadium, the Harvard Corporation is going to cut the capacity of Soldier's Field from 57,000 to about 40,000. In announcing the move last night, officials said that except for some Harvard-Yale games—played here on alternate years—no football game has drawn as many as 40,000 since before World War II. The attendance at the Yale contest here in 1950 was only 36,000.

Jim Moss Fires 689 in Central Rec Major; Kay Brodhead's 571 Tops Gold Division

Jim Moss rallied from a 178 opener to fire blasts of 254 and 257 for a 689 series on alleys 1 and 2 in last night's Central Rec Major League action.

Meanwhile, Kay Brodhead, who has suffered through a dismal seasonal slump, burst into the spotlight with a rousing 571 triple in the Gold Division of the Colonial Women's League. She shaded Ada Markle by a single stick for distaff honors for the night.

Helen McDougall led the Colonial Women's loop with 523 and Marcia Olhert's 457 topped the Purple loop. Don Tomczyk rapped 617 in the CYO Holy Name, the first "600" of his bowling career, Rita Amarello kept streaking with 504 in the Pioneer Women's League and William Lawrence led the Chalet Leaders in Rosendale with 190-180-182—552.

E. Robinson Hits 638

SCRAMBLING BACK TO SECOND BASE

Gene Woodling, New York Yankee outfielder, slides back into second base as the Detroit Tigers attempted to pick him off in first inning of their game at St. Petersburg, Fla. Al Garbowski, Tigers shortstop, makes a stab at the runner after Pitcher Art Houtteman had thrown to the base but ball went into centerfield and Woodling went on third on the play. Garbowski was charged with an error. Yanks won game, 4-1. (AP Wirephoto)

Game Violators Paid $13,397

A total of 613 state conservation law violators paid fines aggregating $13,397.50 during 1951 in the Kingston Division which includes Dutchess, Orange, Rockland, Sullivan and Ulster counties, the local office of the Conservation Department reported today.

The total represents a slight drop from the 683 who were assessed $13,657.50 in 1950 for fish and game law violations.

Of this number 229 were arrested and fined $3,675 in Ulster county. Further breakdown on the Ulster figures shows that 52 were resident violators, 21 from New Jersey and 10 from Pennsylvania.

Scattered arrests included persons from Connecticut, Kentucky, Michigan, West Virginia and Florida. Ninety per cent of the remaining total were from the metropolitan area.

MR. POINTS—He's only five-foot-nine, but Johnny O'Brien hit on 54.1 per cent of his field goal attempts to become the first collegian in history to score 1000 points in a season. The Seattle University All-America, from South Amboy, N.J., scored 1030 in 36 games to be exact, sparked the Chieftains to the National Invitation Tournament. (NEA)

Robinson Defends

San Francisco, March 13 (AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson lays his middleweight title on the line tonight against Carl (Bobo) Olson for $1. It will be Robinson's first title defense and first fight since he regained his crown from Randy Turpin six months ago. Both he and Promoter William Kyne donated their shares, less $1 each, to the Damon Runyon Cancer Fund. However Sugar Ray drew $7,500 expenses.

Fights Last Night

(By The Associated Press)

Chicago—Jimmy Carter, 136½, New York, outpointed Luther Rawlings, 138, Chicago, 10 (nontitle).

Rawlings Protests Decision to Carter

Chicago, March 13 (AP)—Lightweight Champion Jimmy Carter registered a non-title victory over top challenger Luther Rawlings last night on a split decision. Both judges voted for Carter but the referee voted against him.

Rawlings protested loudly at the verdict.

"It was the easiest fight I ever had," he stormed. "The judges were watching Carter too much. They weren't watching me at all."

Referee Norman McGarity's vote, which gave the fight to Rawlings, 52-48, was the only sensible one of the the three, the Chicago contender claimed.

Judges Harold Marovitz and Arthur Oberg both scored the fight 51-49 in Carter's favor.

Carter, of New York, said there wasn't any doubt in his mind that he had won.

The fight was overweight, with Carter coming in at 136½ pounds and Rawlings scaling 138.

Syracuse Nears Eastern Pennant

By the Associated Press

The Syracuse Nationals were a big step closer today to the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division crown.

The Nats, who have been winning the games that counted all season, came through with another vital victory last night by thrashing the second-place Boston Celtics, 89-71, at Boston.

The triumph enabled Syracuse to increase its lead over Boston to two games. Each club has three more contests to play. The teams meet again tonight at Syracuse, where the Nats can clinch the title.

George King spearheaded the Syracuse attack with 25 points. Bill Sharman topped the Celts with 15.

The Minneapolis Lakers shaded the New York Knicks, 85-83, to cling to their slight chance of overhauling the Rochester Royals, Western Division pace-setters.

FUTURE SCIENTIST—Karl H. Muench, 17, of Evanston, Ill., wins the top award of a $2800 Westinghouse scholarship in the Science Talent Search for 1952. In the opinion of the contest judges he is "the nation's most outstanding future scientist." Karl hopes to make some form of medical research his career.

Will Cut Subsidies

London, March 13 (AP)—Winston Churchill's Conservative government appears determined to cut to the near-vanishing point food subsidies which have cost Britain more than seven billion dollars since World War 2. In the Conservative government's budget this week, Chancellor of the Exchequer R. A. Butler gave the subsidies the biggest trimming since they started during the last war. And in a nationwide broadcast soon after, he criticized the system under which citizens pay out taxes so the government can sell food at prices under cost.

SCRAMBLING BACK TO SECOND BASE

Gene Woodling, New York Yankee outfielder, slides back into second base as the Detroit Tigers attempted to pick him off in first inning of their game at St. Petersburg, Fla. Al Garbowski, Tigers shortstop, makes a stab at the runner after Pitcher Art Houtteman had thrown to the base but ball went into centerfield and Woodling went on third on the play. Garbowski was charged with an error. Yanks won game, 4-1. (AP Wirephoto)

Game Violators Paid $13,397

A total of 613 state conservation law violators paid fines aggregating $13,397.50 during 1951 in the Kingston Division which includes Dutchess, Orange, Rockland, Sullivan and Ulster counties, the local office of the Conservation Department reported today.

The total represents a slight drop from the 683 who were assessed $13,657.50 in 1950 for fish and game law violations.

Of this number 229 were arrested and fined $3,675 in Ulster county. Further breakdown on the Ulster figures shows that 52 were resident violators, 21 from New Jersey and 10 from Pennsylvania.

Scattered arrests included persons from Connecticut, Kentucky, Michigan, West Virginia and Florida. Ninety per cent of the remaining total were from the metropolitan area.

MR. POINTS—He's only five-foot-nine, but Johnny O'Brien hit on 54.1 per cent of his field goal attempts to become the first collegian in history to score 1000 points in a season. The Seattle University All-America, from South Amboy, N.J., scored 1020 in 36 games to be exact, sparked the Chieftains to the National Invitation Tournament. (NEA)

Robinson Defends

San Francisco, March 13 (AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson lays his middleweight title on the line tonight against Carl (Bobo) Olson for $1. It will be Robinson's first title defense and first fight since he regained his crown from Randy Turpin six months ago. Both he and Promoter William Kyne donated their shares, less $1 each, to the Damon Runyon Cancer Fund. However Sugar Ray drew $7,500 expenses.

Fights Last Night

(By The Associated Press)

Chicago—Jimmy Carter, 136½, New York, outpointed Luther Rawlings, 138, Chicago, 10 (nontitle).

Rawlings Protests Decision to Carter

Chicago, March 13 (AP)—Lightweight Champion Jimmy Carter registered a non-title victory over top challenger Luther Rawlings last night on a split decision. Both judges voted for Carter but the referee voted against him.

Rawlings protested loudly at the verdict.

"It was the easiest fight I ever had," he stormed. "The judges were watching Carter too much. They weren't watching me at all."

Referee Norman McGarity's vote, which gave the fight to Rawlings, 52-48, was the only sensible one of the the three, the Chicago contender claimed.

Judges Harold Marovitz and Arthur Oberg both scored the fight 51-49 in Carter's favor.

Carter, of New York, said there wasn't any doubt in his mind that he had won.

The fight was overweight, with Carter coming in at 136½ pounds and Rawlings scaling 138.

Syracuse Nears Eastern Pennant

By the Associated Press

The Syracuse Nationals were a big step closer today to the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division crown.

The Nats, who have been winning the games that counted all season, came through with another vital victory last night by thrashing the second-place Boston Celtics, 89-71, at Boston.

The triumph enabled Syracuse to increase its lead over Boston to two games. Each club has three more contests to play. The teams meet again tonight at Syracuse, where the Nats can clinch the title.

George King spearheaded the Syracuse attack with 25 points. Bill Sharman topped the Celts with 15.

The Minneapolis Lakers shaded the New York Knicks, 85-83, to cling to their slight chance of overhauling the Rochester Royals, Western Division pace-setters.

FUTURE SCIENTIST—Karl H. Muench, 17, of Evanston, Ill., wins the top award of a $2800 Westinghouse scholarship in the Science Talent Search for 1952. In the opinion of the contest judges he is "the nation's most outstanding future scientist." Karl hopes to make some form of medical research his career.

Will Cut Subsidies

London, March 13 (AP)—Winston Churchill's Conservative government appears determined to cut to the near-vanishing point food subsidies which have cost Britain more than seven billion dollars since World War 2. In the Conservative government's budget this week, Chancellor of the Exchequer R. A. Butler gave the subsidies the biggest trimming since they started during the last war. And in a nationwide broadcast soon after, he criticized the system under which citizens pay out taxes so the government can sell food at prices under cost.

Cubs Respond to Lashing By Cavaretta

If there's any team in the National League that looks like a sure bet not to win the pennant, it is the Chicago Cubs but Phil Cavarretta, a mild-mannered fellow who is serving his second term as Bruin manager, isn't giving up at least not yet.

At this early stage of the campaign, Cavarretta already has one "first" to his credit. He's the first major league manager to blast his squad for taking it easy. He's also the first to do something about it—and with the exhibition season hardly a week old.

Phil didn't like the way his team went down before the New York Giants Monday, and told the players so in no uncertain terms. Then he made up a new outfield combination of Jack Wallaesa, Bob Addis and Gene Hermanski.

One game does not make a season, of course, but Phil's strategy worked yesterday to the extent that the hapless Cubs, who have been consigned to the senior circuit cellar by the critics, whomped the National League champion Giants, 10-2, in Phoenix, Ariz.

Giant Aces Mauled

The victory was particularly gratifying to Cavarretta since Leo Durocher had most of his first-stringers in the line-up. Even Jim Hearn and Sheldon Jones, a couple of the Giants' ace hurlers, saw action. Addis and Hermanski didn't get any hits, but Wallaesa collected three, and Dee Fondy, who has been up before, slapped out four singles.

The New York Yankees, who have been playing as though they're in the middle of the pennant race, won their fourth game in five starts by whipping the Detroit Tigers, 4-1, behind three of their junior varsity hurlers—Bill Miller, Tom Morgan and Art Shallock.

For the Tigers, who have not looked good; it was their third defeat in four games. Art Houtteman was the loser.

St. Mary's of Minnesota Enters Catholic Tourney

Troy, N. Y., March 13 (AP)—St. Mary's of Minnesota has accepted an invitation to compete in the National Catholic Invitation basketball tournament, completing the 12-team field for the event that opens here Saturday.

The other teams: Siena, Marquette, St. Francis (Bkn.), St. Josephs (Phila.), Baltimore Loyola, Providence, Lemoyne (NY), Iona, Gannon (Pa.), Scranton and St. Francis (Pa.).

Siena has been seeded first, followed by Marquette, St. Francis (Bkn.) and St. Joseph's. First round pairings will be announced later.

The new British airfield at Entebbe, Uganda, Africa, has year-around good weather.

QUESTION MARK—Veteran Detroit Pitcher Hal Newhouser is the big question mark of the Tigers' 1952 mound corps. If the speedy southpaw's arm holds up, the Motor City organization is expected to be in the thick of the American League pennant fight. He posted a 6-6 record last year. (NEA)

SQUEEZE PLAY

Rougher on Bribes

Albany, March 13 (AP)—A bill went to the Senate today that would make a bribe-taking referee guilty of a felony instead of a misdemeanor. The measure was passed unanimously yesterday by the Assembly. It was recommended by District Attorney Frank S. Hogan of Manhattan. Hogan said the change was needed to plug a legal loophole that permitted basketball referee Sol Levy to be tried for a misdemeanor instead of a felony.

Cubs Respond to Lashing By Cavaretta

If there's any team in the National League that looks like a sure bet not to win the pennant, it is the Chicago Cubs but Phil Cavarretta, a mild-mannered fellow who is serving his second term as Bruin manager, isn't giving up at least not yet.

At this early stage of the campaign, Cavarretta already has one "first" to his credit. He's the first major league manager to blast his squad for taking it easy. He's also the first to do something about it—and with the exhibition season hardly a week old.

Phil didn't like the way his team went down before the New York Giants Monday, and told the players so in no uncertain terms. Then he made up a new outfield combination of Jack Wallaesa, Bob Addis and Gene Hermanski.

One game does not make a season, of course, but Phil's strategy worked yesterday to the extent that the hapless Cubs, who have been consigned to the senior circuit cellar by the critics, whomped the National League champion Giants, 10-2, in Phoenix, Ariz.

Giant Aces Mauled

The victory was particularly gratifying to Cavarretta since Leo Durocher had most of his first-stringers in the line-up. Even Jim Hearn and Sheldon Jones, a couple of the Giants' ace hurlers, saw action. Addis and Hermanski didn't get any hits, but Wallaesa collected three, and Dee Fondy, who has been up before, slapped out four singles.

The New York Yankees, who have been playing as though they're in the middle of the pennant race, won their fourth game in five starts by whipping the Detroit Tigers, 4-1, behind three of their junior varsity hurlers—Bill Miller, Tom Morgan and Art Shallock.

For the Tigers, who have not looked good; it was their third defeat in four games. Art Houtteman was the loser.

St. Mary's of Minnesota Enters Catholic Tourney

Troy, N. Y., March 13 (AP)—St. Mary's of Minnesota has accepted an invitation to compete in the National Catholic Invitation basketball tournament, completing the 12-team field for the event that opens here Saturday.

The other teams: Siena, Marquette, St. Francis (Bkn.), St. Josephs (Phila.), Baltimore Loyola, Providence, Lemoyne (NY), Iona, Gannon (Pa.), Scranton and St. Francis (Pa.).

Siena has been seeded first, followed by Marquette, St. Francis (Bkn.) and St. Joseph's. First round pairings will be announced later.

The new British airfield at Entebbe, Uganda, Africa, has year-around good weather.

QUESTION MARK—Veteran Detroit Pitcher Hal Newhouser is the big question mark of the Tigers' 1952 mound corps. If the speedy southpaw's arm holds up, the Motor City organization is expected to be in the thick of the American League pennant fight. He posted a 6-6 record last year. (NEA)

SQUEEZE PLAY

Tigers Top Ivy

Princeton, N. J., March 13 (AP)—Princeton wore the Ivy League basketball crown today for the second time in three years after a 70-65 win over Columbia. Coming from behind last night, the Tigers clinched the title and won a berth in the NCAA tournament in Chicago March 21 against an opponent still to be named.

Rougher on Bribes

Albany, March 13 (AP)—A bill went to the Senate today that would make a bribe-taking referee guilty of a felony instead of a misdemeanor. The measure was passed unanimously yesterday by the Assembly. It was recommended by District Attorney Frank S. Hogan of Manhattan. Hogan said the change was needed to plug a legal loophole that permitted basketball referee Sol Levy to be tried for a misdemeanor instead of a felony.

FLYING WAREHOUSE—World's largest commercial cargo plane will resemble this preliminary sketch of Lockheed's projected giant transport. It will be designed to carry a pay-load of 36,300 pounds, cruise between 330 and 340 miles per hour, and approach 400 miles per hour with lighter loads. Two cargo doors allow simultaneous loading and unloading. It is hoped that the aircraft will operate at an all-time low cost for cargo planes of 5 cents per ton mile.

SHOKAN NEWS

Shokan, March 12—Carl H. Adels, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Adels of Ashokan has secured employment with the IBM Corporation in Poughkeepsie. Carl has been working as an inspector at the Electrol plant in Kingston. He is a veteran of more than four years service in the air force, a part of which time was spent in Japan and Korea. He is married and has two sons, Bruce and Alan.

Encouraging reports have come from the bedside of Burr Elmendorf, local watershed inspector who is a patient at St. Luke's Hospital in New York where he underwent a major operation last week. Burr is one of the oldest members of the Ashokan Reservoir force in point of service.

Elma Brower of Roxbury is another woman up the railroad who has discovered a copy of that best seller of days gone by, Ten Nights in a Barroom, and sent it on to the Stroudsburg, Pa., board of education in response to their appeal for 10 copies of the famous temperance story which is now out of print. Mention of this once popular classic will doubtless bring back nostalgic memories to many readers of the days when zealous ladies of the WCTU proudly wore the white ribbon insignia of their order and joined forces with the Good Templar lodges of both sexes in an oft times successful effort to keep or make their town "dry" election day.

The influx of skiers via the Onteora Trail Saturday appeared not to come up to that of the two preceding weekends but Sunday morning with its clearing skies brought them out of the cities in large number. Still, it will probably be a long time before Belleayre and the other Catskills lifts will see a crowd like that of the Washington's Birthday weekend when parking space was at a premium at the mountain slopes. Some 8,000 persons took advantage of the well nigh perfect conditions of that three-day period, during which there reportedly were 15 injuries at Belleayre, seven of them being fractures.

Otto Dohler and family, who came here from Williams Lake to take up residence in the village center a little over a year ago, moved last week to the Glenford-West Hurley sector. Otto now will be much nearer his work at the Rotron plant in Woodstock.

Harry Braithwaite, well known bachelor resident of the Boiceville hill road, celebrated another birthday, Tuesday, March 11. Harry was born in Brooklyn, son of the Rev. Thomas and Annie (Thorne) Braithwaite, natives of England. He attended grade school at Wantagh, L. I., where his father was pastor of the Congregational Church, and Freeport High School. He was a bookkeeper and teller eight years in the Freeport Bank. The Braithwaite family began coming to Shokan in 1905 as summer boarders at the John D. Ennist farmhouse and in 1917 they bought the Lily Dunnagan place and took up permanent residence here . . . February 12 marks the birthday of Mrs. Clarence Phillips, Sr., of Glenford, where she was born and brought up, one of several members of the Gray family of that northwest Hurley section. Mrs. Phillips, a former resident of Shokan, has five children and several grandchildren.

Would Bar Spring Knives

Albany, N. Y., March 13 (AP)—The sale or gift of automatic spring knives to children under 16 would be prohibited under terms of a bill sent to Governor Dewey today. The Assembly gave the measure final clearance yesterday. The law now bans the sale to children under 16 of spring knives with blades longer than 2½ inches. The blades of such knives open at the touch of a button.

21-Gun Salute

By proctocol, arriving or departing presidents, ex-presidents, foreign heads of state or members of a reigning royal family receive a 21-gun salute and four ruffles and flourishes.

The speed of sound in the air is affected by the wind.

ULSTER PARK

Ulster Park, March 11—Regular preaching services will be held in the Reformed Dutch Church Sunday at 9:45 a. m. The pastor, the Rev. Harry E. Christiana, will be in charge.

The next regular Grange meeting will be held Wednesday, March 19, at 8 p. m. Clintondale Grange will visit Ulster Grange at this time and an interesting program will be presented by the visiting Grange. A full attendance of Ulster members is anticipated.

Ted Peck of Kingston spent the weekend with his cousins, the Gendreau family.

Miss Betty Ann Jahn spent the weekend in Albany.

A full-grown menhaden, a species of fish, weighs about three-fourths of a pound and measures a foot in length.

When he grasped the dangling end of an old radio antenna which had accidentally looped over an electric power line, this unfortunate youngster was electrocuted. His parents sued the antenna-owner, who was protected against such claims by a Hartford Comprehensive Personal Liability Policy. To settle the claim the Hartford paid more than it will receive in premiums from this policyholder in seventy years!

Accidents happen in the most unpredictable ways, as this tragic case proves. Often they lead to big damage claims and heavy money losses. That is why you — whether a home owner or tenant — need Hartford Comprehensive Personal Liability Insurance, which was so valuable in this instance. $10,000 of protection costs as little as $10 a year. See us for all details — no obligation.

FLYING WAREHOUSE—World's largest commercial cargo plane will resemble this preliminary sketch of Lockheed's projected giant transport. It will be designed to carry a pay-load of 36,300 pounds, cruise between 330 and 340 miles per hour, and approach 400 miles per hour with lighter loads. Two cargo doors allow simultaneous loading and unloading. It is hoped that the aircraft will operate at an all-time low cost for cargo planes of 5 cents per ton mile.

SHOKAN NEWS

Shokan, March 12—Carl H. Adels, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Adels of Ashokan has secured employment with the IBM Corporation in Poughkeepsie. Carl has been working as an inspector at the Electrol plant in Kingston. He is a veteran of more than four years service in the air force, a part of which time was spent in Japan and Korea. He is married and has two sons, Bruce and Alan.

Encouraging reports have come from the bedside of Burr Elmendorf, local watershed inspector who is a patient at St. Luke's Hospital in New York where he underwent a major operation last week. Burr is one of the oldest members of the Ashokan Reservoir force in point of service.

Elma Brower of Roxbury is another woman up the railroad who has discovered a copy of that best seller of days gone by, Ten Nights in a Barroom, and sent it on to the Stroudsburg, Pa., board of education in response to their appeal for 10 copies of the famous temperance story which is now out of print. Mention of this once popular classic will doubtless bring back nostalgic memories to many readers of the days when zealous ladies of the WCTU proudly wore the white ribbon insignia of their order and joined forces with the Good Templar lodges of both sexes in an oft times successful effort to keep or make their town "dry" election day.

The influx of skiers via the Onteora Trail Saturday appeared not to come up to that of the two preceding weekends but Sunday morning with its clearing skies brought them out of the cities in large number. Still, it will probably be a long time before Belleayre and the other Catskills lifts will see a crowd like that of the Washington's Birthday weekend when parking space was at a premium at the mountain slopes. Some 8,000 persons took advantage of the well nigh perfect conditions of that three-day period, during which there reportedly were 15 injuries at Belleayre, seven of them being fractures.

Otto Dohler and family, who came here from Williams Lake to take up residence in the village center a little over a year ago, moved last week to the Glenford-West Hurley sector. Otto now will be much nearer his work at the Rotron plant in Woodstock.

Harry Braithwaite, well known bachelor resident of the Boiceville hill road, celebrated another birthday, Tuesday, March 11. Harry was born in Brooklyn, son of the Rev. Thomas and Annie (Thorne) Braithwaite, natives of England. He attended grade school at Wantagh, L. I., where his father was pastor of the Congregational Church, and Freeport High School. He was a bookkeeper and teller eight years in the Freeport Bank. The Braithwaite family began coming to Shokan in 1905 as summer boarders at the John D. Ennist farmhouse and in 1917 they bought the Lily Dunnagan place and took up permanent residence here . . . February 12 marks the birthday of Mrs. Clarence Phillips, Sr., of Glenford, where she was born and brought up, one of several members of the Gray family of that northwest Hurley section. Mrs. Phillips, a former resident of Shokan, has five children and several grandchildren.

Would Bar Spring Knives

Albany, N. Y., March 13 (AP)—The sale or gift of automatic spring knives to children under 16 would be prohibited under terms of a bill sent to Governor Dewey today. The Assembly gave the measure final clearance yesterday. The law now bans the sale to children under 16 of spring knives with blades longer than 2½ inches. The blades of such knives open at the touch of a button.

21-Gun Salute

By proctocol, arriving or departing presidents, ex-presidents, foreign heads of state or members of a reigning royal family receive a 21-gun salute and four ruffles and flourishes.

The speed of sound in the air is affected by the wind.

ULSTER PARK

Ulster Park, March 11—Regular preaching services will be held in the Reformed Dutch Church Sunday at 9:45 a. m. The pastor, the Rev. Harry E. Christiana, will be in charge.

The next regular Grange meeting will be held Wednesday, March 19, at 8 p. m. Clintondale Grange will visit Ulster Grange at this time and an interesting program will be presented by the visiting Grange. A full attendance of Ulster members is anticipated.

Ted Peck of Kingston spent the weekend with his cousins, the Gendreau family.

Miss Betty Ann Jahn spent the weekend in Albany.

Donald Herring and Richard Gendreau have recovered from their recent illnesses.

When he grasped the dangling end of an old radio antenna which had accidentally looped over an electric power line, this unfortunate youngster was electrocuted. His parents sued the antenna-owner, who was protected against such claims by a Hartford Comprehensive Personal Liability Policy. To settle the claim the Hartford paid more than it will receive in premiums from this policyholder in seventy years!

Accidents happen in the most unpredictable ways, as this tragic case proves. Often they lead to big damage claims and heavy money losses. That is why you — whether a home owner or tenant — need Hartford Comprehensive Personal Liability Insurance, which was so valuable in this instance. $10,000 of protection costs as little as $10 a year. See us for all details — no obligation.

Heart Workers To Visit Albany For 2-Day Parley

Mrs. Randolph Winston of Saugerties, N. Jansen Fowler, chairman, Katherine M. Murphy, secretary, and John T. Connolly, health education assistant, representatives of the Heart Chapter of the Ulser County TB and Health Association, will leave Friday for Albany to attend the New York Heart Assembly at the Ten Eyck Hotel, March 14 and 15.

The assembly, the first held in New York state, is sponsored by the state committee on tuberculosis and public health of the State Charities Aid Association. The state committee has been conducting a successful TB-Heart work demonstration for nearly three years in most of up-state New York through heart chapters of local tuberculosis and public health associations affiliated with the committee. The Heart Assembly is being called to evaluate this work and to chart a future course of action against one of man's greatest enemies — heart disease.

Discussions Planned

Participating in the assembly, a working conference, will be representatives of tuberculosis and health associations, official agencies, the medical profession, American Heart Association, National TB Association, and various allied health and welfare organizations.

Group discussions will be held under the following leaders: Heart Program Development—Dana Weeks, MD, Plattsburg; Cardiovascular Clinics—I. Jay Brightman, MD, Albany; Rehabilitation and Occupational Guidance—Rufus B. Crain, MD, Rochester; Education—Professional and Public—Willard W. Willis, MD, Utica; Organization and Membership—Leland D. McCormac, Syracuse, and Heart Fund Raising—J. Avery Peterson, Amsterdam.

The assembly will be opened at 1:30 p. m. March 14 by Leland D. McCormac of Syracuse, chairman of the assembly planning committee, and vice-chairman of the state committee on tuberculosis and public health. Delegates will be welcomed by Maurice A. Donovan, MD, of Schenectady, Heart Assembly Chairman.

The assembly dinner on March 14 will be addressed by Morton L. Levin, MD, assistant commissioner for medical services of the New York State Health Department.

Progress reports on the heart work of state and local tuberculosis and public health committees will be given by Robert W. Osborn, executive secretary of the state committee, and other members of his staff including Bernard E. Hughes, William W. Moore, Jr., and Miss Dorothy F. Schober. Progress on the national level will be reviewed by John W. Ferree, MD, director of the public health division, and Rome Betts, executive director of the American Heart Association. The assembly closes at noon on March 15 following reports by group discussion leaders.

After the wars of liberation from Spain, Colombia, Venezuela and Ecuador formed one nation.

Improvement Is Asked of Rondout Harbor by C of C

Several important actions were taken at the March meeting of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors Tuesday night at which President Lawrence J. MacAvery presided. The army engineers will be asked to improve the Rondout Creek harbor, a resolution favored the proposed development of Niagara river power by private power companies, and it was announced that Kingston will be recognized as the honor city of the week on Ted Mack's Original Amateur Hour 60-station network television show April 15 and on the 297 radio station network April 17.

The Ulster County Talent Quest, currently sponsored by the Kingston Chamber of Commerce, cooperating with the 300th anniversary committee, is part of the honor city recognition. It is hoped that several amateur acts will be selected by Mack's staff April 2, to appear on the network shows when Kingston is recognized. The details of the salute will be worked out by the Chamber committee consisting of Howard C. St. John, Lawrence Jenson, Lawrence A. Quilty and Harry Rigby, Jr., director of public relations for the tercentenary group. Official notification of the salute dates was received through Haskell Naigles, local wholesale distributor of Old Gold cigarettes, who assisted in making the initial plans for the program.

St. John reported that 1,999 persons attended the three semi-final amateur show auditions held in Kingston High School. The 12 acts, selected from over 100, will appear in the final auditions on April 2, along with winners from Rosendale, Ellenville and Woodstock.

A budget committee, consisting of the executive committee, was appointed to bring in a proposed budget for the fiscal year of the Chamber starting May 1.

Chester A. Baltz, Jr., chairman of a special community development committee reported that his group will meet with George Robinson, a planning specialist of the State Department of Commerce to discuss the development of future plans.

The Rev. Aid married Mr. John Lemon to Miss Mary Sugar at Wooster, Ohio, in 1938.

Plans Underway For X-Ray Survey In County Towns

Residents of the townships of Saugerties, Shandaken and New Paltz are now making plans for the organization and getting ready for the community chest X-ray survey which will start in Ulster county on April 8.

This program, part of a five-year plan to cover Kingston and all townships in Ulster county for chest X-rays, is sponsored by the Ulster County Department of Health. Assistance in organization, promotion, and publicity is being given by the Ulster County TB and Health Association through its Christmas Seals funds.

Places and dates for the survey are scheduled as follows:

Township of Saugerties, April 8 through April 22.

Town of Shandaken, April 23, 24, 25.

Town of New Paltz, April 28 through May 2.

The first organizational meeting of the workers in Saugerties will be held at the Town Building March 18 at 8 p. m.

Extensive committees on location, personnel, transportation, publicity, and canvassing will be made up of residents of the various townships. Serving with these committees as the general chairmen are: Saugerties, Peter Williams; Shandaken, Charles Quin, MD; New Paltz, Frank Elliott.

Police Probing Fire

Police were asked yesterday to investigate the setting of a small fire at the C. Edward Rowe apiary, 343 Clifton avenue. The blaze, apparently started by youngsters, could have caused serious damage, and due to the fact that it incited a colony of bees might have caused the death of the boy or boys involved, it was indicated today. Part of the material used to start the fire was turned in at police headquarters for investigation. It included items, apparently taken from the West Shore railroad yard, police said.

Local Equipment Used During State Radio Alert Test

Local short wave and mobile radio equipment used in the civil defense system was tested last night during the statewide radio alert test last night.

The test was conducted by Henry Bartsch, deputy director of communications. It included both the city and county equipment.

Sherwood E. Davis, director of city civil defense, said local radio station WKNY was given the yellow alert at 11 p. m., and at 11:15 p. m., the first message came over the state civil defense system.

Station WKNY which usually goes off the air at 11:15 p. m., remained on until midnight, Davis said. He commended the station for its cooperation.

The statewide test interrupted regular programs over 138 radio and televisions in the state, the Associated Press said.

Then, from a secret control center outside New York city, came the voice of Lieut. Gen. Clarence R. Huebner, state director of civilian defense.

Said the general, explaining the network's role in civilian defense: "Since the successful operation of any civil defense plan on such a vast scale as is being carried out in New York state rests on the ability of the operators of that plan to communicate with each other, it is obvious that emergency communications are of paramount importance in our plans."

The network would operate if enemy action should cut normal communications.

The test lasted 15 minutes.

Okays Auto Inspections

Albany, N. Y., March 13 (AP)—The Senate approved unanimously today the Dewey administration's plan for twice-a-year, compulsory automobile inspection at state-operated check stations. The measure was sent to an uncertain fate in the Assembly, where the ways and means committee killed a companion bill last week.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Town Board of the Town of Shandaken, Ulster County, New York, did on the 8th day of March, 1952, adopt the resolution hereinafter described, and did direct that a special election of the qualified electors of said Town will be held at Town Hall, Allaben, New York, in said Town, on the 2nd day of April, 1952, at which the polls will be kept open to receive ballots between the hours of 2 o'clock p. m. and 8 o'clock p. m., Eastern Standard Time, on the question of approving or rejecting such resolution, which is as follows:

BOND AND CAPITAL NOTE RESOLUTION DATED MARCH 8, 1952

A RESOLUTION AUTHORIZING AN ADDITIONAL APPROPRIATION FOR THE RECONSTRUCTION OF CERTAIN TOWN BRIDGES IN THE TOWN OF SHANDAKEN, ULSTER COUNTY, NEW YORK, IN THE SUM OF $20,000 AND PROVIDING FOR THE FINANCING THEREOF BY THE ISSUANCE OF NOT EXCEEDING $19,000 SERIAL BONDS OF SAID TOWN AND $1,000 CAPITAL NOTES OF SAID TOWN

WHEREAS, by proceedings heretofore duly had and taken, this Town Board has appropriated $50,000 to reconstruct town bridges damaged by floods in the Town of Shandaken, New York, and has issued and sold $3,000 capital notes and $47,000 serial bonds to pay the cost thereof; and

WHEREAS, it now appears that an additional $20,000 is required to pay the complete cost of the reconstruction of such bridges; NOW, THEREFORE,

BE IT RESOLVED, by the Town Board of the Town of Shandaken, Ulster County, New York, as follows:

Section 1. An additional $20,000 is hereby appropriated for the reconstruction of said town bridges in the Town of Shandaken, New York, in addition to the $50,000 heretofore appropriated and financed by the issuance of obligations.

Section 2. The plan of financing such additional appropriation for such object or purpose is as follows:

1) By the issuance of $1,000 capital notes of said Town, which are hereby authorized therefor, and all further powers with respect to the form, contents, issuance and sale of such notes are hereby delegated to the Supervisor of said Town; and
2) By the issuance of not exceeding $19,000 serial bonds of said Town, hereinafter authorized.

Section 3. For the purpose of paying part of the cost of the aforesaid object or purpose, there are hereby authorized to be issued $19,000 serial bonds of said Town, each to be designated substantially BRIDGE (SERIAL) BOND, 1952, SERIES A, dated January 1, 1952, numbered from 1 to 19, both inclusive, in the denomination of $1,000 each, maturing in numerical order in the amount of $1,000 on July 1 in each of the years 1953 to 1971, both inclusive, and bearing interest at a rate not exceeding five per centum per annum, payable semi-annually July 1 and January 1. Such bonds shall be in bearer coupon form with the privilege of conversion into bonds registered as to both principal and interest, and shall be payable as to both principal and interest in lawful money of the United States of America at Kingston Trust Company, in Kingston, New York, which by contract is the paying agent of the issuer. Such bonds shall be signed in the name of said Town by its Supervisor, sealed with its corporate seal, attested by its Town Clerk, and the interest coupons shall bear the facsimile signature of said Supervisor.

Section 4. All other matters, except as provided herein relating to such bonds, shall be determined by the Supervisor of said Town. Such bonds shall contain substantially the recital of validity clause provided for in Section 52.00 of the Local Finance Law and shall otherwise be in such form and contain such recitals, in addition to those required by Section 51.00 of the Local Finance Law, as the Supervisor shall determine.

Section 5. It is hereby determined that the period of probable usefulness of such object or purpose is, pursuant to subdivision 10 of paragraph a of Section 11.00 of the Local Finance Law, 20 years, computed from January 1, 1952, there having been no bond anticipation notes issued prior to such date.

Section 6. The faith and credit of said Town of Shandaken, New York, are hereby irrevocably pledged to the payment of the principal of and interest on such bonds as the same respectively become due and payable. An annual appropriation shall be made in each year sufficient to pay the principal of and interest on such bonds becoming due and payable in such year. There shall annually be levied on all the taxable real property within said Town a tax sufficient to pay the principal of and interest on such bonds as the same become due and payable.

Section 7. The powers and duties of advertising such bonds for sale, conducting the sale and awarding the bonds are hereby delegated to the Supervisor of said Town, who shall advertise such bonds for sale, conduct the sale and award the bonds in such manner as he shall deem best for the interests of said Town, provided, however, that in the exercise of these delegated powers he shall comply fully with the provisions of the Local Finance Law and any order or rule of the State Comptroller applicable to the sale of municipal bonds. The receipt of the Supervisor shall be a full acquittance to the purchaser of such bonds, who shall not be obliged to see to the application of the purchase money.

Section 8. The aforesaid capital notes, in the amount of $1,000, will be issued and sold prior to the issuance of such bonds or any bond anticipation notes.

Section 9. The validity of such obligations may be contested only if:

1) Such obligations are authorized for an object or purpose for which the Town of Shandaken, New York, is not authorized to expend money, or
2) The provisions of law which should be complied with at the date of publication of this resolution are not substantially complied with,

and an action, suit or proceeding contesting such validity is commenced within twenty days after the date of such publication, or

3) Such obligations are authorized in violation of the provisions of the Constitution.

Section 10. This resolution shall become effective upon its being approved by a majority of the qualified voters of said Town voting at a special election on a proposition therefor.

Heart Workers To Visit Albany For 2-Day Parley

Mrs. Randolph Winston of Saugerties, N. Jansen Fowler, chairman, Katherine M. Murphy, secretary, and John T. Connolly, health education assistant, representatives of the Heart Chapter of the Ulser County TB and Health Association, will leave Friday for Albany to attend the New York Heart Assembly at the Ten Eyck Hotel, March 14 and 15.

The assembly, the first held in New York state, is sponsored by the state committee on tuberculosis and public health of the State Charities Aid Association. The state committee has been conducting a successful TB-Heart work demonstration for nearly three years in most of up-state New York through heart chapters of local tuberculosis and public health associations affiliated with the committee. The Heart Assembly is being called to evaluate this work and to chart a future course of action against one of man's greatest enemies — heart disease.

Discussions Planned

Participating in the assembly, a working conference, will be representatives of tuberculosis and health associations, official agencies, the medical profession, American Heart Association, National TB Asociation, and various allied health and welfare organizations.

Group discussions will be held under the following leaders: Heart Program Development—Dana Weeks, MD, Plattsburg; Cardiovascular Clinics—I. Jay Brightman, MD, Albany; Rehabilitation and Occupational Guidance—Rufus B. Crain, MD, Rochester; Education—Professional and Public—Willard W. Willis, MD, Utica; Organization and Membership—Leland D. McCormac, Syracuse, and Heart Fund Raising—J. Avery Peterson, Amsterdam.

The assembly will be opened at 1:30 p. m. March 14 by Leland D. McCormac of Syracuse, chairman of the assembly planning committee, and vice-chairman of the state committee on tuberculosis and public health. Delegates will be welcomed by Maurice A. Donovan, MD, of Schenectady, Heart Assembly Chairman.

The assembly dinner on March 14 will be addressed by Morton L. Levin, MD, assistant commissioner for medical services of the New York State Health Department.

Progress reports on the heart work of state and local tuberculosis and public health committees will be given by Robert W. Osborn, executive secretary of the state committee, and other members of his staff including Bernard E. Hughes, William W. Moore, Jr., and Miss Dorothy F. Schober. Progress on the national level will be reviewed by John W. Ferree, MD, director of the public health division, and Rome Betts, executive director of the American Heart Association. The assembly closes at noon on March 15 following reports by group discussion leaders.

After the wars of liberation from Spain, Colombia, Venezuela and Ecuador formed one nation.

Improvement Is Asked of Rondout Harbor by C of C

Several important actions were taken at the March meeting of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors Tuesday night at which President Lawrence J. MacAvery presided. The army engineers will be asked to improve the Rondout Creek harbor, a resolution favored the proposed development of Niagara river power by private power companies, and it was announced that Kingston will be recognized as the honor city of the week on Ted Mack's Original Amateur Hour 60-station network television show April 15 and on the 297 radio station network April 17.

The Ulster County Talent Quest, currently sponsored by the Kingston Chamber of Commerce, cooperating with the 300th anniversary committee, is part of the honor city recognition. It is hoped that several amateur acts will be selected by Mack's staff April 2, to appear on the network shows when Kingston is recognized. The details of the salute will be worked out by the Chamber committee consisting of Howard C. St. John, Lawrence Jenson, Lawrence A. Quilty and Harry Rigby, Jr., director of public relations for the tercentenary group. Official notification of the salute dates was received through Haskell Naigles, local wholesale distributor of Old Gold cigarettes, who assisted in making the initial plans for the program.

St. John reported that 1,999 persons attended the three semi-final amateur show auditions held in Kingston High School. The 12 acts, selected from over 100, will appear in the final auditions on April 2, along with winners from Rosendale, Ellenville and Woodstock.

A budget committee, consisting of the executive committee, was appointed to bring in a proposed budget for the fiscal year of the Chamber starting May 1.

Chester A. Baltz, Jr., chairman of a special community development committee reported that his group will meet with George Robinson, a planning specialist of the State Department of Commerce to discuss the development of future plans.

BOND AND CAPITAL NOTE RESOLUTION DATED MARCH 8, 1952

A RESOLUTION AUTHORIZING AN ADDITIONAL APPROPRIATION FOR THE RECONSTRUCTION OF CERTAIN TOWN BRIDGES IN THE TOWN OF SHANDAKEN, ULSTER COUNTY, NEW YORK, IN THE SUM OF $20,000 AND PROVIDING FOR THE FINANCING THEREOF BY THE ISSUANCE OF NOT EXCEEDING $19,000 SERIAL BONDS OF SAID TOWN AND $1,000 CAPITAL NOTES OF SAID TOWN.

WHEREAS, by proceedings heretofore duly had and taken, this Town Board has appropriated $50,000 to reconstruct town bridges damaged by floods in the Town of Shandaken, New York, and has issued and sold $3,000 capital notes and $47,000 serial bonds to pay the cost thereof; and

WHEREAS, it now appears that an additional $20,000 is required to pay the complete cost of the reconstruction of such bridges; NOW, THEREFORE,

BE IT RESOLVED, by the Town Board of the Town of Shandaken, Ulster County, New York, as follows:

Section 1. An additional $20,000 is hereby appropriated for the reconstruction of said town bridges in the Town of Shandaken, New York, in addition to the $50,000 heretofore appropriated and financed by the issuance of obligations.

Section 2. The plan of financing such additional appropriation for such object or purpose is as follows:

1) By the issuance of $1,000 capital notes of said Town, which are hereby authorized therefor, and all further powers with respect to the form, contents, issuance and sale of such notes are hereby delegated to the Supervisor of said Town; and
2) By the issuance of not exceeding $19,000 serial bonds of said Town, hereinafter authorized.

Section 3. For the purpose of paying part of the cost of the aforesaid object or purpose, there are hereby authorized to be issued $19,000 serial bonds of said Town, each to be designated substantially BRIDGE (SERIAL) BOND, 1952, SERIES A, dated January 1, 1952, numbered from 1 to 19, both inclusive, in the denomination of $1,000 each, maturing in numerical order in the amount of $1,000 on July 1 in each of the years 1953 to 1971, both inclusive, and bearing interest at a rate not exceeding five per centum per annum, payable semi-annually July 1 and January 1. Such bonds shall be in bearer coupon form with the privilege of conversion into bonds registered as to both principal and interest, and shall be payable as to both principal and interest in lawful money of the United States of America at Kingston Trust Company, in Kingston, New York, which by contract is the paying agent of the issuer. Such bonds shall be signed in the name of said Town by its Supervisor, sealed with its corporate seal, attested by its Town Clerk, and the interest coupons shall bear the facsimile signature of said Supervisor.

Section 4. All other matters, except as provided herein relating to such bonds, shall be determined by the Supervisor of said Town. Such bonds shall contain substantially the recital of validity clause provided for in Section 52.00 of the Local Finance Law and shall otherwise be in such form and contain such recitals, in addition to those required by Section 51.00 of the Local Finance Law, as the Supervisor shall determine.

Section 5. It is hereby determined that the period of probable usefulness of such object or purpose is, pursuant to subdivision 10 of paragraph a of Section 11.00 of the Local Finance Law, 20 years, computed from January 1, 1952, there having been no bond anticipation notes issued prior to such date.

Section 6. An annual appropriation shall be made in each year sufficient to pay the principal of and interest on such bonds becoming due and payable in such year. There shall annually be levied on all the taxable real property within said Town a tax sufficient to pay the principal of and interest on such bonds as the same become due and payable.

Section 7. The powers and duties of advertising such bonds for sale, conducting the sale and awarding the bonds are hereby delegated to the Supervisor of said Town, who shall advertise such bonds for sale, conduct the sale and award the bongs in such manner as he shall deem best for the interests of said Town, provided, however, that in the exercise of these delegated powers he shall comply fully with the provisions of the Local Finance Law and any order or rule of the State Comptroller applicable to the sale of municipal bonds. The receipt of the Supervisor shall be a full acquittance to the purchaser of such bonds, who shall not be obliged to see to the application of the purchase money.

Section 8. The aforesaid capital notes, in the amount of $1,000, will be issued and sold prior to the issuance of such bonds or any bond anticipation notes.

Section 9. The validity of such obligations may be contested only if:

1) Such obligations are authorized for an object or purpose for which the Town of Shandaken, New York, is not authorized to expend money, or
2) The provisions of law which should be complied with at the date of publication of this resolution are not substantially complied with,

and an action, suit or proceeding contesting such validity is commenced within twenty days after the date of such publication, or

3) Such obligations are authorized in violation of the provisions of the Constitution.

Plans Underway For X-Ray Survey In County Towns

Residents of the townships of Saugerties, Shandaken and New Paltz are now making plans for the organization and getting ready for the community chest X-ray survey which will start in Ulster county on April 8.

This program, part of a five-year plan to cover Kingston and all townships in Ulster county for chest X-rays, is sponsored by the Ulster County Department of Health. Assistance in organization, promotion, and publicity is being given by the Ulster County TB and Health Association through its Christmas Seals funds.

Places and dates for the survey are scheduled as follows:

Township of Saugerties, April 8 through April 22.

Town of Shandaken, April 23, 24, 25.

Town of New Paltz, April 28 through May 2.

The first organizational meeting of the workers in Saugerties will be held at the Town Building March 18 at 8 p. m.

Extensive committees on location, personnel, transportation, publicity, and canvassing will be made up of residents of the various townships. Serving with these committees as the general chairmen are: Saugerties, Peter Williams; Shandaken, Charles Quin, MD; New Paltz, Frank Elliott.

Police Probing Fire

Police were asked yesterday to investigate the setting of a small fire at the C. Edward Rowe apiary, 343 Clifton avenue. The blaze, apparently started by youngsters, could have caused serious damage, and due to the fact that it incited a colony of bees might have caused the death of the boy or boys involved, it was indicated today. Part of the material used to start the fire was turned in at police headquarters for investigation. It included items, apparently taken from the West Shore railroad yard, police said.

Local Equipment Used During State Radio Alert Test

Local short wave and mobile radio equipment used in the civil defense system was tested last night during the statewide radio alert test last night.

The test was conducted by Henry Bartsch, deputy director of communications. It included both the city and county equipment.

Sherwood E. Davis, director of city civil defense, said local radio station WKNY was given the yellow alert at 11 p. m., and at 11:15 p. m., the first message came over the state civil defense system.

Station WKNY which usually goes off the air at 11:15 p. m., remained on until midnight, Davis said. He commended the station for its cooperation.

The statewide test interrupted regular programs over 138 radio and televisions in the state, the Associated Press said.

The stations, given a 45-minute "stand-by" warning, cut off their usual programs at 11:45 p. m. and turned over their facilities to the civil defense network.

Then, from a secret control center outside New York city, came the voice of Lieut. Gen. Clarence R. Huebner, state director of civilian defense.

Said the general, explaining the network's role in civilian defense: "Since the successful operation of any civil defense plan on such a vast scale as is being carried out in New York state rests on the ability of the operators of that plan to communicate with each other, it is obvious that emergency communications are of paramount importance in our plans."

The network would operate if enemy action should cut normal communications.

The test lasted 15 minutes.

Albany, N. Y., March 13 (AP)—The Senate approved unanimously today the Dewey administration's plan for twice-a-year, compulsory automobile inspection at state-operated check stations. May Go Home March 19

Albany, N. Y., March 13 (AP)—The Legislature will officially end its 1952 session next Wednesday at 5 p. m. unless a last-minute bill-jam develops. The Assembly adopted a resolution yesterday, over solid Democratic opposition, to fix the final adjournment hour. The minority contended the resolution would "put pressure" on the lawmakers to arrive at a "hasty" solution of New York city's tangled fiscal problem. The measure was sent to the Senate Finance Committee, where it may be amended to change the adjournment time if more time were needed.

May Go Home March 19

Albany, N. Y., March 13 (AP)—The Legislature will officially end its 1952 session next Wednesday at 5 p. m. unless a last-minute bill-jam develops. The Assembly adopted a resolution yesterday, over solid Democratic opposition, to fix the final adjournment hour. The minority contended the resolution would "put pressure" on the lawmakers to arrive at a "hasty" solution of New York city's tangled fiscal problem. The measure was sent to the Senate Finance Committee, where it may be amended to change the adjournment time if more time were needed.

Cuban Official Wounded

He was reported shot while attempting to flee Havana in a private airplane after Cuba's strong man, Gen. Fulgencio Batista overthrew the government in a revolution. (NEA Telephoto).
